sons given. A more recent desputch from later development. Acton has applied for re-entry, bringing the number of teams to six.

By the grapevine this fuzzycheeked scribe, heard that Har-"old Townsley and "Dude" Lindsay put their heads together in an effort to keep intermediate baseball alive in Acton. They applied for re-entry obviously because they can field a team which will win its share of games. Harold confirmed it last night. "We'll be in there,"

these days. How much do they charge to watch the locals play? Last season the club took up a silver collection each game. Prices ranged Toronto Man Wins to a dollar.

Prices of equipment have kept abreast of spiralling costs so it must have taken a lot of juggling for the figures to balance last year. They didn't. Dude and Harold are going to take another filing at it, anyway. They hope they can pick up a sponsor along the way.
