Modern Design For New Church

Construction is expected to begin by the end of this month for completion of the Christian Reformed church in Acton. Saturday evening during a congregational meeting approval was given to engage an architect and proceed with the work.

When completed, the new brick superstructure of modern design will have a seating capacity of 380 in the main section of the church sanctuary and seat 120 in the balcony. Also included in the plans are rooms for the minister and a meeting room for the congregation. The new addition will be added to the present basement area used for Sunday school classrooms.

Of the latest design, the new church will have stained glass windows from the peak of the roof at both front and back to approximately half way down and plain glass the balance of the way. Akitt Architectural Company has been engaged and tenders will be called almost immediately.

When the new building is completed the church will be known as "Bethel Christian Reformed Church." Completion has been set for some time in December.

Canines, Motorists Come Under Fire When Council Hears Control By-Laws

Acton dogs and motorists can look forward to more rigid restrictions this summer providing final approval is given control by-laws. Tuesday evening council members gave two readings to a dog control by-law and one to limit parking on certain streets.

According to the conditions spelled out in the dog control by-law, owners will be responsible for registering their animals with the assessor and paying an increased price for tags next year. Anyone failing to do so will be subject to a fine.

The by-law was given two readings and is expected to be finalized at the next meeting. If the by-law receives final approval the price of tags for male dogs will be increased from $3 to $5, females from $5 to $8. Additional dogs in one household will also be tagged accordingly. Tags are to be worn by the dog at all times or the owner will be subject to a fine.

Owners will be given three days to recover the dog and pay a penalty at the rate of $3 for the first 24 hours and $1 per day thereafter. In the event an animal is not picked up by the owner within the three-day period the dog control officer has the authority to either destroy or sell it.

Immediate Notification
Councillor Hamilton Peal suggested the by-law when approved should be published for the benefit of everyone and council agreed this would be done. According to an agreement with Cecil Robertson, Glen Williams, engaged as Dog Control Officer, the owner must be notified immediately of any dog picked up which is wearing a dog tag. Under restrictions laid out in the contract, the control officer must make frequent patrols of the town, supply his own vehicle, and make every possible attempt to notify owners when a dog is picked up.

The officer will be paid at the rate of 25 cents per capita for the year. This is subject to review each year.

Parking By-Law
Motorists accustomed to parking on certain streets for more than two hours will have to change their methods according to restrictions laid down in a by-law which was given two readings Tuesday evening. If final approval is given the by-law by the Department of Transport it will be adopted at the next meeting of council.

A former parking by-law prevents parking north side of Mill Street East and Acton Boulevard and Tuesday evening this was amended to include other areas in town. Also affected by the no parking by-law will be: the south side of Knox Avenue from Main Street North to Park Avenue; east side of Park Avenue from Knox Avenue to Mill Street West; north side of Mill Street West from Park Avenue to Main Street as well as the north side of the School Lane for its entire length.

Two Hour Limit
Two-hour parking restrictions will be placed on motorists parking on: the east and west side of Main Street from Mill Street to Church Street; east side of Main Street North from Mill Street to St. Alban's Drive; west side of Main Street North from Mill to Knox; north side of Mill Street East from Main Street to Elgin and the south side of Mill Street East from Main to Elgin Streets.

When the by-law was presented, councillor J. Bert Wood objected to the parking regulations being enforced after the business hours. "The main reason for the restrictions is to control traffic during the business hours," he stated. Councillor William Denny stated "We could go to a meeting in the town office at 7:30 p.m. and not get out until 1 p.m. and find tickets on our cars." He was informed by Mayor John Goy that was absolutely correct but that was parking allowed on side streets.

Everyone's Benefit
Mr. Wood suggested it seemed a little ridiculous to enforce no parking after the main business hours were over and said he understood the intent was for the main business hours only. "We are not enforcing parking for the benefit of the merchants only but for everyone in town. We have to start somewhere," stated the mayor.

