

Lureka, Montana Many Toys Dangerous, Look for Safety Factors

Did you ever dream of giving your offspring toys that are safe, fun and have a chance to last? It's a fact. In the past, children's toys were made of wood, metal, plastic and other materials. Today, many toys are made of plastic, which is a soft, flexible material that can break easily. Parents who buy toys for their children should look for safety factors. The American Society of Toy Manufacturers (ASTM) has developed a set of safety standards for toys. Parents should look for toys that are made of sturdy materials, have no sharp edges, and are free of small parts that could be swallowed. Also, look for toys that are labeled as being safe for children of a certain age.

Mistletoe, Yule Log Customs Dating Back to Pagan Days

Many of the customs of the present day Christmas were carried over from pagan festivals. Two of the most interesting are the hanging of the mistletoe and the burning of the yule log. The Druids are said to have regarded the mistletoe with great veneration. It is believed that the burning of the yule log was handed down to the English by their Scandinavian ancestors, who, at the feast of the winter solstice, kindled huge bonfires in honor of their god Thor. In ducklings from a sewer.

QUACK CALL

It was a quack call in Nutley, N.J. Police knew it. But they went to work anyway. They removed a grating manhole cover and rescued three quacking ducklings from a sewer.

Columbus, Crew Mark Christmas

The first Christmas observance in our part of the world was held shortly after Columbus discovered America. The Santa Maria beached on Christmas Eve and his men worked to free her. When it appeared hopeless, she was stripped and as much gear as possible taken aboard the Nina. However, the Nina was unable to carry all the men, and some were left behind in a fort, that in honor of the season was called La Navidad, the nativity.

BOXING DAY

Boxing Day, December 26, is observed in England on a scale almost equal to that of Christmas.

Non-Rust Aluminum

Six and seven-year-olds like to play with their toys. Skates, roller skis, jumping ropes, imaginative play sets, doll houses and furniture, games, and sturdy outdoor toys such as sleds, toboggans, teeter-totters and climbing equipment. Outdoor equipment is being manufactured lately out of lightweight, work-resistant aluminum which won't rust.

For electrical toys of any kind, wait until at least age eight, and be sure when selecting a train or any electrical toy that it bears the CSA (Canadian Standards Association) seal of approval.

Finally, be sure all toys, new and old, are kept in good condition. Repair or throw away old toys that are broken or that are hazardous to your children. Stop buying toys that have sharp edges, small parts that can be swallowed, or that have small parts that can be inhaled.

Christmas

is for the Christ child, for which we all should pray. We pay Jesus, Christ each day, for the love and joy that he brings to our lives. We all have throughout the year, for Almighty One, who we can always find so near. We are for our Saviour who gave His life for us. So let us try our best to put Christ back into Christmas.

DON'T WALK

Cincinnati had installed some "Walk" signs at intersections where pedestrian traffic is heavy. Cars screeched to a halt one day as a little old lady blindly crossed against the sign.
