

Rural Route

On Letters to the Editor...

It is always gratifying to receive letters to the editor on any subject. One of the functions of a newspaper is to provide its readership a forum through which a writer's views and opinions can be made known. Subjects for a letter can be any subject of interest to our readers. It is not a requirement that these letters be related to a subject covered in our news columns. The letters do not have to be complimentary to either the newspaper or support the newspaper's editorial position.

One requirement we insist upon is that the letter be signed by the writer. A writer may use a nom de plume for publication in the paper but the original letter must be signed. We accept nom de plumes when the publication of the letter, in the opinion of the writer, might possibly result in either personal or economic reprisal. It is our policy not to accept, for publication, in whole or in part, any letter in which the professional ability or personal attributes of a third party are questioned or maligned. Verification of the authorship of any letter may be confirmed before publication.

This week we are carrying several letters to the editor on subjects currently of interest to readers. One letter deals with the adoption of a "new" Canadian flag. Before this issue of the Free Press reaches its readers, legislation will, in all likelihood, have been introduced by the government and possibly been accepted. The subject of a new municipal building in Nassagaweya is discussed in another letter which is of interest to many in that township.

A letter from the secretary of Georgetown District High School board outlines its policy and the courses available at that school. This letter sheds some very illuminating information which will be of more than passing interest to parents of many high school students on the courses available.

The letter from the chairman of the Acton High School board expresses his opinion on our editorial and our handling of the reports of high school proceedings.

$8,000 Million Pension Fund

Ottawa's Canada Pension Plan may make available to the provinces more than $8,000 million for investment by 1975, according to the latest estimates of some private actuaries, says Neville Nankivell in The Financial Post. If the funds do, in fact, build to this size, they will have a much greater impact on Canada's financial markets than has so far been generally appreciated, even in professional circles.

How much is $8,000 million? It is about equal to total foreign investment in Canadian manufacturing, oil and gas, mining and public utilities. It is enough to buy a new car for half the families in Canada (assuming the price of about $3,000 per car). It is one half of the total money supply in Canada today. It is more than enough to pay off

In our opinion our editorial of last week did not, and certainly did not attempt to, attack the personal integrity of the chairman. We did dispute and continue to dispute the contention that news coverage of high school board meetings is not accurate.

The Free Press does not report as news any public meeting verbatim and in this sense our news reports may be considered out of context. We do not hold that we have reached the sublime state of infallibility. When we do make a mistake we stand ready to make any correction deemed advisable. Nor do we believe that many other people have reached the heights of infallibility.

As a newspaper, we neither claim nor expect any special privileges or powers over any persons or bodies. What we do claim is that taxpayers and the public generally have a right to knowledge of the activities, procedures, decisions and operations of every public body, either elected or appointed.

This newspaper, as a responsible member of this community, will not attempt to dictate to the elected or appointed public bodies. What we will continue to do is to keep informed the taxpayers and public of the activities and decisions of their public servants. We will continue to write editorials and express our opinions as situations warrant on any subject of local significance.

We, too, are happy that some good has come from the meeting of last Wednesday. We think an early study of the possibilities for inclusion of facilities for a two-year diversified occupations course at Acton, and the only course presently closed to Acton students at Georgetown could be incorporated in the present building expansion program. We have enquired and learned it could be done but action would have to be initiated immediately. The interpretation of a diversified occupations course that we have been given is a course to give two years' education at high school level for grade eight failures.

all the mortgages held by the leading life, trust and mortgage companies in Canada.

Under the latest version of the Canada Pension Plan, expected to go into operation January 1, 1966, the provinces will control investments of that money that accumulates as the plan develops. Many observers believe this will lead to big changes in provincial and municipal borrowing patterns. However, there are still some strong objections to the plan in its present form among many pension authorities and financial men. Their objections vary; but on balance the most frequent and most serious opposition arises from the prospect of putting such huge sums ($8,000 million by 1975) into the hands of the politicians. It could become a vote-buying funds unequalled in history.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

20 YEARS AGO

Taken from the issue of the Free Press, Thursday, May 18, 1944.

It took some heavy work in the last few days to put the Sixth Victory Loan over the top in Acton and district and it was not until Monday night that the objective of $225,000 was in at headquarters. The blitz bomb announcing the victory at the local front went off at 7:16 p.m. Monday.

