Increase School Cash Prizes For Good Grooming at Institute

The theme of Agriculture and Canadian Industries was capably handled by conveners Mrs. Gordon Leslie and Mrs. Will Johnson at the September meeting of the Greenwood Women's Institute held at the home of Mrs. K. Eckerich. The picture in North Ontario, the coming country was the topic read by Mrs. Chesley Allan. Mrs. G. Leslie read a true to life article entitled "They've Taken the Fun out of Harvesting - or Have They?"

The motto "In the Garden of Life, Cultivate Faith" was capably given by Mrs. George Wallace Faith is the antidote for fear and the mother of courage. Faith in her branch members makes it possible for the branch president to accept the responsibility as a leader.

Vegetable Contest
Miss E. Pearson conducted a vegetable contest of which Mrs. T. Hensley was the winner. Sixteen members answered the call by giving a safety rule applying to the farm.

President Mrs. T. Hensley read a short poem "Precept and Ex-

Anniversary services were held in Edinburgh, Scotland, last week. The Allan McIlroy of Markham, Ontario, was the guest speaker. Allan and his family were former residents of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Fachre, Dance
A fachre and dance were held at the Edinburgh Church last night. The organ music played the organ. Many friends were present.

After the meeting, refreshments were served. The congregation met at 7:30 p.m. in the evening for the dedication of the new church entrance by Rev. Haddock.

Being Well Dressed New Topic for 4-H

Being well dressed and groomed is the topic of the Fall 4-H Home Economics Club. Mrs. Kathleen Cooney, the Hamilton and Peel County Home Economics Representative taught the leaders of the 12 Home Clubs on the day and Wednesday at the Union Hall here to make a good impression on their own.

The leaders, who were trained for two days, will now return home and teach the members of their district 4-H groups. Between now and February the 12 leaders will instruct their groups at eight or 10 meetings.