Council also:
• Gave support to establishing a County-endorsed V.O.N. branch to serve the county.
• Approved a resolution sponsored by Georgetown to request the Department of Education to pay the schools for retarded children the same grant as other public schools were receiving.

Declared approximately five acres of land in the Glenlea subdivision as park land and investigated control in the Acton Parks Board.
• Gave permission to the Duke of Devonshire Chapter I.O.D.E. to hold tag days during the two-day fall fair this fall.

List Polling Places For Monday Election

Voters in Acton will go to the polls Monday to mark their ballots for the candidate of their choice. Nine polling subdivisions have been set up for the election for the possible 2,206 voters listed.

Following is a list of the polling subdivisions, districts they include and places to vote:

55,000 May Vote in Halton Monday County Sees First Four Party Vote

More than 55,000 Halton voters Monday will decide between Sandy Best, Progressive Conservative, Harry Harley, Liberal, Carl Rouleau, New Democrat or Irving Wilson, Social Credit, as the county's member of parliament.

Monday is election day. Ballots will be cast at 232 polling places in what is currently seen as an election difficult to predict. No party is overly confident.

Campaigns of the candidates will be grinding to a halt on Saturday prior to the Monday vote.

Big Picnic
Last Saturday the Conservatives staged a monster political picnic in Lowville Park despite intermittent rain. A crowd of 1,500 attended consumption of their leader Tommy Douglas at the O'Keefe Centre Toronto.

Labor Minister Michael Starr attended and with Sandy Best spoke briefly. Entertainment was provided by the Sweet Adelines and the Georgetown Girls' Pipe Band.

The appearance of Prime Minister John Diefenbaker at the Grand Inn on Friday is expected to climax the Conservative campaign efforts.

Harry Harley, Liberal candidate for Halton, attended a businessmen's luncheon in Acton recently and has been making house to house calls before his campaign winds up this weekend.

Douglas At Centre
High spot in the campaign of the New Democrats was the appearance of their leader Tommy Douglas at the O'Keefe Centre Toronto.

Last Saturday a 35 car cavalcade toured all the county urban centres headed by Carl Rouleau.

In Acton, there are 2206 eligible voters.

Booth Open
Parks board member Mrs. Geo. Fryer is supervising the park booth. Her granddaughter Darlene Johnston is helping and Laurie Bennett will assist when school is over. The booth is now in the change station, but a section of the building has been reserved in case someone wishes to check articles.

Oppose Capital Expenditures Proposed by Credit Authority
Taking a lone stand one year ago, the town of Acton, headed by council, opposed the annual capital levy of the Credit Valley Conservation Authority at a Municipal Board hearing. Acton was the sole opposing municipality in the Authority and lost the appeal. However, the Municipal Board recommended a closer watch by the authority on their spending for recreational purposes.

Tuesday evening, councillors had their memories refreshed when clerk-administrator Jack McGeachie reviewed the Conservation Authority minutes which disclosed making three capital expenditures for recreational purposes.

Not Justified
During the review, it was noted that Acton's representative on the Authority, R. R. Parker, reported on his visit to the Huttonville park, under consideration for purchase, and informed the Authority members the acquisition of the park by the Authority could not be justified, either in the respect to the quantity of water impounded or in the cost of the project from the standpoint of flood control and water conservation.

Council members learned that during the May 10 meeting of the Authority, the members held a lengthy discussion on Mr. Parker's report and then referred the Huttonville park situation to a joint committee for their consideration.

Discuss Purchase
Mr. McGeachie also reported to council that Authority member W. Leslie withdrew from the meeting while other members discussed the possibility of purchasing a piece of property from Mr. Leslie north of the Terra Cotta Conservation Area, consisting of 174 acres of land. It was noted that Mr. Leslie had received an attractive offer from a large mercantile firm who wished to purchase the property for an estate. The Authority agreed to negotiate with Mr. Leslie and take an option on the

Hockey Players Receive Jackets As Intermediates Stage Banquet

Acton Tanners Intermediate hockey team wound up their season in great style Wednesday evening when they staged a banquet and were presented with blue and gold windbreakers at the Dominion Hotel.

