Reaffirm Flood Control Plan At First Authority Meeting

Roy K. McMillan, of Streetsville, has been re-elected chairman of the Credit Valley Conservation Authority for the coming year, it was announced following the inaugural meeting of the Authority held at Terra Cotta.

Eric White, of Mono Township, was elected vice-chairman.

The following advisory board chairmen and vice-chairmen were elected:

Farm planning and land use, Alex MacLaren, Georgetown, and F. Lyons, Chinguacousy Township; flood control and pollution, R. R. Parker, Acton and G. Brown of Orangeville; historical records, A. M. Greenaway, Port Credit and R. F. Hardy, Oakville; parks and recreation, J. M. Pawley, Brampton, and J. S. Scott, Caledon; publicity, R. K. Harrison, Toronto Township and Clarence King, East Garafraxa Township; reforestation and wildlife, J. A. Carr, Streetsville and A. Wheeler, Hillsburgh.

Flood Control

The plan for flood control in the 214,000 acres of the Credit River watershed, which was initiated by the 1963 Authority was reaffirmed by the meeting. The chairman and the chairman of the Flood Control and Pollution Advisory Board were requested to take the necessary steps to expedite the plan with the cooperation of the provincial and federal agencies involved.

The flood control plan involves six control dams and reservoirs, at a total cost of $5 million. The $436,000 Orangeville dam and reservoir will be the first project undertaken.

Water Works

An active winter works program has been carried on by the Authority, improving facilities at Terra Cotta and Belfountain and clearing brush throughout the reforestation area.

Fire Prevention Contest

Halton, Oakville, Milton are Winners

Awards for outstanding fire prevention programs were announced today for four fire prevention agencies in Halton County. All were winners of major awards and certificates in the annual educational contest conducted by the National Fire Protection Association of Boston, Mass.

Halton County Fire Prevention Bureau, a group embracing members of all five fire departments in the county received a special recognition for an outstanding county-sponsored fire prevention program. Two other Ontario counties received similar awards.

Honourable Mentions

Oakville Fire Department received an "honorable mention" in the Class B Canadian municipal division for communities with a population of 25,000 to 99,000. The Milton Fire Department won an honorable mention in the 5,000 to 9,000 Class D contest. There were 581 Canadian communities competing in these divisions, 58 of them from Ontario.

One of the competitions won by awards went to the Oakville operations of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd. for the top prize in the industrial division. There were 180 North American organizations competing in this division.

Submit Scrapbooks

All entries were scrapbook records of the various fire prevention programs efforts during the past year.

Certificates signifying the wins will be presented to Halton Fire Prevention Bureau chairman Chief Erwin Lewis of Georgetown, Oakville Fire Chief Douglas Wilson and Milton Fire Chief A. J. Clement at the annual spring banquet of the Halton County Mutual Aid Fire Services Association.

Composer Dies Lived in Area

A Canadian-born composer who won acclaim for writing true Hebridean music before his death in Los Angeles January 7 has roots that tie in with the village of Campbellville. Colin McPhee, 62, was a great-grandson of the John Campbell who founded the village of Campbellville in 1852.

Mrs. Moore, an 87-year-old Campbellville resident who is a great-granddaughter of John Campbell and a second cousin of Mr. McPhee, called The Champion's attention to Mr. McPhee's obituary in a Toronto paper. His father once lived in the village and may be remembered by some of the older residents.

Colin McPhee was born in Montreal and became known as a prominent composer in Canada and the United States in the 1920's. In the early 1930's he revisited Bali and was greatly impressed with the "music of the land - especially the large ensembles of gongs and other percussion instruments."

He had earlier studied under Sir Ernest MacMillan and Arthur Lindham at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto. At his death he was a specialist in Balinese music in the Institute of Ethnomusicology at the University of California at Los Angeles.

CHRONIC ILLNESS

There is a common belief that chronic illness is more an old age problem. However one out of every five cases recorded in person under 25 and one out of every two cases involve persons under 45.

ELECTION NOTE

Political Speaker — "I'm pleased to see this dense crowd here tonight."

Voice from the Back — "Don't be too pleased we aren't all dense."

