POET'S CORNER

GOD'S LITTLE ISLAND

In the heart of the ocean,
The Lord chose to set it,
And colored it rich in a beautiful green,
With the white of the breakers
Which ever surround it,
Most beautiful island that I've ever seen.

Its round towers and castles
Still bright in their grandeur,
Against the green mountains that slope to the sea,
Lush valleys with stony rocks,
That carpet its beauty,
And make it so perfect and lovely to me.

I love thee, dear Ireland,
My heart ever with thee,
Thy hills and thy valleys from woodland to shore,
And I'll spend my life wishing
And live my life waiting,
Till I can return to my Ireland
once more.

ENGINEERS' ACT

The Hon. George Kerr's report from Queen's Park (Action Free Press, March 5th) contained several errors and on the face of it appears to be an attempt to whitewash an otherwise poor legislation. The Operating Engineers' Association of Ontario, through the Government and places the Engineers under a committee, who could be easily swayed by people with vested interests. In other words, this committee could run that some plants, hospitals, or schools could be run without human supervision. The Hon. Member points out that a special committee studied this problem and felt that technological advancement supported the proposed amendment.

EFFICIENT

In Tennessee, lightning struck a cow barn, set it on fire. The bolt travelled along a pipe to a water tank on a nearby hill and burst the tank open. The water ran down hill and put the fire out. They don't have to put out the fire.
