

Wading Pool Opens Sun. Board Continues Park Fee

Weather permitting, the wading pool at Acton park will be in operation this Sunday under the supervision of Ruth Lindenberg, following a decision Tuesday evening by the Board of Parks Management.

Chairman R. E. Parker informed members that superintendent Alf Dudy of the town work force had been instructed regarding the installation of the filtration system for the pool.

Continue Charge

Following a suggestion by George Barbeau to consider changing the park charge for Acton ratepayers, the board decided to continue the charge the same as last season for the summer. They agreed, however, to review the charge before next season and make a definite decision. The secretary was authorized to alter the season ticket

He is pictured above on the right with principal Colin Leitch as he reviews his essay. During the day the pupils visited Fort York, High Park and the museum.

Hong Kong Teacher Addresses Ballinacfad Evening Auxiliary

The associate members of Ballinacfad Evening Auxiliary were present at the June meeting held at the home of Mrs. W. Sanderson.

Four associates and 11 members answered roll call with an account of their first dates. A business discussion followed with the approval for a donation of 10 dollars to the Vacation Bible School. A note of thanks was read from the WA acknowledging the assistance from the Evening Auxiliary in procuring accessories for the washroom in the church basement. The clothing sale for overseas relief will be packed this Thursday evening.

Mrs. E. McInery, associate members secretary, called in Mrs. E. Snow to present the devotion. Mrs. Snow based her comments on the first chapter of Ecclesiastes and also read, "The Sun Shall Pass," by Padre Young.

The group adjourned to the church and was addressed by E. Beaton. Mr. Beaton spoke on the importance of missionary work and commended the Evening Auxiliary for its support of the scouting program. As the sponsor of the cubs and scouts, the Evening Auxiliary of the W.M.S. is carrying its work into the World, as did the early missionaries in the beginning of the Christian church.

Mr. Beaton introduced the special guest, Gwen Lee, a high school teacher from Hong Kong, now studying at Bachelor of Religious Education. Mr. Lee pointed out the relationship of Hong Kong to mainland China. The chief work of the church in Hong Kong and what Canadians can do to help. He showed interesting slides as well showing scenic views and buildings of Hong Kong.

Mrs. J. McInery expressed the appreciation of the group to both Mr. Lee and Mr. Beaton.

Mr. Beaton closed the meeting with prayer and a social hour followed. Lunch was served by Mrs. C. Beaton and Mrs. A. Law assisted by the hostess.

Chic Coiffures for Clients: At Stylists' Summer School

A new hair stylists' school has been established at Styles Acres Ranch, five miles north of Acton at the corner of the fourth and fifth concessions of Esquering. Partners in the project are Bruno Selizizi (formerly a hairdresser in Milton), Helen Barnes and Evelyn Hathaway.

They are recruiting patrons from Acton to have their hair styled while internationally known hair stylists demonstrate with comb and shears. They have "quite a few" clients from Acton with appointments this week and next when the first school is being held.

Establishment Schools

The three partners started teaching six years ago in Toronto and have schools in Toronto and in Toronto.

Limehouse W.I. President Cuts 40th Anniversary Cake

A very happy and memorable occasion was observed in the Memorial hall, where Limehouse Women's Institute celebrated their 40th birthday. Ninety-five ladies from neighboring branches signed the register. Mrs. William Mitchell and Mrs. James Noble presiding at the door.

After the president spoke a few words of welcome the ladies were entertained playing euchre, the prizes going to, first, Mrs. R. L. Davidson and Mrs. W. Sinclair; second, Mrs. McIntyre and Mrs. Roben; Miss Somerville and Mrs. R. Lawson were seated on the lucky chairs and each received a potted plant.

Cut Birthday Cake

The hall looked very attractive with large baskets and cases of blue and yellow Iris and Spirea. The tea table was centered with a large bouquet of blue and yellow mums, blue candles in silver holders and a lovely three-tier birthday cake which was cut by the president Mrs. Roughly. Mrs. M. Ellerby and Mrs. A. W. Benton, both of whom are life members, poured tea.

The ladies were honored to have the district president, Mrs. Harry Wilson of Palermo, with them. Miss Charlotte Turner, Mrs. V. Norris and Mrs. C. Sinclair, all brought greetings on behalf of the various branches.

An attractively prepared afternoon tea was served. Mrs. S. Matthews moved a vote of thanks to the Limehouse ladies, for a very happy and enjoyable afternoon. Mrs. E. Brown fittingly replied.

Much of the success of the afternoon goes to the convenor, Mrs. Ted Brown, and all those who helped, and worked so hard in the preparation but felt at the close it had been a very rewarding occasion.
