One Night Stand in Acton For TV Star Cliff McKay

TV star and recording artist Cliff McKay delighted the crowd of nearly 300 Sunday evening when he joined members of Acton Citizens' Band for an enjoyable concert in the Robert Little school auditorium. During the performance the guest was chased by eager youngsters seeking his autograph.

Also on hand to play the piano and assist in the program was well-known pianist and orchestra leader Ozie Williams. Playing the snare drums in trio numbers was Gib Jordan of Acton who plays with the Debonnaires dance band.

The auditorium was set up in cabaret style with tables for four adjoining the stage and chairs in rows at the back of the hall. Bandsmen in their scarlet tunics were seated on the stage and under the direction of band master All Perrott very capably played several selections. Mr. McKay sang and played his familiar clarinet.

Santa Visits Acton Legion Distributes Parcels, Candies

Over 200 children received Christmas gifts and candy when Santa visited the Legion auditorium Saturday to make his annual rounds. Hand shakes and pats on the head were the friendly way the old gent had of saying "Merry Christmas" to all the kiddies.

As soon as parcels were handed out, fancy wrapping was turned off as eager youngsters opened their new dolls and boys were racing their new trucks and cars around the floor. Each kiddie also received a candy cane and orange from Santa and his many helpers.

Shouts of happiness filled the auditorium as Santa rushed up the stairway shouting "Ho! Ho! Ho!" and making his entrance to the hall. Before taking his place in an easy chair at the front of the room, Santa greeted children individually.

People in Charge Chairman in charge of the party this year was Sam Brunelle assisted by Jack Pink.

Before Santa's arrival, members from Acton Citizens' Band entertained children and parents playing Christmas carols. Legion members handed out balloons to children as they entered the auditorium.

Years of Service
Band president Ted Laker introduced the members. He paid tribute to handsmen George Smith and Charles Mason for their faithful service during the past many years. He welcomed the audience to the concert and introduced the guest artists.

Numbers played by the band included the march "Freedom City" by John "The Hills" Helena Polka, overture "Manhattan Town" by John "The Hills" Helena Polka, waltz "Fendley" by Welsh Air, "Through the Night" by Queen City and the National Anthem. Junior members of the band played a German Waltz much to the delight of the large crowd.

Coffee for All
During the intermission band members served coffee and cookies to everyone.
Mr. McKay is now living at Spryville and his daughter Pat attends Acton high school. The concert was free, there wasn't even a collection.
Concert about 1000 and singing events proved undiminished and the event was very successful.