The closest estimate to the time was Miss Olga Dwyer, just two minutes out. Second closest was Miss Betty Burkholder. They were presented with War Saving Certificates by W. J. Beatty of the Victory Loan Committee. Other close estimates were by John Wilson, Mrs. Florence Ross, Nino Brada, C. Cook and Miss Marguerite Ryder.

Another of the brief messages starting "Regret to report..." brought sorrow to homes in Milton and Acton yesterday, when word was received that Sgt. Air Gunner Gordon Keith McEellan was killed on active service. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. G. McEellan.

Following the death of the late Chester Matthews, Miss Fern Brown, who has been assistant postmaster for a number of years here, has been made acting postmistress.

Word has been received from Pte. Wm. H. Thompson of his safe arrival overseas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson.

No holiday in Acton for the 24th of May.

Died: Joseph Henry Denny, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. Thomas Hutchinson of Rockwood.

Knox church choir provided the program and the Ladies' Aid a supper for a congregational get-together when a Bachelor of Divinity hood was presented to Rev. Forbes Thomson, B.A., B.D., who had the degree conferred on him recently at Convocation at Knox College.

Miss Isabel Anderson read an original address and Mr. Alex Mann made the presentation. George Muselle presented Mrs. Thomson with a bouquet of snapdragons. George Muselle and Ted Hansen sang a couple of solos and Ted played piano solos. Charles Kirkness gave a reading and the men of the choir sang.

50 YEARS AGO

Taken from the issue of the Free Press, Thursday, May 31, 1914.

Steel rails for the Toronto St. Huban electric railway have arrived here and are unloaded in the G.T.R.

Physical culture is now being taught in the schools. The youngsters take to the new feature very kindly.

Mr. T. F. Martin is preparing the foundation for a new brick residence at the corner of Church and Elgin Sts.

Complaints are made of ruthless depredations by children in the old cemetery at the rear of Main St. Tombstones have been smashed beyond repair. A fire was started in the grass the other day. Surely council could give this hallowed property some supervision.

Ever since the meeting of the Directors of Acton Fall Fair last fall, after the very successful show of 1913, efforts have been put forth to secure for the late status of the various other Fall Fairs which enjoy government recognition and the very desirable grants. Difficulties have been overcome and a clause inserted in the bill declaring Acton Fall Fair an agricultural society.

Last Sunday was International Peace Sunday. Sympathetic references to the theme were made in various churches.

The Queen's birthday concert will be held in the town hall on Monday. The town will be thronged.

Patterson's meat shop will be closed every evening except Friday and Saturday at 7 o'clock.

The framework for Mrs. Robert Johnson's new house on Knox Ave. is up. The foundations for Mrs. Bell's new house on Knox are excavated.

A few minutes before two on Monday morning, the fire bell rang its thunderous alarm. The roughest store and dwelling of Morris Saxe, Jewish merchant, at the corner of Mill and Willow Sts. was on fire and the flames had ignited the roof and front of the Matthews' building occupied by Noble's flour and feed store and the Oddfellows' Hall.

NEWS FROM AROUND THE DISTRICT

GEORGETOWN — Mayor Gibbons has issued a challenge to councillors Emmerson and Powers to oppose him in the mayoralty race in December, following heated discussions at a recent meeting. "If you think my conducting of meetings has been below par, I'll be in the field this fall and the gate is open to you, Councillor Powers and anyone else," he told Councillor Emmerson. The incident occurred during a discussion about an administration committee meeting in which agreement had been reached with the employees' union. While the mayor is committee chairman, the meeting had been chaired by Councillor Powers.

CHINGUACOUSY — An agreement concerning water rights was signed by Brampton Mayor Russell Prouse and Clerk-Treasurer Jack Galway in Chinguacousy Township municipal offices recently. The agreement states that wells developed after 1959 in the area would be owned by the Ontario Water Resources Commission and would be administered by the OWRC. "This agreement includes the recently drilled Huttonville well," said Mayor Prouse. The Huttonville well has been the centre of considerable controversy in the past two months, when farmers in the Huttonville area complained that a Brampton well needed water from the area.

BURLINGTON — Towers Store has thrown down the gauntlet to challenge the Uniform Store Hours by-law passed by Burlington council recently. The large Towers store in the Aldershot area of Burlington is remaining open until 10 p.m. in defiance of the by-law. A store spokesman reported that his store has made this move because of the opening of others in Hamilton. A spokesman for the Uniform Store Hours by-law stated that the matter is now completely in the hands of the police authorities.

