

Reclaimed Desert Impresses Mr. Mrs. Ben Rachlin on Trip

Watching inspired and fearless soldiers marching in the Independence Day parade in Jerusalem was one of the highlights of a seven-week stay abroad for businessman and former mayor Ben Rachlin and Mrs. Rachlin. They arrived home Sunday, May 21, after three weeks in Israel with their daughter Elaine, who was living in the Mamot Aviv suburb of Tel Aviv. She has been teaching English at the Kadima school of language and was herself learning to speak the common language there — Hebrew. Many speak Yiddish, English or German as well.

Elaine left Israel two days ago to tour Europe and she will be coming back to Canada in the fall. "She loves traveling and she loves people," Mr. Rachlin explains.

Your Country

The three Rachlins took bus tours through the impressive new country which is building modern cities and irrigation canals. "There is irrigation miles and miles from sweet water," Mr. Rachlin recalled. Many buildings are modern. In the part of Haifa there is "activity wherever you look."

They were very impressed by the dedication of the young people. They met relatives of Mrs. Rachlin and talked to some who had been in concentration camps during the war. The trial of Adolph Eichmann was just beginning.

In Galilee they saw ancient ruins; they went east to Sodom on the Dead Sea; they went south through the Negev desert to Eilat on the Red Sea where the days were very hot and the nights quite cool.

On to Rome

From Israel Mr. and Mrs. Rachlin flew to Rome where they were so familiar with from pictures. They went to Sorrento, Naples and the Isle of Capri. "Wherever you go it's beautiful," he commented. They went on to Switzerland, France and Holland. The land reclaimed from the sea in Holland reminded them of the diligence and determination of the Israeli reclaiming land from drought.

In London, England, they took a subway trip to Acton, England, where they introduced themselves at the town hall and chatted with people there. "I'd love to go back to England," Mr. Rachlin says.

He has many colored slides of the places he visited.

