ture and only through their uncellish devotion to the cause has the splendid organization of to day been made possible.

In conclusion, it is realized this is far from being a complete record of the history of Acton fair.
The Agricultural Society knows that you will appreciate the difficulties encountered when preparing a 50 year history.

Acton fair has carried on through wartime depression and trains fair days. It is the hope of the Agricultural Society that this history will be of interest to all who read it.
