Picnic at Halton Museum Highlights W.I. Meeting

The July meeting of the Ballinfad Women's Institute was a picnic meeting which was held at the Halton Museum. Several children joined the W.I. and enjoyed seeing the articles on display. Many antiques have been given to the museum in the short time it has been in operation. It is only one year since the collection was started.

The meeting was held in the museum and opened with the president in the chair. The Ode was played by Mrs. Norman Sinclair on a grand piano which belongs to the museum. All repeated the Mary Stewart Collect. Roll call was answered by "A story of horse and buggy days", which proved very humorous and interesting.

Program Presented Items of business were dealt with. Mrs. Ray Swindlehurst, historical research convenor, then reported over the meeting. Two minute reports were given by the various secretaries.

Current events, prepared by Mrs. Ernie McEnery, were read by Mrs. Lloyd Marshall. The most interesting was a wonderful treasure chest if you know how to pack it" was given by Mrs. Robert McEnery.

Mrs. Ray Swindlehurst introduced Major H. Newman, curator of the museum, who gave a very interesting talk on how and why a fine museum is well on its way for Halton County. Mrs. William Kirkwood, courtesy convenor, thanked Major Newman and all who had taken part in arranging such a fine outing. Lunch was then served in the museum by Mrs. Lloyd Marshall and Mrs. Frank Smith.

Cut Stumps

Twenty-seven stumps were ground to pulp this week as Davey Tree Experts Company workers used a special type machine for the purpose.

The peculiar looking machine made short work of the stumps and within a few minutes each stump had been ground down below the surface of the ground and pulp was the only indication there had been a stump previously.

Town workmen loaded the pulp onto trucks and carted it away and packed earth in the hole where the stump had been removed.