Blossoms Decorate Church for Tea, Sale

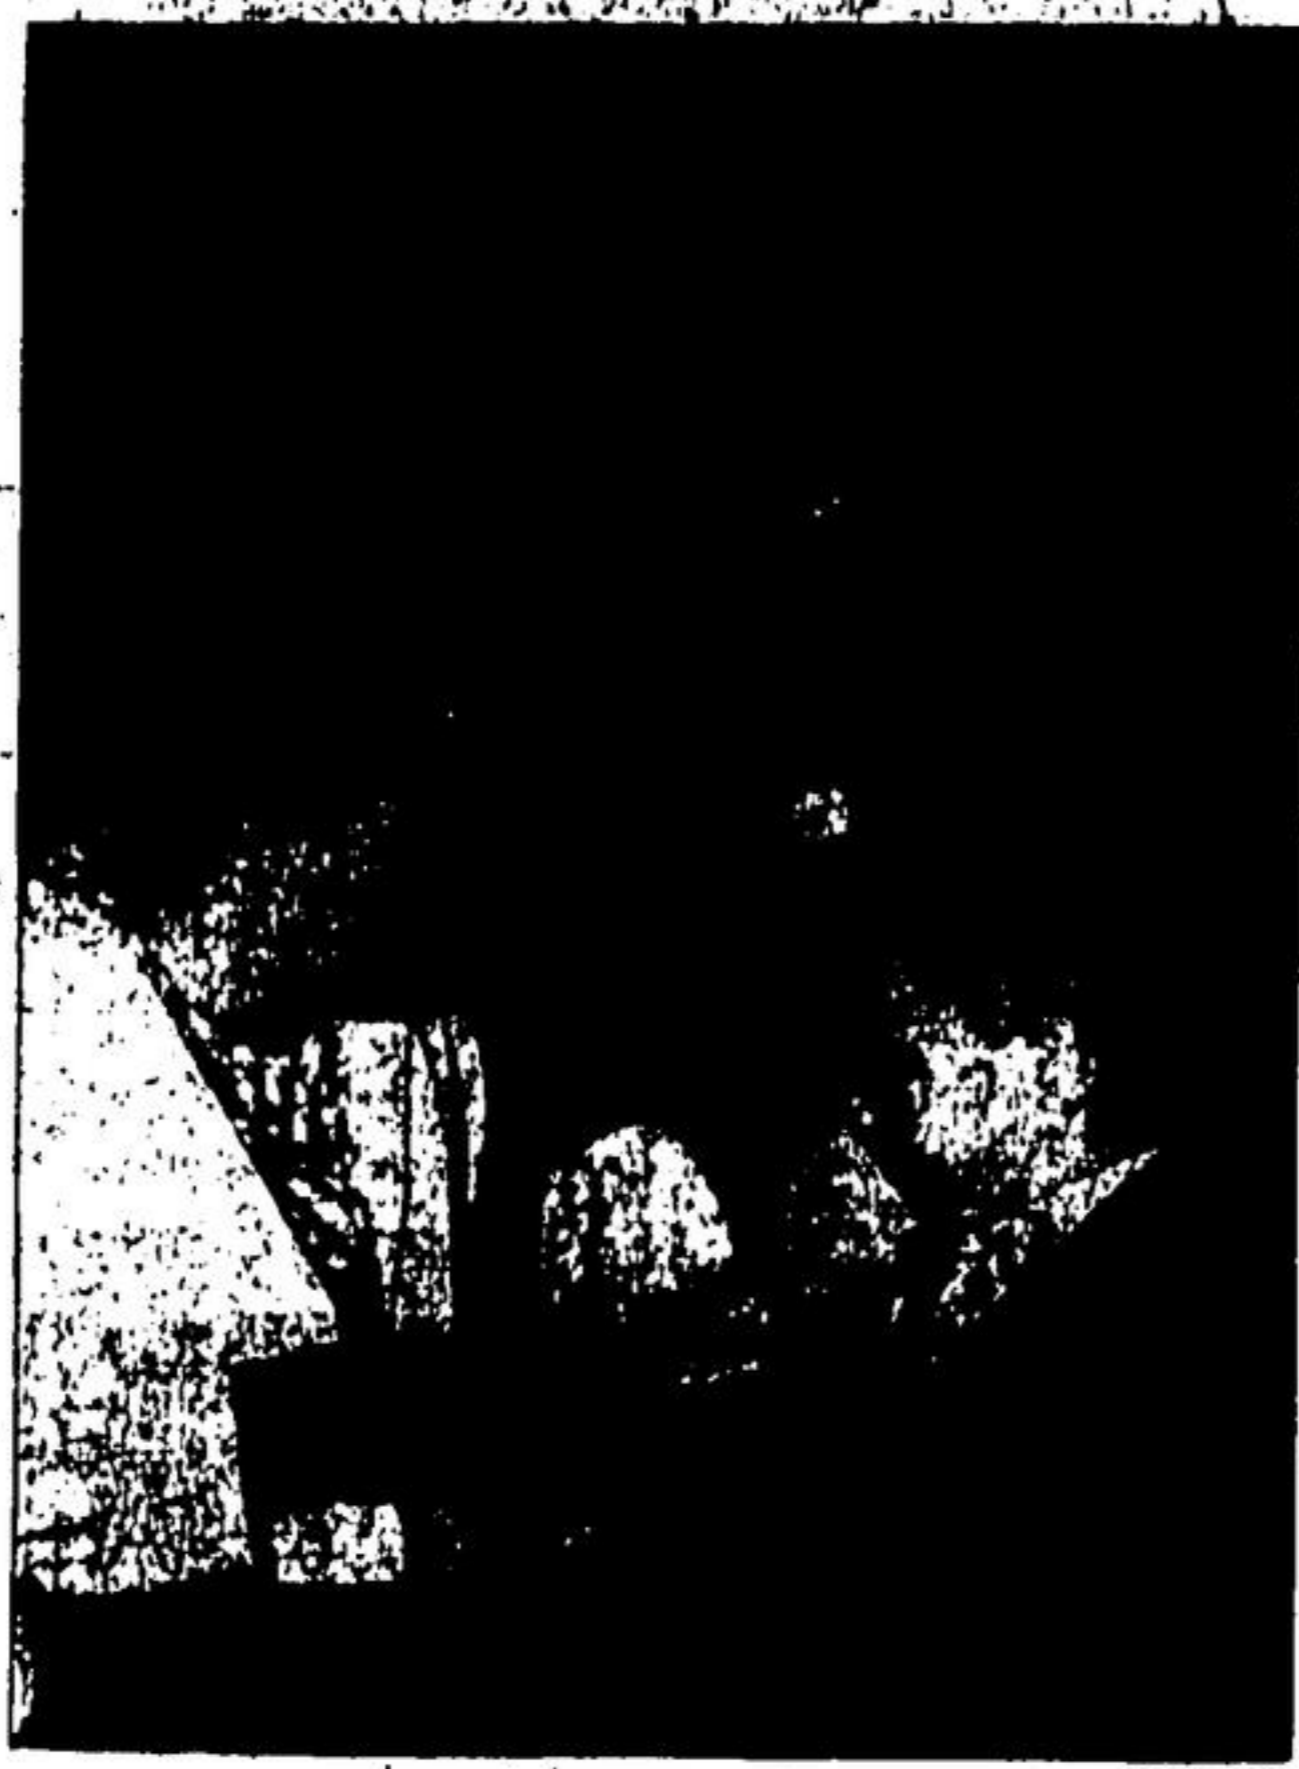

Baskets of blossoms decorated the basement of St. Joseph's church for the Catholic Women's League's very successful tea and sale Saturday afternoon.

Apple blossoms filled the window ledges; on each tea table perfect individual blossoms were floating in water tinted different shades in sherbet glasses. Spring flowers were the serving table. Mrs. Mrs. Hartley Cole, C.W.L. president, and Miss Alma Brada poured tea.

Baking was plentiful, attractive and delicious. Concoctions were Mrs. Jack Doherty, Mrs. Arley White and Mrs. Rina Brada. General tea conveners were Mrs. M. McMillan and Mrs. Ken Papillon.

Mrs. Ray Arbie conducted a draw on a tray of some of the mouth-watering baking which was won by Mrs. Jean Marcoux. Mrs. Arbie's donation was an orange chiffon cake.

A very pleasant time was spent at the tea tables by many guests of the C.W.L.

KP ENROLLMENT was an exciting time for many youngsters on Tuesday as they visited the public schools to get a preview of their surroundings next fall. Pictured above four-year-old Leslie Coles with his mother Mrs. Howard Coles gets a peek at a large set of teeth and toothbrush as Halton County dental hygienist Miss K. McKenzie demonstrates the proper way to brush. Leslie will be attending the Robert Little school next term.

Busy Bees W.I. Will Present Pictures to Brookville School

Mrs. Beck was hostess for the May meeting of the Busy Bees W.I. The president, Mrs. Allen, was in the chair. All sang the W.I. Ode, followed by the Mary Stewart Collect. Roll call was a memory of school days. This was answered by everyone, some very humorous.

The ladies had planned to have a bake sale soon, but found no convenient place to have it so this was postponed for a while. Mrs. Cove and Mrs. Beck reported on the T.B. banquet which they attended at Oakville.

Pictures for School

Mrs. P. MacLean displayed two pictures which are to be framed and presented to the Brookville School. Mrs. Allen gave the "Thought for the Day" following which everyone sang "Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag".

