Bell Length Gown

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a traditional floor length gown of white Alencon lace over peau de soie. The fitted bodice featured long fly pointed sleeves and a scalloped neckline sprinkled with sequins. The bountiful skirt cascaded from a dainty princess style waistline and fell in graceful folds from four large bows set in the back. Her full length rhinestone scattered veil styled in three tiers fell from a lace edged crown, also adorned with rhinestones. The crown and veil were designed and made by the bride. She carried red sweetheart roses on a white lace Bible with satin streamers knotted with lily of the valley.

Miss Gloria Lammer of Milton friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Also attending the bride were Miss. Edythe Cartwick of Brantford, Miss. Gertrude R. Louise Brampton and Miss Margaret Shek of Milton.

Lady Directors Review Fair Winning Essay is Read Aloud

A one attendance of lady directors of Action Fall Fair Board gathered at the home of Mrs. R. E. Davidson last Thursday evening for their monthly meeting.

The president, Mrs. Donald C. Matthews, occupied the chair. The secretary, Mrs. R. Dennis, read the minutes of the previous meeting, and also gave a detailed treasurer's report, which was favorable.

The convener of each hall exhibited reported as follows: Domestic science, Mrs. Joan Wadde, canned fruits, Mrs. W. Thompson, homemaking, Mrs. G. S. Matthews, who reported there were 444 entries in this exhibit, and included 41 aprons and 17 quilts, flowers, Mrs. Morgan Mathis, women's institutes, Mrs. W. Linnett, from Mrs. G. Stores, school work, Mrs. D. Matthews, in the absence of Mrs. J. McCollum, convener, antique display, Mrs. R. Davidson.

This last had proven a very interesting exhibit and many enjoyed looking over the many articles used long years ago. The oldest article shown was the property of Wallace Gordon and was a hand-carved shelf with year 1649 carved on it.

Miss Gail McHugh, a pupil of the M. Z. Bennett School was the winner of a trophy in the Ethel Brae Miniature Contest. Her essay on "What Our Fair can do for our community" was read at the meeting, and the ladies offered congratulations to Gail for her efforts. This essay will be forwarded to the District for further competition, and the winner there will compete in the provincial competition.

The convener of each department was asked to prepare their lists for the advance prize list for the November meeting. Mrs. D. Matthews and Mrs. R. Dennis were named to assist the men's committee in arranging the banquet and program in January.

Outstanding Parade

Mrs. Joan Wadde reported on the fine parade and thanked everyone for the cooperation in making it so outstanding.

Mrs. W. Thompson reported on the street banners