During the dinner, W. J. Beatty, honorary president, and general manager of Beardmore and Co., team sponsors, first apologized to the team for not having seen any of their games this season and then told the players how proud the company was to have them wear the familiar blue and gold uniforms, emblematic of the company.

Mr. Beatty recalled a few years back when the Acton Tanners of that time romped home with a championship. "We were proud of them then and we are just as proud of you now," he stated. He explained Beardmore's only sponsored the team to the extent of equipment. The only compensation given player-employees was allowing them to leave work early before the odd important game. "We thank you for the opportunity of having our name carried on your sweaters," he concluded.

Mayor John Goy, a former wearer of the blue and gold uniform, noted the town was well known for its championship hockey team and he felt proud about being mayor of a champion town.

"For years and years, we had a hard old core around town who kept playing hockey under the name of the Tanners, and by and by, new faces appeared and now we have a hard new core to carry on," stated the mayor. He recalled how for 10 years, Acton didn't have much to offer in the hockey field and when Beardmore's was approached, they not only offered moral but financial support.

"This team has planted the seed for another championship for Acton. It may take some time, but it will be done. I can't think of any team that wore the colors any better than you fellows and on behalf of the town Council and citizens, I extend my appreciation," stated Mr. Goy.

President Ray Mason told the players the executive had felt proud to work with them this year and recalled the beginning of the season when it appeared it was going to be difficult to ice a team. "Ilio Marzo agreed to come out and coach, Beardmore and Co. supplied equipment and the mayor made certain the ice was ready in time for our games," said the president.

Secretary George Haggitt, treasurer Rae West and president Ray Mason handed out the jackets to the players. Unable to be present on account of sickness were Beaver Banter, speedy centre ice man, Ron Phillips and Bud Haines.

Before the dinner meeting adjourned, the team expressed their appreciation to the executive by returning them to office for another season.

Pool Filtration
Park committee chairman C. Bradley reported the filtration installation at the wading pool was progressing and the pool will be painted as soon as weather permits. The bandstand and ticket office at the park entrance has been repaired and painting is underway.

The installation of a park sign at Main and Knox Streets was discussed and the project will be discussed with the property committee of council for their approval.

Operating accounts were passed for payment.

Speeders and vandalism in Prospect Park continue to be a problem and the subject was again brought up at the Parks Board meeting on Wednesday evening. The board decided to ask for the cooperation of the police committee in an effort to curb the dangerous driving going on in the park.

Mayor Johnny Goy pointed out the police department was well aware of the problem at the park. He also pointed out that any citizen could lay a charge against a driver of a vehicle breaking any of the laws. A by-law sets the speed limit within the park at 10 miles per hour.

The board decided to hold a special meeting to consider the formation of a Recreation Commission. It was decided to advertise for a full time arena manager and recreational director.

A letter from the Acton Hydro Commission gave Ontario Hydro's approval for a reduction in the electric rates for the Community Centre. The reduced rate is granted on the understanding the electric power will be shut off

ACTON L.O.L. 467 held their annual church parade Sunday when they visited Acton United Church. The parade formed up at the park and marched to the church for the 11 a.m. service. The band is seen above leading the parade back to the park.

Kiddies' Playground Y's Men's Proposal

Acton Y's Men are interested in making a kiddies' playground in the Glenlea subdivision proposed park area. Parks Board had informed the club while they approved the idea the area in question had not been designated as parkland.

Doug Copeland, president of the club, had informed the board members were anxious to make a small kiddies' playground and was assured council would be asked to take some action on turning the land over to the Board.

Tuesday evening Acton council agreed to designate the area as parkland and turn over the management to the Parks Board. Approximately five acres are involved in the parkland.
