

School Children's Exhibits Give Judges Trying Time

WHO SAYS
One thing a convention reporter can do is get the speaker who really didn't say a thing into a corner, find out what he intended to say, and then go ahead and print that.

OFF AND RUNNING! Carriage roadsters streak around the race track as they compete at Acton Fall Fair Saturday afternoon. The animals were excellently groomed and the handlers were experts. A large crowd saw the performance as the horses raced.

COSTLY LINES
Payment markings help to protect motorists. The Ontario Safety League points out they would give far more protection, if all drivers observed them, all the time. Perhaps taxpayers would respect white lines more if they realized what they cost. It costs upwards of $400 a mile each year to keep a solid white line on the road.