The Lanahan eight point cross of St. John has been around for so long that many of us tend to take it for granted. The men and women who so proudly wear it are continuing a 900-year-old tradition that dates back to the Crusades, the tradition of helping others who are injured or sick. St. John Ambulance is a voluntary organization whose members give their time and their vital skills for the service of the community. During the month of February they will be appealing to the public for generous support for their fund raising campaign. Funds are needed to buy the essential materials they need — the bandages, the stretchers, the arm slings — and the general care and upkeep of their ambulances.

OBITUARY

Worked Since 1912 With Two Railways

A retired section foreman with 43 years' service with the C.N.R., Gordon Ritchie Moore of R.R. 1 Acton passed away in Guelph General Hospital on Sunday, January 19. CAUSE UNKNOWN

Despite a rapid increase in knowledge about arthritis and the other rheumatic diseases, the cause, means of prevention and specific cure for most of the common and serious forms of arthritis and rheumatism remain unknown.

Tree Tags "Pay Off" Fire Bureau Reports

"Our Christmas tree fire safety tags are paying off," Oakville District Fire Chief George Wright told the January meeting of the Halton County Fire Prevention Bureau this week.

Chief Wright reported there were no fires caused by Christmas trees during the recent holiday period despite the fact an evergreen tree in the house is a dangerous fire hazard.

Each year the bureau in cooperation with the local fire departments distributes about 20,000 free tags listing several pointers on fire safety to tree dealers in the county. The tags are attached to the trees before they are sold and most homes in the county received this fifth safety warning with their tree before Christmas.

The bureau also distributed 500 attractive new posters carrying holiday fire safety messages to churches and public buildings at Christmas time.

Nurses Can Compete

Miss Edith Dick, chairman of the Ontario Division Nursing Committee of The Canadian Red Cross Society today announced that again this year an award of $1,000 is being offered to Canadian Nurses registered in Ontario. This award is given to enable nurses to undertake further preparation in nursing at the degree level.

The successful candidate will be selected on the basis of training, nursing experience and leadership qualities with consideration given to the applicant's potential contribution to Nursing in Ontario.

Interested nurses are asked to contact Dr. Gerald of Red Cross Society, Ontario Division, Attention Miss Elaine Dawson, Director, Volunteer Nursing Services, 460 Lawrence Street, Toronto 9.

To be eligible applications must be submitted by April 1, 1964.

The 1963 Bursary was awarded to Miss Marie-Ange Levesque of Ottawa. She is at present completing her studies at Columbia University for the degree of Master of Science in Nursing.

George Musselle, who was in charge of the installation team, chairman Tom Watson and president-elect Jim Gunn.

Install Officers

Acting Sgt.-at-Arms Arthur Ford paraded the president, vice-presidents and executive members to the front of the room where they were duly installed for the coming years. Installation officers included Mr. Musselle, William Middleton, Hamilton Peal, Vic Patrick and Tom Watson.

1964 executive members include president J. Gunn, first vice-president Ted Pope, second vice-president Gord. James, secretary John Hufnagel, treasurer Gord. McCutcheon, Sgt.-at-Arms James Milne and executive members J. Higgins, Bob Fourrier, George Ware, I. Watson, F. Holmes, D. Guthrie, P. Webb, and G. Thompson.

In his inaugural address to the Branch the newly installed president asked for everyone's cooperation and full participation in activities. It is everyone's obligation to assist the Branch, he says, to give him the annual Legion "kicks" new ideas and these must come from general meetings. Get out and attend, he charged. In his years to keep for four others conclusion he paraphrased the now late John F. Kennedy as he said "It's not what the Branch can do for you, but what you can do for the Branch."

Banquet chairman Tom Watson extended a special welcome to Wilfred Coles, only surviving Acton veteran of the Boer war. He also welcomed two lady members present for the occasion Mrs. Joan McKnight and Mrs. Margaret Landsell.

At the conclusion of the installation ceremonies everyone gathered in the downstairs rooms and enjoyed a sing-song with Eric Page of Guelph at the piano and Stan Campbell of Brampton playing the banjo.

Several members and their wives attended the regular Saturday night dance in the auditorium afterwards.

TWICE THE VALUE

Doctor to Mrs. Jones (who he met on the street) — How's your husband getting along? Did you give him the sleeping powder I told you?

Mrs. Jones — Yes, you told me to give him the contents of the envelope. I didn't know it came in two packages, so I gave him one each day and one at a time. I think he's better now.