MILTON — April Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilson of Anne Blvd., Milton, is getting a head start on growing her baby teeth. She was born at South Peel Hospital on April 10 and on April 12 she cut her first tooth at the age of two days! And now only 48 days old, she's working on her second tooth and it's coming in right beside the first.

Our Readers Write

GEORGETOWN H. S.

Dear Sir: I respectfully request permission to speak through your fine paper to the people of Acton in regard to admission of Acton District High School students to Georgetown District High School. I refer to statements made in reference to this item in issues of the Acton Free Press on Thursday, May 14, 1964 and Thursday, May 21, 1964. In each of these issues, the inference seems to be that Georgetown District High School Board refuses to accept Acton District High School students.

I beg to inform the people of Acton High School District that Application Forms are available at the Board Office, 70 Guelph Street, Georgetown, for Acton High School District students wishing to enroll for the 1964-65 term in the following courses: 5 year business and commerce branch, 4 year business and commerce branch, 5 year science, technology and trades branch, 4 year science, technology and trades branch. Several students from Acton

High School District are currently enrolled in Vocational courses at Georgetown District High School. Enrollment in Diversified Occupations for boys has been such that it has been necessary to restrict enrolment to Georgetown students.

The reference to Acton taxpayers helping to foot the bill by directly contributing to the cost of construction of the vocational wing is poorly taken. The overall cost of construction and equipment of this project was close to one million, three hundred thousand dollars. The Government of Canada, in conjunction with the Government of Ontario, arranged for grants on the cost of construction and equipment. These grants amounted to approximately $1,250,000.

The municipalities of the Town of Georgetown and the Township of Esqueving were required to issue debentures in the amount of $41,000. Payments of interest and principal on these debentures are made by the taxpayers in the Georgetown High School District. Taxpayers in Acton High School District are not taxed for payments on these debentures.

Sugar and Spice...

BY BILL EMLEY

What this country needs is a good, innocent civil war. It might relieve some of the pus and venom that seems to be filling Canadians these days, and get them back to the important things of life, like making money, love and rock gardens.

Symptoms of the national ulcer are everywhere: the ferocity of the Canadian flag, the lurking threat of violence in Quebec, the growing defiance of police by youth gangs, the increase in homicidal tactics on our highways.

Perhaps a little bloodletting would purge our native land of this tendency to quibble and squabble about everything from the national anthem to the water level in the Great Lakes.

There is also the matter of international prestige. All the big boys—England, France, Russia, the U.S., China—have been through an all-out civil war, and grow on to greater things. In each case the country was so whacked out by the end of the war that every body stopped buckering and complaining and got down to the job of becoming a Great Nation.

How can we hope to gain respect of the world if we never go through a testing time of seething hatred, unmitigated cruelty, pallant guerrillas, and all the other ingredients of a good civil war?

How is our national character to be transformed from lumpy porridge to forged steel if we never throw a Molotov cocktail, blow up a bridge, or hurt ourselves, barbed, against tanks?

We should be ashamed of our selves. Mumbling and grumbling about the C.B. and the N.D.P. and the Red Ensign and O Canada and what's for supper, when we could be stringing up cabinet ministers, dynamiting the Soo locks, and sacking the Okeefe Centre.

The Irish had a rebellion nearly 50 years ago. It lasted a few days but they've written countless books about it, and every Irishman over the age of 20 swears he was in it, though he'll admit he was only a truth of a boy at the time. Why can't we have some grand traditions like that?

Think of the stories we'd have to hand down to our ancestors. "Yes, Homer, your granddaddy was there, back in '64 when the Legion engaged about the flag, marched on Ottawa Mayor Charlotte Whitton showed them for a moment at the ramparts with a trade of invective, but nothing could stop them. They swarmed into the city, surrounded the government buildings, and fired a salvo of resolutions. One of these happened to pierce the National Debt and the streets ran red with ink."

Or "Yes, dear, I want you always to remember, and tell your own children, that your father was one of the brave freedom fighters in the Great Ring of '64. He was leading a wave of our gallant lads in a last, uh, liberating attack on the Seagram distilleries, a capitalist stronghold. He was cut down by the fascist fire hoses and seriously wounded in the uh, lower back when he fell headlong on the micky in his hip pocket."

Only one stipulation. If this necessary catharsis, this national lancing of our abscess, breaks out and it's brother against brother, father against son, may I be on the same side as my wife?

Let's Play Bridge
By Bill Costa

This will be the last regular column until next September. The Acton Bridge Club had the last meeting of the season on Monday night. Our second year and our first as an A.C.B.L. affiliate was very successful. My only wish is that more Actonites would take part in the club.

