Six Seek Three Nassagaweya Council Seats

Nassagaweya Township voters went to the polls next Monday to choose three councillors from a slate of six nominated Monday at the annual nomination meeting in Brookville Hall.

Incumbents Dr. B. D. Young and Ross Gordon are in the six-man race, along with newcomers Allan Parsons, Louis Keene, William Mahon and Delmar Moffatt.

Reeve Retires
Reeve John A. Milne, who has served the township 11 years — the last six as Reeve — is retiring from municipal politics and did not let his nomination stand. Deputy-Reeve John Robertson, just completing his second year in that post, was acclaimed Reeve when Mr. Milne announced his retirement.

Councillor William Coulter, a new member to council in 1962, was nominated for the position of Deputy-Reeve, and received no opposition for an acclamation.

Other acclamations went to Art Gibson and Dr. C. L. Young, incumbent members of the township school area board. They were returned for another two-year term when there were no other nominations.

Hear Speeches
A crowd of 125 sat in for the nomination hour and the speeches that followed. They represented less than 10 per cent of the 1,450 eligible voters.

Reeve Milne announced "I am declining my nomination. I have stayed on longer than I intended to stay." He noted the 1962 council was a fine group of men, and he received their cooperation all through the year.

Reviewing his year on county council, he outlined his work as road committee chairman and member of the Manor Board and agricultural committee. Much of the county's road budget of $433,000 was spent in Nassagaweya, he said, including grading on Five Sideroad and the removal of curves in 25 Sideroad. The county's new administration building "cost a lot of money but there is nothing elaborate," he said.

New Twp. Building
"The time has come when we must have a new township building too," he went on. "It is time something was done about it."

Deputy-Reeve Robertson, acclaimed as Reeve for 1963, reviewed the many "firsts" of the township during 1962 — including the first development road on which the government paid 100 per cent of the $27,000 expenditure; and other work on township roads.

He served on the county's health and personnel committees. The $245,000 budget for health showed the work of the Health Unit, he said, and the personnel committee was kept busy too, "hiring and firing all those people."

On Conservation
William Coulter, acclaimed Deputy-Reeve, outlined his work on the 16 Mile Creek Conservation Authority and its completion of the Kelso Dam in the south end of the township. Mr. Coulter suggested the council should work hand in hand with the conservation people to preserve more of the beauty of the escarpment from the gravel and quarrying industries that are ruining the face of the mountain at many places.

Turning to the township roads expenditures of $42,000, he pointed out the high ($1,855) cost of sanding this year, an increase of $400 over last year; and the $5,163 spent on calcium for dust, a big increase over the $3,200 spent in 1961.

Raceway Is New
Council candidate Dr. B. D. Young, a six year veteran of council, pointed to the raceway and the development road as accomplishments for the township. "I am sorry they called it the Mohawk Raceway — the Campbellville Raceway would have been just as good a name," he said. Dr. Young explained the township had introduced a sick leave benefit policy this year, the first in the history of Nassagaweya.

Councillor Ross Gordon, seeking his second term on council, said council didn't complete all its planned projects this year and he hoped to return next year to see them carried out. He told the ratepayers a winter works project is planned for cutting roadside brush, and the government will pay a big share of the labor costs.

A new rebate on pre-payment of taxes was partly his doing, the councillor explained. A year ago last August, only $6,000 in tax money had been collected, while this year the township had $36,000 in by the end of August, proving the move was a wise one and saved bank borrowing interest.

Hopes Vote Heavy
Allan Parsons told the gathering "I hope I can do something for you in the future." He noted a good turnout of ratepayers and hoped for a bigger one on election day.

Another new candidate is Louis Keene, who moved to the township from Oakville a few years ago. "I deal with a lot of municipal sewer and water problems in my job, and I've learned some of their problems," he said. Mr. Keene felt the township was approaching the change from a rural to an urban area, and pointed out the need for sufficient planning to cope with problems of the future.

William Mahon reviewed his 12 years of service to Halton Co-Operative Supplies, including two years as president, as well as his work as secretary-treasurer on the S.S. 6 trustee board for the past several years. "If elected I will see what I can do," he said.

Full Slate
"I will look for your support a week from today," new candidate Del Moffatt told the crowd. He said he would run and make it a full slate.

Meeting chairman Don McMillan, the township clerk, also called on school trustees to say a few words following their acclamation.

Dr. C. L. Young, six years on the board, explained the change from the rural one-room schools to the consolidated school system.

QUESTION??
Why would Roy Goodwin want to be on School Board when he has no school-age children?

ANSWER
Acton schools represent nearly $4 million investment, and more than $200 thousand per year of tax monies is necessary to be spent for maintenance and use of Acton public school facilities. Men with business background should be best qualified to look after this size of investment and expenditure.

Acton, Ontario
November 29 1962

Dear Voters,
I submit this letter to acquaint you with my background.
I was born in Toronto in 1922 and married there in 1942. We moved to Acton in 1945 with our daughter who was to complete her education here and on graduation from Acton High School entered St. Joseph's School of Nursing at Guelph.
I have been in business in Acton since 1948 and have been active in businessmen's associations. I have recently purchased the apartment block in which I live and work.
I like Acton and the people in it, and desire to serve my community with honesty and integrity, and feel that all generations should be given the opportunity to receive the highest level of education at the least cost, remembering that almost half of our tax money is spent for education purposes.
I solicit your support for a seat on the Acton Public School board at the time of our election Tuesday, Dec. 4, 1962.
Yours truly,
ROY W. GOODWIN

bus drivers for their co-operation, also the township roads crew for keeping the bus routes open all year.

One of the Few
Mr. Blythe also explained the grade eight home economics and industrial art classes are continuing at Acton Public School, and "ours is one of the few townships giving these courses to children."

Acton High school board representative Duncan Moffat said the Acton Public School's offer to use three rooms in the old stone school saved the board from adding a planned four room addition to the high school, and saved the taxpayers considerable expense. "Inside of another year it may be necessary to add some more rooms," he warned. About 50 students from the township attend Acton High this year.

Women now make up 30 per cent of Canada's 6.8 million civilian labour force.
