

Georgetown is planning its sixth public school.

Pleikkeys at Acton park got a soaking during the sudden rain Sunday.

The school creek is running higher this week following the recent rains.

Motors on power mowers buzzed on Monday as rains made the grass grow taller.

The third scout leaders course began at Blue Springs Scout Reserve this week.

Saturday's rain was the heaviest recorded in this district since Hurricane Hazel.

The streets were quiet on Monday as nearly everyone enjoyed the Civic Holiday rest.

Acton police investigated the theft of a stolen bicycle owned by Brian Dunn, Church Street.

Swings and slides at the school grounds have been used quite frequently by children this summer.

Storm sewers in a few spots in town were flooded during the weekend heavy rain, but soon cleared after the downfall stop ped.

Beardmore Tannery Tour Highlights W.I. Meeting

The Women's Institute for their August meeting met at the home of Mrs. C. E. Snow, along with their husbands. They were taken on a conducted tour of Beardmore's Tannery, Acton, which all enjoyed. They saw the different stages of processing from when the hides come in until they are transformed into lovely finished leather.

After the tour, all returned to Mrs. Snow's home for the meeting. The men enjoyed a game of cards while the ladies held a short meeting. The fall call was answered by naming a use of a Canadian product relative to Acton.

After much business, Mrs. C. E. Snow, convener of Canadian Industries, asked for two minute reports. Current events were given by Mrs. R. McEnery and the motto, "What Canada Makes Canada," by Mrs. Archie Law. It was decided to sponsor

Mr. Storey, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Storey, was predeceased by a brother Alfred and sisters Mrs. Bertha Wood, Mrs. Margaret Brown, Mrs. Mary Bell, Mrs. Nancy Allison and Mrs. Alice Allan.

He had lived in Rockwood for about 10 years and also lived for a short time in Acton after leaving from the farm in Nassagaweya. He was an avid gardener until he was no longer able.

Funeral Thursday

Funeral service was held at the Ramsey-Shawmaker Funeral Home on Thursday afternoon, August 8, and grandsons acted pallbearers. The Rev. D. Crawford Smith conducted services. Interment MISS ONTARIO FIRE FIGHTER was the title bestowed on Miss Dianne Mitchiner, Oakville, by Ontario firemen during their convention in Oakville on the weekend. Here Miss Fire Fighter is perched atop the Oakville float in the big Monday wind up parade along Oakville's Colborne St.

Wife Hollers Husband Returns Out of Mist

A policeman's work varied from patrolling the beat, handling out traffic tickets or directing out-of-town motorists.

This week Acton police received a report a fisherman had not returned from fishing in a boat on Fairy Lake. According to the report the man left home in the middle of the afternoon to go fishing and when at midnight he had not returned his wife became alarmed and called police.

Police in turn notified the fire chief seeking a boat to conduct a search. Before a borrowed boat could be launched, the man's wife appeared at the edge of the lake, let out a holler and her husband's form appeared in a boat from the misty waters, as well as by two companions.

CAPTAIN ANDY, popular personification of a fire chief and star of a television program, was on hand to represent the Junior Fire Department at the Fireman's parade in Oakville Monday. Representatives from dozens of Ontario brigades were attending the convention.

Hillsburgh Hall Recent Opening Brings Gratitude

During a brief meeting in the newly opened municipal hall at Hillsburgh, Erin Township council expressed gratitude to everyone contributing to the opening ceremonies of the new hall, prior to approving accounts.

Unanimous approval was given by council for the clerk to pay the Hillsburgh Auxiliary Institute $50 for their efficient service in catering for the opening of the new municipal building.

Other accounts passed for payment included: general $985.10; roads $4,184.94; lamb wounded by dogs, plus inspecting trip $8 and welfare $535.45.

The clerk was instructed to forward a cheque to the Credit Valley Conservation Authority for the township assessment amounting to $1,351.20.

Health Unit Offers Childbirth Classes

Classes offered by the Halton County Health Unit in preparation for childbirth and expectant parenthood are designed to help parents to develop a broader understanding of physical and emotional aspects of childbirth and its relation to the general health of the family.

The information offered in the courses deals with the more practical aspects of the subject and provision is made for individual and group participation. A sincere effort is made by the instructors to provide fundamental and scientific knowledge in meeting the needs of this particular group of individuals.

Applicants must have a request card signed by the family physician before being accepted for registration. For further information please call your local Health Unit office.

Cars Collide Monday Night

Monday evening, a car driven by Gene De Barrol, Mill Street, while eastbound on Bower Avenue from Knox Avenue, was in collision with a car driven by Mrs. Jessie Ramsden, R.R. 4, Rockwood, which was westbound. Constable Ron Dunlop investigated the accident and estimated total damage to both vehicle at approximately $300.

Georgetown Hospital Serves 114 During it's First Month

Over all cost of the dam and reservoir, which will be completed this year, will be $312,000 and the province will have paid 50% with the additional grant announced today.

Tralgar Township will pay just over half of the Authority's costs and Oakville 25.8%, the balance to be shared by Esquesing and Nassagaweya Townships and Milton.

One hundred and fourteen adults and children were admitted to the Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital in its first month of operation. Hospital administrator, Graham, told today the board of hospital directors in his initial report. Actually, the period covered in the report is slightly less than a month since the building opened its doors June 27.

The report contained some other interesting data, up to July 20, 186 patients had received treatment; 29 babies had been delivered, 8 major and 27 minor operations had been performed, 140 patients had been diagnosed in the X-ray department, 464 units of work had been done in the hospital lab.

Mr. Gilbooth told directors that of the 112 people on the hospital staff, 89 are Georgetown residents. Some are from Acton and other centres not far away.

The staff's total bi-weekly salary runs slightly over $11,000, he said, "making a monthly payroll of $22,000 which will certainly be a financial boost to the community."

Funeral, Interment Conducted Saturday