For the last hand of the season, I would like to present one that took place during the Christmas holidays. I was partnered with my wife and we were North-South. The dealer was South and neither side was vulnerable.

West opened the spade deuce, which was rather obvious to a singleton. In fact, since it is a singleton, South has a play for the contract. It involves what is called a strip and end play.

South with the lead in dummy with the ace and enters his hand with a club. Queen of diamonds is led and a successful trump finesse is made. After the opponent's trump has been revealed, all South needs to do is to take out clubs, pitching a heart from dummy on the third one. Towards the ace of hearts, followed by a low heart, presents West with the lead just at a time when he does not want it.

West has nothing but hearts left and must present South with a ruff in dummy and a sluff of a spade from hand.

If West had had a doubleton spade, South could affect the same end play by ducking one round of spades and then taking the ace before presenting West with the lead. In planning your play, when you must lose a trick, lose it at a time when you want to and if possible, to the opponent who cannot do you any harm.

Any bridge players who can visit Toronto during the last week of July should make every effort to see the Summer Nationals at the Royal York Hotel. Top bridge players from all over North America will be there. If I get an opportunity, I will report some of the activities in this paper.

Early in 1961, details of the proposed Federal-Provincial Training program were related to the general public. Georgetown District High School Board promptly applied for permission to participate and were among the first boards to receive approval. Enrolment at Georgetown District High School at that time was less than 600.

In summary, may I, on behalf of Georgetown District High School Board, extend cordial wishes for future co-operation between all concerned in matters pertaining to students of Acton and Georgetown High School Districts.

Yours very truly,
Georgetown District High School Board,
Ernest Forgrave,
Secretary-Treasurer.

war, and grow on to greater things. In each case the country was so whacked out by the end of the war that every body stopped buckering and complaining and got down to the job of becoming a Great Nation.

How can we hope to gain respect of the world if we never go through a testing time of seething hatred, unmitigated cruelty, pallant guerrillas, and all the other ingredients of a good civil war?

How is our national character to be transformed from lumpy porridge to forged steel if we never throw a Molotov cocktail, blow up a bridge, or hurt ourselves, barbed, against tanks?

We should be ashamed of our selves. Mumbling and grumbling about the C.B. and the N.D.P. and the Red Ensign and O Canada and what's for supper, when we could be stringing up cabinet ministers, dynamiting the Soo locks, and sacking the Okeefe Centre.

The Irish had a rebellion nearly 50 years ago. It lasted a few days but they've written countless books about it, and every Irishman over the age of 20 swears he was in it, though he'll admit he was only a truth of a boy at the time. Why can't we have some grand traditions like that?

Think of the stories we'd have to hand down to our ancestors. "Yes, Homer, your granddaddy was there, back in '64 when the Legion engaged about the flag, marched on Ottawa Mayor Charlotte Whitton showed them for a moment at the ramparts with a trade of invective, but nothing could stop them. They swarmed into the city, surrounded the government buildings, and fired a salvo of resolutions. One of these happened to pierce the National Debt and the streets ran red with ink."

Or "Yes, dear, I want you always to remember, and tell your own children, that your father was one of the brave freedom fighters in the Great Ring of '64. He was leading a wave of our gallant lads in a last, uh, liberating attack on the Seagram distilleries, a capitalist stronghold. He was cut down by the fascist fire hoses and seriously wounded in the uh, lower back when he fell headlong on the micky in his hip pocket."

Only one stipulation. If this necessary catharsis, this national lancing of our abscess, breaks out and it's brother against brother, father against son, may I be on the same side as my wife?

Let's Play Bridge
By Bill Costa

This will be the last regular column until next September. The Acton Bridge Club had the last meeting of the season on Monday night. Our second year and our first as an A.C.B.L. affiliate was very successful. My only wish is that more Actonites would take part in the club.

For the last hand of the season, I would like to present one that took place during the Christmas holidays. I was partnered with my wife and we were North-South. The dealer was South and neither side was vulnerable.

West opened the spade deuce, which was rather obvious to a singleton. In fact, since it is a singleton, South has a play for the contract. It involves what is called a strip and end play.

South with the lead in dummy with the ace and enters his hand with a club. Queen of diamonds is led and a successful trump finesse is made. After the opponent's trump has been revealed, all South needs to do is to take out clubs, pitching a heart from dummy on the third one. Towards the ace of hearts, followed by a low heart, presents West with the lead just at a time when he does not want it.

