Institute Enjoys Christmas Meeting

Miss Lois Agnew is enjoying a winter holiday in Nassau, Bahamas land, expects to be home for Christmas.

Mrs. L. Vayion who has been in Milton District Hospital for a tonsillectomy and Mrs. Harry Davis who was in for surgery, are wished a speedy recovery and hope they will be home soon.

The Christmas meeting of Scotch Block Women's Institute was held at the home of the secretary, Mrs. C. Service last Thursday. The president, Mrs. Hopkin presided for this interesting meeting. Mrs. S. J. Brown and Mrs. Robert Irving gave their reports on the area convention held recently in Guelph. The motto — Make your sense of humor such that we can laugh with people, not at them" was given by Miss Eva Chisholm. Mrs. Sam Harrop gave a splendid demonstration on Christmas decorations and had many lovely ones on display. Flowers, fruits and candles were to be sent to the shutins in the community.

The meeting closed with lunch of sandwiches, Christmas cookies and Christmas cake served by the lunch committee.

Eskimo Girl off to Ghana Government Guest There

By the time Mary Panegoosho of Ottawa has finished her next trip, Eskimos will no longer be such a mystery to the people of Ghana.

Miss Panegoosho, a member of the linguistic service of the Department of Northern Affairs' welfare division, who lived in Acton for a while and went to school here, has been invited to visit Ghana in February next year as a guest of the West African country's government.

Home to the petite, pretty Eskimo is Pond Inlet in the eastern Arctic and on her trip, she plans to lecture Ghanaians on the lore of her land and the ways of her people. Publicity, Miss Panegoosho feels, can be useful to the Eskimo people and so she accepts the considerable amount of attention she has received since coming to live in the south with a good deal of aplomb.

Accra Exhibit

The invitation to Africa was extended by Ghanaian High Commissioner Charles T. Nylander, who met Miss Panegoosho shortly after his arrival in Canada in February last year. To coincide with her visit, the Departments of External Affairs and Northern Affairs have organized in Accra a major exhibition of Eskimo carvings and prints.

Northern Affairs officials consider Miss Panegoosho, one of their more valuable staff members. She is fluent in both Eskimo and English and edits Inuktitut, Canada's only Eskimo language magazine. She sketches expressively and boldly, and types (so far on Canada's (and probably the world's) only Eskimo typewriters).

On her trip, Miss Panegoosho will be in a sense doing for Canada in Ghana what Mr. and Mrs. Nylander have done so well for their country here — spreading goodwill and dispensing with many of the illusions each country has about the other's way of life. With her, she will take a small collection of Eskimo clothing, dolls, birds and animals made from seal skin and a large collection of colored slides showing houses, animals, scenery and snow and the way people live in the land of the midnight sun.

She lived in Acton with Alfred Fryer and the late Mrs. Fryer, the contact made through R.C.M.P. officer Clayton Fryer, their son. She took art lessons at night school while she was here.

20 YEARS AGO

Taken from the issue of the Free Press, Thursday, Dec. 31, 1942

Friends and neighbors of the Dublin community extend heartiest birthday greetings to Mr. Hugh Jordan, who on New Year's Day of 1943 celebrates his 93rd birthday.

The county salvage drive for scrap metal and rubber organized by the Halton County Council and the Halton Agricultural War Service Committee resulted in 142 pounds of scrap metal and one and three-quarter tons of rubber being salvaged. Nassagaweya did a good job under the leadership of Reeve Alex Near.

Used clothing to be included in the shipment of goods being prepared for aid to Russia should be left at Acton Home Bakery with Mrs. J. F. Wilds. Good articles will be gladly forwarded to the worthy fund.

Talk about action! Last Tuesday night, Councillor Jackson was empowered by Council to establish an outdoor skating rink. A week later, the whole town was a skating rink. Some of us ratepayers think the matter has been carried too far.

In the list of those who have passed the examination for registered nurse, published this morning, appear the names of two Acton young ladies. Miss Hazel Wilson and Miss Betty Watts have both been successful and have been awarded the degree of R.N.

Acton Red Cross Society received a very practical boost this week when secretary William Middleton received a cheque for $200 from Mr. Leslie Biggin, president of the Canadian Wool Company.

Monday was nomination day in most of the townships near here and in most cases, officials have been returned by acclamation. Esquesing council is returned by acclamation — Reeve Howard Max. Deputy Reeve W. G. Murray. Councillors George Cleave, George Currie and W. A. Wilson.

Nassagaweya officials were also so returned by acclamation — Reeve Alexander Near. Councillors J. Crawford, John Robertson, William Vansickle and J. E. Ellenton.

Trustees for Rockwood police village are Charles Thatcher, John Lister, George Gordon and Chester O. Plank.

1942 has only a few hours left. We are on the road to victory. A brighter and happier New Year to all!

Our war effort demands more bacon. Halton farmers did a wonderful job in 1942. Canada's objective calls for eight million hogs marketed in 1943.

The interior of Rockwood United Church is undergoing redecoration.

Gregory's Theatre — "Weekend in Havana," Alice Faye, John Payne. "Keep 'Em" George Formby.

Christmas Day was an ideal winter's day with plenty of snow.

Constructive Award To Hornby Breeder

Kenneth Ella of Hornby has just renewed his Constructive Breeders' Award, for the second time this time with a marked increase in the average production and average classification of the cows in his herd.

To win this award, Mr. Ella has maintained a herd T.B. and Bangs Free, and has attained the high average production during the qualifying period of 11,189 lbs.

Churches Mark Christmas 1962

Christmas celebrations in local and district churches took many forms again this year, ranging from candlelight services to special communions to re-enactions of the nativity.

The clergy reported most services drew good crowds and some churches were filled to overflowing as residents stepped away from the usual glitter and glamour of a commercial Christmas, to remember the true reason for the celebration.

Special services began Sunday morning and others followed Monday and all day Tuesday. Some churches are planning watchnight services this coming week to welcome in a new year.

Santa's Last Fling

Meanwhile around the town, Santa Claus took one last fling Monday night before packing up his empty bag and worn-out reindeer and heading back to the North Pole for a quiet rest. He won't be back promoting Christmas until next fall anyway.

Several churches held Sunday School parties over the weekend, while service organizations, offices and industries held Christmas parties for the little ones or just for adults.
