Annual Teachers' Conference Has Election, Tours, Address

The teachers in the inspectorate of W. L. McNeil, B.A., B. Paed., met in King George public school in Guelph on Friday, October 20, for their annual conference. They were welcomed by A. M. Smith, chairman of the Guelph Board of Education, and devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. A. M. McLeod of Trinity Church.

With the co-operation of R. McVittie, B.A., inspector of public schools, and the public school principals, a very interesting morning was spent by all teachers, observing in various classrooms of the city. Special arrangements were made for the presentation of lessons in social studies, primary reading, creative English and arithmetic, as well as a display of work in art and writing and demonstrations in physical education.

Must Think

After a brief discussion period, all assembled for the banquet at the Guelph Poultry and Dairy Co-operative Hall. The guest speaker was Professor Ralph Bent of the Ontario Agricultural College, who spoke on "Programmed Learning and Teaching Machines". It was emphasized that the great factor in the education of children was the ability to encourage children to think.

The main trouble with educators is that they have a tendency to overestimate a child's knowledge and to underestimate his intelligence. The whole idea of programmed learning is to give priority to the type of questions used and their sequence. Before teaching machines can be used effectively, each subject must be carefully analyzed and detailed questions arranged so that the child will be able to complete answers in the prescribed order which will ultimately bring him to the information sought or the solution to the problem.

Teaching machines, he explained, would never replace teachers but would make teaching much more effective. Professor Bent was introduced by J. Nesbitt of West Flamboro and thanked by E. W. Foster, B.A., of Milton, for a most interesting address.

NECK PAINS

By W. Roy Biddell, D.C., Doctor of Chiropractic

A chiropractor at the head of the spinal column not only treats neck and back pain but a variety of other symptoms and disorders because the nerves supplying all the organs lower down must first pass through this area of the spinal cord. Adjustments of the misplaced vertebrae is the only logical way to correct the cause of this malady.

Published in the public interest to explain the practice of scientific Chiropractic. Office located at 17 Mill St., Acton.

Total Damage $165 In Two Car Crash

Damage amounting to an estimated $165 to two vehicles involved in a crash Friday evening on Mill Street, opposite Jack W. Callum's service station.

A vehicle driven by Harry Stewart, Hill Acton was proceeding north on the service station, he had a rear end collision with a car driven by Norman Wilson. A tree was struck making a left hand turn off Wallace Avenue onto Mill Street.