West has nothing but hearts left and must present South with a ruff in dummy and a sluff of a spade from hand.

If West had had a doubleton spade, South could affect the same end play by ducking one round of spades and then taking the ace before presenting West with the lead. In planning your play, when you must lose a trick, lose it at a time when you want to and if possible, to the opponent who cannot do you any harm.

Any bridge players who can visit Toronto during the last week of July should make every effort to see the Summer Nationals at the Royal York Hotel. Top bridge players from all over North America will be there. If I get an opportunity, I will report some of the activities in this paper.

Early in 1961, details of the proposed Federal-Provincial Training program were related to the general public. Georgetown District High School Board promptly applied for permission to participate and were among the first boards to receive approval. Enrolment at Georgetown District High School at that time was less than 600.

In summary, may I, on behalf of Georgetown District High School Board, extend cordial wishes for future co-operation between all concerned in matters pertaining to students of Acton and Georgetown High School Districts.

Yours very truly,
Georgetown District High School Board,
Ernest Forgrave,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Let's Play Bridge
By Bill Costa

This will be the last regular column until next September. The Acton Bridge Club had the last meeting of the season on Monday night. Our second year and our first as an A.C.B.L. affiliate was very successful. My only wish is that more Actonites would take part in the club.

For the last hand of the season, I would like to present one that took place during the Christmas holidays. I was partnered with my wife and we were North-South. The dealer was South and neither side was vulnerable.

West opened the spade deuce, which was rather obvious to a singleton. In fact, since it is a singleton, South has a play for the contract. It involves what is called a strip and end play.

Think of the stories we'd have to hand down to our ancestors. "Yes, Homer, your granddaddy was there, back in '64 when the Legion engaged about the flag, marched on Ottawa Mayor Charlotte Whitton showed them for a moment at the ramparts with a trade of invective, but nothing could stop them. They swarmed into the city, surrounded the government buildings, and fired a salvo of resolutions. One of these happened to pierce the National Debt and the streets ran red with ink."

Or "Yes, dear, I want you always to remember, and tell your own children, that your father was one of the brave freedom fighters in the Great Ring of '64. He was leading a wave of our gallant lads in a last, uh, liberating attack on the Seagram distilleries, a capitalist stronghold. He was cut down by the fascist fire hoses and seriously wounded in the uh, lower back when he fell headlong on the micky in his hip pocket."

Only one stipulation. If this necessary catharsis, this national lancing of our abscess, breaks out and it's brother against brother, father against son, may I be on the same side as my wife?

Let's Play Bridge
By Bill Costa

This will be the last regular column until next September. The Acton Bridge Club had the last meeting of the season on Monday night. Our second year and our first as an A.C.B.L. affiliate was very successful. My only wish is that more Actonites would take part in the club.

For the last hand of the season, I would like to present one that took place during the Christmas holidays. I was partnered with my wife and we were North-South. The dealer was South and neither side was vulnerable.

West opened the spade deuce, which was rather obvious to a singleton. In fact, since it is a singleton, South has a play for the contract. It involves what is called a strip and end play.

South with the lead in dummy with the ace and enters his hand with a club. Queen of diamonds is led and a successful trump finesse is made. After the opponent's trump has been revealed, all South needs to do is to take out clubs, pitching a heart from dummy on the third one. Towards the ace of hearts, followed by a low heart, presents West with the lead just at a time when he does not want it.

West has nothing but hearts left and must present South with a ruff in dummy and a sluff of a spade from hand.

If West had had a doubleton spade, South could affect the same end play by ducking one round of spades and then taking the ace before presenting West with the lead. In planning your play, when you must lose a trick, lose it at a time when you want to and if possible, to the opponent who cannot do you any harm.

Any bridge players who can visit Toronto during the last week of July should make every effort to see the Summer Nationals at the Royal York Hotel. Top bridge players from all over North America will be there. If I get an opportunity, I will report some of the activities in this paper.

Early in 1961, details of the proposed Federal-Provincial Training program were related to the general public. Georgetown District High School Board promptly applied for permission to participate and were among the first boards to receive approval. Enrolment at Georgetown District High School at that time was less than 600.

In summary, may I, on behalf of Georgetown District High School Board, extend cordial wishes for future co-operation between all concerned in matters pertaining to students of Acton and Georgetown High School Districts.