The district president, Mrs. Wilson, told some of the things that helped to make good W.I. workers and officers. Everyone enjoyed her address and gave her a hearty hand-clap. Following this Mrs. Hayward presented her with a pot of plants.

Piano Pupils Give Recital

Last Monday a social evening was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. O. Moran when her piano pupils entertained their mothers. A program of piano solos, piano duets and vocal solos was given.

Participants

Those taking part were Jessie Ann Davidson, Billie Hansen, June Benson, John Davidson, Ruth Lamb and Jill Hurst.

Present Flowers

At the conclusion of the evening a beautiful bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. Moran by Jessie Ann Davidson on behalf of the pupils.

A MESSAGE TO ALL PATROL LEADERS

You are about to undertake the most responsible job of your scouting career. As a patrol leader, you will be in complete charge of your patrol at summer camp (your chums and the sons of your parents' associates and friends).

We must realize that we will be setting the example to our scouts. This applies to personal grooming, habits, attitudes of mind and effort. We must not expect our scouts to do anything which we are not prepared to do. We must always appear smart — even in camp clothes, there is no need to appear sloppy or dirty. Remember, if you tackle the unpleasant chores with enthusiasm and vigor, your patrol will do likewise. Let us all remember this motto:

Points to Remember

I would like you to bear the following points in mind and if necessary, seek assistance now, rather than arrive at camp not prepared.

Each patrol leader will have complete charge of his own tent and patrol equipment, stores etc. Each patrol leader will set up your own camp without any assistance or direction from headquarters staff unless you request help.

Unless there is an obvious emergency, a contravention of rules or the patrol leader appeals, headquarters staff will not interfere with patrol discipline. However, a patrol with poor discipline can expect to lose marks, swim periods etc.

