

ONLY NINE MORE SHOPPING DAYS UNTIL CHRISTMAS - ANNE MARTINGELL SHOPS AT HOME

TALLYING HER MONEY before starting out on a Christmas shopping spree in Acton, four-year-old Anne Martingell is helped by mother and family pet "Scotty". The little shopper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Martingell, 100 Churchill Road South, and she shopped in Acton stores.

JUST PEERING to see what merchants offer for Christmas gifts, little Anne was pleased with window displays and suggested merchandise. The bright street lights sponsored by Acton Chamber of Commerce and Christmas decorations in stores helped put the little shopper in the buying mood.

A NICE HOUSECOAT was suggested as a possible gift for mother but the tiny shopper wonders if she has enough money. Anne found the merchants most co-operative and was happy she decided to shop in Acton this year. She also found her dollars stretched further when shopping.

A GIFT FOR DADDY could easily be a warm brush/sweater just like many fathers are wearing, suggests one Acton merchant as the little shopper looks around. The wide variety of goods displayed by Acton storekeepers makes shopping easier for everyone.

BROTHER AND SISTER would like a hockey game and doll, thinks little Anne as one Acton store manager takes time out from his busy schedule to help her decide. Toyland was most interesting and amusing for the young shopper as she looked over the wide variety of articles displayed.

SINGING CAROLS

Singing at Christmas may be a carry-over from the Roman Empire or the Sabbath day or so many years ago. Believe it or not, Christmas songs were solemn and sombre in the beginning. The simple and tuneful carols best liked were doubtless widespread popularity until the 14th and 15th centuries.