Yours very truly,
Georgetown District High School Board,
Ernest Forgrave,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Let's Play Bridge
By Bill Costa

This will be the last regular column until next September. The Acton Bridge Club had the last meeting of the season on Monday night. Our second year and our first as an A.C.B.L. affiliate was very successful. My only wish is that more Actonites would take part in the club.

For the last hand of the season, I would like to present one that took place during the Christmas holidays. I was partnered with my wife and we were North-South. The dealer was South and neither side was vulnerable.

West opened the spade deuce, which was rather obvious to a singleton. In fact, since it is a singleton, South has a play for the contract. It involves what is called a strip and end play.

South with the lead in dummy with the ace and enters his hand with a club. Queen of diamonds is led and a successful trump finesse is made. After the opponent's trump has been revealed, all South needs to do is to take out clubs, pitching a heart from dummy on the third one. Towards the ace of hearts, followed by a low heart, presents West with the lead just at a time when he does not want it.

West has nothing but hearts left and must present South with a ruff in dummy and a sluff of a spade from hand.

The Acton Free Press

Published by the Dills Printing and Publishing Co. Ltd.
Founded in 1875 and published every Thursday at 59
Willow St., Acton, Ontario. Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, the C.W.N.A.—and the Ontario-Quebec
Division of the C.W.N.A. Advertising rates on request.
Subscriptions payable in advance. $3.00 in Canada; $4.00
in England and other Commonwealth Countries; $5.00
in the United States and other Foreign Countries;
single copies 7c. Authorized as Second Class Mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa.

The only paper ever published in Acton
G. A. Dills, Editor-in-Chief
David R. Dills, Managing Editor

BUSINESS AND EDITORIAL OFFICE PHONE 853-2010

PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY AND TRAVELLERS' GUIDE

MEDICAL

DR. D. A. GARRETT
Physician and Surgeon
Corner of Willow and River Sts.,
Entrance River St.,
Acton, Ont.
Phone 853-0141

DR. ROBERT D. BUCKNER
Physician and Surgeon
39 Wellington St., Acton, Ont.
Phone 853-1240

DR. T. B. MOORE
Physician and Surgeon
2 Main Street North
Corner Main and Mill Street
Acton, Ontario
Phone 853-2180

DENTAL

DR. H. LEIB
Dental Surgeon
Office — Corner Mill and
Frederick Streets
Office Hours by Appointment
Telephone 853-0610

DR. A. J. BUCHANAN
Dental Surgeon
Office — 90 Church St. E.
Office Hours — 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Closed Wednesday afternoon
Telephone 853-1750

DR. CEDRIC DEY
Dental Surgeon
Suite No. 3, Hinton Bldg.
17A Mill St. E., Acton, Ont.
For Appointment
Telephone 853-1300

LEGAL

C. F. LEATHERLAND, G.C.
Barrister and Solicitor
Notary Public
Office Hours: 10 a.m. - 12 p.m.,
1 p.m. - 5 p.m.
Saturdays by Appointment only
Phone
Office 853-1330 - Res. 853-1745
Acton

A. BRAIDA, B.A.
Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public
Office Hours in Acton
Monday - Friday evenings
6 p.m. - 9 p.m.
Saturday 1 p.m. - 5 p.m.
28 Paisley St., Guelph, Ontario
Phone TA 4-2242
Office Hours in Guelph
Saturday 9 a.m. - 12 a.m.
Daily 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

KAPLAN & ORD
Barristers and Solicitors
Sidney Kaplan and
John D. Ord, O.C.
116 Mountainview Road S.
Carretal Building, Georgetown
877-6956

CHIROPRACTOR

DAVID W. GOHN, D.C.
31 Young Street
Corner of Arthur & Young Sts.
Office Hours by Appointment

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Dumley
Shoemaker

Phone 853-0150 night or day
Bruce E. Shoemaker, Mgr.

OPTOMETRISTS

E. L. BUCHNER, O.D.
Optometrist
6 John St. S., Acton
In Acton Wednesdays only
2:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m.
For appointment, phone 853-1041
If no answer, phone Waterloo
742-8867

ARTHUR A. JOHNSON
184 Main St., Milton
Phone TR 8-9972 Res. TR 8-9678
Tuesday Afternoons
Thursday Evenings
Friday Mornings

APPRAISING AND INSURANCE

F. L. WRIGHT
20 Wilbur St.
Acton, Ontario
Phone 853-0720
Appraiser and Insured
Over 50 Years in Acton

ARCHITECT

DONALD E. SKINNER
B.Arch. — M.R.A.I.C