The patrol leaders will run their entire program and will be given assistance only when requested. (I do not want you to think it will be held against you to seek assistance. In fact, it is in your favor to ask for help rather than tackle a project which you know nothing about.)

Run On Patrol System

This camp will be run strictly on the patrol system which began on Brownsea Island in 1907 under the direction of Baden-Powell, who had this to say about it:

"The troop of boys was divided up into 'patrols' of five and the

Spaghetti and Meat Balls
 (For a patrol of 8)
 1 oz. fat

Area Young Adults Entertain Bandsmen Present Concert Pieces

By Miss Muriel Thompson
 Your correspondent was unavoidably absent from the church service on Sunday, May 21, but she has been given to understand that Rev. D. A. Powell delivered a very fine sermon on the topic "The Victory of Pentecost."

The public holiday held on Monday, May 22, was still another occasion for the November Group of St. Christopher's Church, Burlington, to remember their friends at the Manor as they have done on many previous occasions. When the residents entered the dining room for supper, they found favors in honor of the day at their places. The favors were of a patriotic nature, having been made from red, white and blue ribbon, silver seats and paper Union Jacks.

On Thursday afternoon, May 25, about 20 of the women residents motored to the Bronte St. home of Mrs. A. L. MacNabb to see her tulip beds and enjoy afternoon tea at her home. It was a very pleasant occasion and the women residents who were able to go on this outing were grateful to Mrs. MacNabb for her gracious hospitality.

Music and Dancing
 A group of 30 ladies and gentlemen who are members of the Young Adult Group of St. Paul's United Church, Long Branch, paid their annual visit to the residents of the Manor on Thursday night, May 25. Their two presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Stewart, who were the conveners of this very pleasant and entertaining event were among the number who came, and Mr. Stewart acted as chairman.

The program began with a lively singing of old ballads led by Maurice Ballantyne with Harold Lowe at the piano. This was followed by 10 selections, all of which were presented in a humorous, informal way and performed in expert fashion. The piano accompaniments were handled by Harold, Lowe and Jim Wells.

Program Presented
 The ladies and gentlemen sang favorite old songs as separate groups and then in unison. In the number by the mixed group, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Plewes and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Ballantyne danced a waltz. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart danced the Swan Lake ballet. Mrs. Edna Lowe presented her little puppet Sambo in a dancing number and Maurice Ballantyne performed feats of magic.

Jack Robinson presented a pantomime performance to the music of three Al Jolson records. A very amusing skit featuring half a dozen puppets and in-dians caused much laughter. This laugh-provoking program, which had given much wholesome amusement to the residents, ended on a serious note with the whole group singing the song, "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

The hearty appetites that were the result of so much fun, music and laughter were appeased with the serving of home-made pies donated by the visitors and tea and coffee. The happy faces to be seen everywhere proved how delightful this evening had been and how eagerly the residents would look forward to another evening with this friendly and generous group of ladies and gentlemen from St. Paul's United Church in Long Branch.

Lorne Scots Band
 On Friday evening, May 26, the residents had an opportunity to hear some of the music that was to be played by 300 bandsmen at a massed band concert in Toronto on Sunday, May 28. This was made possible by a visit to the Manor of 28 members of the Lorne Scots military band with Lt. E. G. Corlett conducting.

The opening number on the Manor program was the same as was to be played on the Toronto program, the well known march, Colonel Honey. Other selections that were to be played at the Sunday concert in Toronto and which were also played to the residents were Mardi Gras from the Mississippi Suite by Ferde Grofe, the Espana Waltz and the Grand Military Tattoo.

The last named selection included several military numbers, the Road to the Isles, and the hymn: Abide with Me. Other numbers, which filled out a well rounded and enjoyable program, were Jamaica Rumba by Ben Jamin, an overture by Von Suppe.

New Jackets

For use of Junior Pipe Band members, 10 new military style patrol jackets have been ordered. They're navy blue with brass buttons and stand up collars, and will be worn at competitions as well as other occasions less formal than parades, when the red coats are worn.

The band has several summer engagements lined up already.

Five pedestrians and successful men always think fast on their feet.

a medley of tunes from the musical Lake Me Along, a group of Vincent Younan songs and the New Colonial March.

The serving of coffee and cookies to the bandsmen and the residents completed a very pleasant evening.
