

Hamilton-Smith Vows Given During Double-Ring Ceremony

Ballinafad United Church, decorated with tall standards of gladioli and ferns, was the setting for a lovely early autumn wedding on Saturday, September 9 at three o'clock when Donna Marie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Smith, became the bride of Howard Robert Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hamilton of Georgetown.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was Rev. Dwight Engle of Acton, assisted by the student minister of the Ballinafad charge, Mr. C. Beaton. Before the bride entered the church with her father, Mrs. C. Beaton sang the Wedding Song. During the signing of the register, she sang the Wedding Hymn. Mrs. J. Black accompanied her at the organ.

Floor Length Gown
The bride wore a white, floor length gown with fitted bodice, trimmed with sequins and pearls. The full skirt was styled in three tiers of net, satin and organza, and fashioned with a bustle sash. She carried a cascade bouquet of pale yellow and white gladioli. The groom's gift to the bride was a special wedding ring set with diamonds.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Arthur Miersma wore a yellow taffeta sheath style dress with full overskirt of organza fastened at the centre of the back with a large bow. The bridesmaids, Doreen and Diane Smith, sisters of the bride, were dressed in mauve with matching hats, shoes and gloves. Their triple strand crystal necklaces and earrings were the gift of the bride and they each carried cascade bouquets of mauve and yellow gladioli.

Duncan MacDougall of Erin, friend of the groom, was the best man and the ushers were Bill Smith and Jim Hamilton, brothers of the bride and groom.

Reception in Hall
For the reception which followed in the church hall, the bride's mother received the brides wearing a royal blue taffeta dress with beige accessories and corsage of pink carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who chose a pale blue sheath style dress with white accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a magenta colored linen dress with a matching raglan sleeve jacket and white and moss green accessories. She wore a white corsage. After their return from a honeymoon trip to Ottawa and Algonquin Park district, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton will reside on Main St. N., Georgetown.

Out-of-town guests were present from Barry's Bay, Swift Current, Saskatchewan, Beeton, Merrickville, Toronto, Belwood, Fergus, Drayton, Limehouse and Georgetown.

DOUBLE RING ceremony united in marriage the former Donna Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Smith, Ballinafad and Howard Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hamilton, Georgetown. The wedding took place at Ballinafad United Church, September 9.

SCOUT NEWS

By Scoutmaster Bruce Williamson
A blizzard coming down off Colorado mountain can quickly put to test the camping ability of the most hardened camper and, above all, is a proving ground of a true scout's camping mettle. Not so long ago a patrol of scouts in Colorado found itself suddenly caught in the midst of a 48-hour blizzard. In less time than it takes to tell, these scouts were up against a bad blow.

The patrol became a bit panicky but the patrol leader had been watching the trail carefully, observing every trail sign and all the surrounding countryside. In a flash the patrol leader right about faced the patrol, hiked back a ways and then commanded it to leave the trail. The patrol rather wondered about leaving the trail in the midst of a blizzard. But soon the Patrol Leader brought it up before an old shake.

Immediately every scout set to: a fire was built, a supply of firewood was collected and a hunter's stew was soon simmering over the cheery blaze. The blizzard was something in the dim distance. The patrol was all set "to ride it out". In 48 hours the storm subsided and the scouts slung their packs on their backs to head for home. In true scout fashion they had come up against a tough situation and had cheerily conquered it.

During these 48 hours there was another group of three boys caught in the same snowstorm. What a different story! When the storm struck, these boys were panic-stricken, completely losing all self-control. They did the most foolish thing possible in a blinding snowstorm; they tried to retrace their steps homeward along the trail. It was a hike in which all the odds were against them.

Soon the youngest boy became exhausted and his two companions carried him until they spotted a farm house off in the distance. Whereupon they laid him down along the edge of a gully so that they could more easily make an exploratory trip to the house. They hiked off a mile or so only to find that the house was a clump of trees. Nothing to do but to return to their exhausted friend—but their tracks had disappeared, completely obliterated by the falling snow.

For hours these boys wandered hopelessly, trying to find their companion. On the second day searching parties were sent out. The boys were found; the exhausted one had died and the other two were delirious from exposure.

Here then are the stories of two groups of boys. Both groups had faced the same risks and the same conditions but what a difference in the outcome!

What was that difference? Don't you think it was the patrol's and Patrol Leader's scout camping knowledge that made the difference.

Would your patrol have stood the test?

Highlights of Western Trip Entertain Friendly Circle

Colored slides of Western Canada, highlighted the first fall meeting of the United church Friendly Circle group, Wednesday, September 30, when Mac Sprowl gave an illustrated talk on his trip to the west.

Features of the talk included slides of the Saskatchewan Dam at Outlook, Saskatchewan, where 3,000 carloads of cement went into the manufacturing of the building. Mr. Sprowl told the ladies that if the amount of steel used in the construction was made into a 3/8 inch rod it would span the world.

The guest speaker commenting on slides of the Saskatchewan number one grain elevators, told his audience the elevators held 900,000 bushels of wheat. Gold mines at Timmins were also an interesting feature of the talk.

A tour of the legislative buildings in the west, beautiful slides of Banff and an aeroplane trip from Arrowood, Alberta to Calgary when the speaker flew over the Blackfoot reserve and saw thousands of cattle grazing was an interesting aspect of the talk. Mr. Sprowl was thanked by Mrs. M. Nellis for his most entertaining talk.

The meeting started off with a supper catered by the group in their talent money, a good crowd turned out.

The Scripture was read by Mrs. G. Cunningham and prayer was given by Mrs. A. Lauder. Miss Jean McLean was at the piano.

Plans are underway for a fashion show and also to cater for wedding.

President Mrs. W. Woodburn chaired the meeting and secretary Mrs. G. W. McKenzie took the minutes. Mrs. D. Van Fleet read the correspondence and Mrs. W. Waterhouse gave the treasury report.
