

Your Five Federal Election Candidates

Dr. Sandy Best—Conservative

Dr. Best, former and politician, 37 years old Progressive Conservative Dr. C. A. Sandy Best has spent five years representing Halton County at Ottawa, and though defeated in last June's federal election, he's seeking the same honor again on April 8.

DR. SANDY BEST
Progressive Conservative

He has publicly favored nuclear arms for Canada.

He operates a large farm near Georgetown, where he lives with his wife Ellen, Charles, 4, Alexander, 2, and baby Margaret, five months. His wife is a former editor of the Presbyterian Record magazine.

The son of Dr. Charles Best, co-discoverer of insulin, Sandy Best has lived in Halton County over 25 years. Besides operating a cattle and pig farm in Nassagaweya he grows hybrid lilies at his Georgetown farm, and lectures in biology at University of Toronto.

Supporter of Nuclear Arms
Dr. Best, while a supporter of Prime Minister Diefenbaker, claims there is room in politics for individual thinking in the best interests of the constituents.

Ellis Fullerton—N.D.P.

Ellis Fullerton, 41-year-old head of the history department at Lorne Park secondary school, Port Credit, has entered Halton's federal election race as the New Democratic Party candidate. He is a Ninth Line, Oakville resident.

ELLIS FULLERTON
New Democratic Party

Born in Toronto, he is an honor graduate of University of Toronto in modern history. For some years he was sports editor and announcer for an Ottawa radio station, and the physical education director for Preston High School.

He has been teaching history several years, and has been engaged at Lorne Park for the past three years.

Wife is Grad
Mr. Fullerton's wife Evelyn is also an honor graduate of University of Toronto, in English language and literature. They have two sons, Scott, 2, and Ross, two months.

This is his debut in politics. His nomination was unopposed at the recent N.D.P. nominating convention in Oakville.

He succeeds Carl P. Rouleau of Oakville, a Streetsville high school history teacher who carried the N.D.P. banner in last June's election.

Mr. Fullerton was active with the C.C.F. party and joined the N.D.P. two years ago. He was a zone leader in the last federal election. He like fellow party supporters has outspokenly renounced nuclear arms for Canada, both at home and abroad. Im not standing out of political ambitions but because the high principles and platform of the N.D.P., he said, "I think we can win this riding, as many are disillusioned with the old party."

If elected he will quit his teaching position and take up his duties as a full time M.P.

Irv Wilson—Social Credit

Irving R. Wilson, 43-year-old company manager from Burlington, is back in Halton's live-in election again this year, after an unsuccessful bid last June. He is the Social Credit candidate.

IRVING WILSON
Social Credit

Born in Windsor, he was educated in North Bay and seven years operated a tourist resort near Callendar. He joined the R.C.A.F. as a technician during the war years, then operated Wilson's Jewellers in St. Thomas for 15 years.

Works at Bronze
In May 1962 he moved to Halton County and took up residence at 5172 Meadowhill Rd. He manages the Trans-Canada Life ware Ltd. at Bronze.

He is married with five children, and also has three step-children, with six of the children living at home and two married.

Member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, he has held the office of branch president for nine years and was chairman during the building of a chapel and education building.

He has been affiliated with Social Credit for nine years.

Diagnosed
Mr. Wilson describes himself as a disgruntled old line party man, who joined Social Credit because "it is time the citizenry ruse up and provided a grass roots government." He calls for a government in which the people may have a confidence and a voice.

He feels his long record as an honest business director makes him a safe, dependable voice for Ottawa from Halton County.

"With confusion in the two old line parties and avowed Communist support of the N.D.P., Halton can have able representation by voting Social Credit," said the candidate.

Dr. Harry Harley—Liberal

Dr. Harry C. Harley, a 36-year-old medical practitioner from Oakville and Halton's M.P. for eight months following the June 1966 election, has entered the political arena again. The Liberal M.P. will be defending his newly-won title in a tight race against four other challengers.

During his short stay in Ottawa Dr. Harley served as chairman of the Liberal party health committee and was appointed by the government to a special committee.

DR. HARRY C. HARLEY
Liberal

He is an active staff member of Oakville Trafalgar Memorial Hospital, and served as president of the medical staff. He is a director of the Oakville Chamber of Commerce and served on the expansion committee and board of governors of the hospital.

In 1949 he was married, and now has three children, Bruce, 10; Douglas, 7, and Janet, 14 months. He is a member of Oakville Golf Club and Hopedale Presbyterian Church.

In the last election he won a 98-vote victory to oust P.C. candidate M.P. Sandy Best as he rolled up 18,556 votes. Since 1891, only one other Liberal has held Halton's seat at Ottawa, and that was Hughes Cleaver of Burlington, elected to office from 1935 to 1953. Every other year in the past 70 years Halton has favored the Conservatives.

Time in Forces
Born in Weston in 1926, he attended school there and upon graduation from a vocational school as a draftsman, enlisted in the R.C.A.F. in 1944. He was discharged at the end of the war, attended rehabilitation school to obtain his senior matriculation, and entered University of Toronto Faculty of Medicine in 1945 to fulfill a wish to become a doctor. He graduated in 1951, then served his internship in St. Joseph's Hospital Toronto.

The next year he joined the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps where he served five years, spending a year as Medical Officer with the 79th Canadian Field Ambulance Infantry Brigade in Hannover, Germany and several years at Sunnyside Hospital.

Doctor in Oakville
Dr. Harley resigned from the Army with the rank of Major in 1956, and moved to Oakville to set up a medical practice. He is an active staff member of Oakville Trafalgar Memorial Hospital, and served as president of the medical staff. He is a director of the Oakville Chamber of Commerce and served on the expansion committee and board of governors of the hospital.

Stock Analyst
He joined his father's firm, J. R. Timmins and Co. in Montreal, an international stock investment house, in a clerical capacity in 1952. Later he moved to Toronto where he spent two years trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

As a kick analyst, he has written economic and political action studies in leading financial publications. He notes he was one of the first who publicly forecasted, three years ago, that the Canadian dollar was heading for a downfall from its five per cent premium at that time.

His wife, formerly Ann Bendzaitis of Montreal, is a graduate of Marianopolis College in Montreal, and has travelled extensively in Europe. They chose a Georgetown area farm for their home, and have lived there two years with their two sons, Henry, 7, and Ross, 6, and a four-year-old

Council Accepts Agincourt Bid On 10,000 Yards of Road Gravel

The tender of Regan-Hauling and Excavating, Agincourt, for supplying 10,000 yards of gravel for township roads, was accepted Monday by Nassagaweya Township council. It was the lowest of three received.

The price was 77 cents a yard on the road, 47 cents stockpiled, and 42 cents off the belt.

Council heard a deputation consisting of a milk producer and a representative of the two dairies in Milton, asking council to prohibit dairies from outside Halton County selling milk in the township. Council took no action on the request, but asked for further information from the delegation.

The Campbellville Board of Village Trustees appeared to discuss street lighting plans and finance. No decisions were reached.

Members learned two appeals to the County Judge re assessments on non-farmed land had been upheld by the Judge, as they were in the County Court of Revision.

Meeting for the first time under the new procedural by-law, councillors had not finished the business at hand by the 11 p.m. deadline, and the meeting continued to 11:45 p.m. Another meeting will be held in two weeks' time to clean up the agenda left over after adjournment.
