Midgets Only Team To Survive Playoff Rest in Consolation

Living up to coach Ilio Marzio's expectations Acton's hard driving Midgets tied their best-of-three Tri-County playoff series with Orangeville, here, Thursday, with a convincing 3-1 victory. They were the only Acton team to survive the Tri-County eliminations.

The Pee Wees lost a 2-1 heartbreaker to Orangeville, Hespeler shut out Acton Bantams for the second time with a 4-0 victory and Fergus Juveniles took their second straight win from their Acton counterparts by a 4-2 score.

All three Acton teams who were ousted Thursday will now compete in a consolation series, however, assuring the many players involved more hockey. The Pee Wees will contest a home and home, total-point series with Brampton, the Bantams will lock up in a round robin with Orangeville, Oakville and Georgetown. It will consist of home-and-home games, points to count, and started last night, here, with Oakville.

Acton Juveniles will also enter a consolation series with Orangeville and Oakville, home-and-home, total-point round robin.

The local midgets were much the superior team on Thursday despite a string of penalties. Jan Riddall paced them to the win by drilling two of their goals as Orangeville was the first game at home 7-1.

Despite a much better effort from the Bantams, Hespeler, a perennial winner in the series, successfully blanked the Acton kids a second time. The loss put the Harold Townsley Herb Dadds section on the shell.

The Juveniles took the lead from Ferrus in the first period but saw it dwindle and the visitors take a 4-2 triumph home Fergus won the first game 2-1. Gary Masales and Ruddy Holmes each scored a goal for Acton.

McKenzie Team Bonsel Third

Rev. A. H. McKenzie skipped his team of Acton curlers to third place in a 32-team bonspiel Monday in Mount Forest when they were only two points below the winners. Each player received an end table as his prize.

Three teams from the Acton club entered the bonspiel. Other skips were Cliff Bradley and Mick Holmes. Both Mr. Bradley and Mr. Holmes won one out of three games during the day's play.

Players were interested to see the new $60,000 curling rink opened last November in the fair grounds and were pleased with the layout of the building.

The winning Acton team placed first in its draw for the day winning three out of three games. The third game was against a United Church minister's team. They lost first and second spot when total points were tallied.

Teams entered were Mr. McKenzie with Gord Cooper, Dave Manes and John Goy; Mr. Holmes with Bill Coon, Tom Watson and Fred Gordon; Mr. Bradley with Len Lovell, Vic Patrick and John Lovell.
