

MARGARET DAVISON and John Reginald Hoare were married at St. Alban's church August 10. After a trip to the Maritimes, they are making their home in Acton.

Margaret Davison Weds John Hoare on August 10

Pink and white glads, decorated the Church of St. Alban the Martyr Saturday afternoon, August 10, for the marriage of Margaret Davison and John Reginald Hoare, conducted by the Rev. D. H. West with Mrs. Frank Oakes playing the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Olive Davison, 46 Wentford Place, Acton, and the late Mr. G. Davison. The groom, a mechanic at Maxson Motors, Acton, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hoare, 291 Arthur St., Acton.

Bride in White

The bride, given in marriage by Eric Davison of Oakville, wore a long white gown of organza over silk taffeta, the skirt, fashioned with inverted pleats, forming a chapel train. The banded waistline had a small bow in front and a rose bow at the back. Chantilly lace appliques on the bodice cascaded down the front of the skirt. Her French silk illusion veil with a Chantilly lace border was held by a wedding ring pillbox edged with pearls and rhinestones. She carried an heirloom French silk handkerchief.

Her bouquet was of red roses, white pom poms and ferns interlaced with white satin ribbons.

The maid of honor was Miss

Norma Gould of Streetsville who wore blue, peau de soie and carried pink and white carnations. The bridesmaid was Miss Pat Tuck of Georgetown who wore pink peau de soie and carried pink and white carnations. The maid of honor is a cousin of the bride and the bridesmaid is a cousin of the groom.

Ian Smith of Brampton, a cousin of the bride, acted as ring bearer.

Arnold Phee was groomsmen and the ushers were R. Gould, a cousin of the groom, and D. Tuck, a cousin of the bride.

After the ceremony, guests were received at a reception in the United Memorial Hall. There were friends and relatives from Georgetown, Brampton, Streetsville, Oakville, Oshawa, Toronto, Milton, Kitchener, Acton and England.

The bride's mother chose a dress of blue printed silk organza with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a pink sheath with pink accessories and pink and white blooms.

Mrs. M. Gould of county Durham, England, godmother of the bride, was a special guest.

The couple left on a trip to the Maritime Provinces. They will be living in Acton.

Float for Fall Fair Discussed At Dublin Institute Meeting

The home of Mrs. W. McIntyre was the meeting place of the Dublin W.I. on August 15. After the accustomed opening Old Testament and Lord's Prayer, there was a discussion on the articles to be brought for exhibition at the Acton Fall Fair. A meeting of several members was planned to decide what form would be best for the float and the different items it would require for the parade. Mrs. C. Thomson and Mrs. W. McIntyre agreed to take care of exhibits for the fair.

Leadership for the 4H girls' training was undertaken by Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. McCarron.

It was agreed that the next meeting should be advanced one week because of the extra activities taking place at the usual time of meeting.

Mrs. Irene Moffat was nominated as delegate at the area convention on the 19 and 20th.

A one-day literary course has been offered by the government and as a change from the usual classes, Dublin ladies have selected it as a winter interest. The day of the course is Oct. 24. A minimum attendance of 15 is required and it is hoped that others outside the W.I. will attend and benefit from the instruction.

A report of the officers' conference was given by Mrs. Norman Douglas who attended this very interesting function on June 19-20. The same member outlined the duties of secretary-treasurer.

A gay time was held afterwards at a Dutch auction managed by Mrs. Mansell Nellis and Mrs. McCarron. This was a novelty for Dublin W.I. and besides causing some fun, brought in some cash. The usual social cup of tea was the finale to a pleasant evening.

Painting Show This Weekend

Guelp Creative Arts painters group will be holding its fourth annual outdoor show August 23 to 25 at the Delta St. recreation centre in Guelp. Among the exhibitors will be Mrs. Laura Dittich and George Bowman of Acton. Other entries have been received from Milton, Oakville, Kitchener, Hamilton, Listowel, Brampton, Stratford, Port Credit, Preston and Elmira.

Professional artists who will be guest exhibitors include Peter Varley, Jack Pollock, Norval Morrison, Julie Steen, John Schlatter and Peter Goetz. Many members are amateurs, but the group includes Yusef Diveris, of Rockwood, well-known sculptor.

Macpherson-Murray Wedding

In a double-ring ceremony in Knox Presbyterian Church, Acton, Saturday afternoon, August 10, Sherrill Marie Murray and James Bruce Macpherson were married by the Rev. A. H. McKenzie. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Murray, R.R. 3, Acton, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Macpherson, Wakefield Road, Milton.

Richardson, Guelp, and Miss Lorna Macpherson, the groom's sister, Milton.

They wore street-length gowns of long-sleeved blue sheer over tulle with fitted bodice and bouffant skirts. The overskirt edged with a tucked ruffle was caught at the waistline.

Circles of tiny matching roses with tulle veiling formed their headpieces. They carried bouquets of white carnations mingled with white lace and ribbon.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Groomsmen were Constable Tom Nightingale of Guelp, and the ushers were Russell Murray, brother of the bride, Acton; Doug Black of Milton and Ray Tuck of Palermo.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the church. The bride's mother received wearing an antique white sheath with matching three-quarter length coat, chocolate brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother wore a sheath of powder blue brocade with matching coat, navy blue accessories and white carnations.

The couple left on a trip to northern Ontario, and the bride wore a chocolate brown linen dress with brown and white accessories and a white orchid corsage. They will live at 5 Mill North, Guelp, Miss Lorraine St., Acton.

Baskets of pink and white gladioli decorated the church for the occasion; E. A. Hansen played the organ and George Muselle sang The Lord's Prayer and Where'er You Walk.

The bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white organza over silk tulle. The bodice featured a V-shaped neckline and long life-point sleeves. Delicate appliques of Chantilly lace dusted with iridescent sequins enhanced the bodice and the front panel of the full skirt which fell into a chapel train. A peaked coronet of seed pearls and crystal held her four-tiered scalloped veil of tulle illusion.

She carried a bouquet of deep pink carnations and stephanotis with white lace and a deep pink ribbon streamer.

The attendants, dressed alike in blue, were the maid-of-honor, Miss Shaheen Marshall, Acton, and bridesmaids Miss Kathy Spruish, Guelp, Miss Lorraine St., Acton.
