

Present $25 Cheque For Decorated Home

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thompson, 71 Longfield Road, received a Christmas surprise early when Mrs. Thompson had two girls, Christmas Eve in the form of a cheque amounting to $25.00 from the C. of C. for having the best decorated home in town.

Ten judges from the Chamber of Commerce, the Acton High School and Heather a pupil at the M. Z. Bennett public school, this is the first year the C. of C. has offered a prize and members of the club are decorating the outside of their homes.

Revive Chalice

Acton United church congregation celebrated Christmas morning when they held communion. A silver chalice, almost a century old was used for the communion wine.

The chalice formerly used in the old church here in Acton, before the property of the late Ed H. P. Moore. The chalice was given back to the church recently and was used for the first time in many years Tuesday morning by Rev. Dwight Engel.

Tons of Mail Through P.O.

Postal employees waded through tons of Christmas mail during this year, and from December 12 until December 24, postmaster Gordon McKeown estimated 106,180 cards and letters were processed through the cancelling machine for outgoing mail. During the rush period, 30,500 letters were processed daily. Two employees their Christmas day to work Wednesday to find a large quantity of mail had arrived overnight. The postmaster cancelled figures until the end of the month to give a comparison with last year at the same time.

Greetings

This week's issue is produced in the tabloid format and contains New Year greetings from the local merchants. Next week's paper will appear in its normal larger size.

Car Crashed Into Diesel

An Acton motorist, John Melon, Mill Street, escaped injuries but the car he was driving was almost a total wreck when the vehicle skidded on slippery pavement on Eastern Avenue and crashed into the side of a slow-moving diesel engine Saturday afternoon.

Conductor Herb Marsden, Police Constable John Melon, and westbound freight and told police the train was almost at a standstill in order to unload a freight car near the station when the skidding car crashed into the rear side of the engine.

OP.P. D. Manning investigated and said the Melon car was skidded on an icy patch of pavement and slid into the side of the diesel engine. He estimated damage to the car at approximately $400.

Nassagaweya C.G.I.T. Service

Nassagaweya Presbyterians C.G.I.T. girls and Explorers held their Christmas candlelight service on Sunday evening at 7:30. The service was led by Miss Shirley Dredge. Her sermon was based on the Christmas story along with the Christmas Carol, "Silent Night." The C.G.I.T. girls under leadership of Mrs. D. McMillan and Miss Jean Britton.

Nine Lessons, Familiar Carols At United Candlelight Service

Lighted candles at the front of the church and bougths of evergreen helped create the reverent atmosphere.

Reading the nine lessons were Nancy Rogvaldson representing the Youth Bible Class, Barry Buchanan representing the Tyrochan representing the C.G. Sunday School, Mrs. Wynan Little of the choir, Mrs. G. W. McKenzie of the U.C.W., William McKeown representing the congregation, and finally the Rev. Dwight Engel.

Y's Menettes Trade Cookies

An exchange of cookies and recipes was the highlight of the Y's Menettes' Christmas meeting just before the holiday last Thursday evening. Each brought two dozen and brought a recipe to share.

Trusport Dessert An innovation this year was the use of a trumpet, played by Gerald Wick, who took part in the anthem "Now Let Every Tongue Praise The Name of Our Lord Jesus Christ." The seasonal devotions, Gifts were exchanged by the members of the small but very active group.
