

THE INPORTECTION Frank Daloy hit a birdie, first hit this dark we immediately conjured up visions of pipe-amoking Frank sinking a solf shot. Then someone volunteered the information is happened during a softball game. It punded me. What was Frank doing with a golf club in the mushball game. Ordinarily he's a pitcher, one of the best in these parts.

Gradually it beans to sink in. Frank didn't hit the birdle with a club. He was pitching for Pirefighters. One of those streamlined swallow jobs which fill around at dusk, zoomed in for a reconnaissance flight just as Duley threw his cannonball pitch.

In one of those rure moments when fate and flight meet, the pitch hit the bird and it was bye, bye birdle. The bird expired. The ball, of real velocity, kept going and the batter clobbered it for three bases.

Umplees aren't usually called on to make smap decisions of this nature but Jack Bullough, prepared for eventualities of this sort, ruled the ball dead. "What fer," Station Hotelers wanted to know. "The ball hit the bird," said Jack.

When the ball hits the bird, said the ump, the ball is dead. So was the bird but it was forgotten in the ensuing check-to-jowl discussion which found the ump right as usual. The innkeepers gave him the hird to no avail. The decision stood.

It all goes to prove the rule makers will never be able to cover all the fresh accurrences in a hall game. Only hope all the plichers den't try the bird stant. We don't want doing the Bbbbblllrrdddd!

CLAYTON (Dude) LINDSAY, who in his chequered career as a coach has handled such entities as the Firefighters' softhall squad, Acton Intermediate basebull teams as well as having his finger in several minor team pics, began another facet in this role this week. Dude finally consented to coach Georgetown Giants of the Halton County Baseball Association's intermediate series. He replaces Mike Lurusso who started the season off with the winless Giants, who like the joby giant on the can, are pretty green,

This is not the first time in his sports career Dude has donned Georgetown livery. At one time when he toiled in the old Toronto industrial teague with Donnel-Mudge, Duck, along with several other players, played intermediate backey for Georgetown.

So he's a familiar figure in those parts. He'll be doubly fam-Iliar this season because his two sons Jim and Don are regulars on the Georgetown squad, a factor which probably influenced Dude to take the job. Elder son Jim is a pretty fair southpaw hurler as well as being proficient in the outfield. Don's a catcher and pretty good too, thank you.

It will be a long pull for Bude to put the team back in the win column, but if his success with the Pirefighters in the local softball circuit is may exteriou, it's likely he'll make a contender out of the Glanic. Pitching's one position he'll have trouble filling. Outside of Bernle Dore, who's the workhorse of the Glants. he been't a good righthander in sight. And the Hallon league has always been a pitcher's circuit.

ACTON HIGH'S THREE REPRESENTATIVES in the secondary school provincial track and field competitions in Waterloo Saturday didn't bring home any trophics, but rang up an enviable record against top competitors from all over Ontario. The Acton boys, John Gov Jr., Dave Ryder and Allan Hall, all winners in the SCATES JITTETY C.W.O.S.S.A. "A" meet recently, competed in the pole vault, shot put and track events, respectively.

John Goy vaulted over the bar to a height of 12 feet and salvaged a win in a contest their mound staff. came in fourth in the intermediate division pole vault from a field which looked like a run-away representing the best in the province.

time, Dave Ryder ended up fifth with a heave - over 44 feet in town softball league action. the junior shot put competition. Allan Hall, who set a new track record in the C.W.O.S.S.A. meet In Guelph wound up 13th in the only track event he entered in intermediate competition. There were over 800 entries in the big meet from the largest first batter but an error put mer into right field with the high schools in Ontario. Many of the competitors had been coached by some of the best conches in the province, including Lloyd Percival of Sports College, Considering the Acton boys relied mainly on their own resources, they did exceptionally well in Saturday's events.

MEAT BITS . . . Two Acton players with the Georgetown mid get club in the Halton County Baseball Association are heading up the club's sluggers. Jan Riddall with two hits in three trips has a .666 average while Philip Marzo has seven safeties in 13 times at hat for a fine 530 average. Despite the high averages the papertowners now known as the White Sox, lost a 42 10-inning struggle Sunday to Burlington Speaking of long hall games, how about the 23 inning struggle the New York Mets lost to the San Francisco Giants. It is equal to 215 hall games, all for the price of one admission . Over 125 boys registered for minor league ball in Acton at the two registration sessions. Thirty girls also signed up for softhall. The Legion minor sports committee and the Acton softball association are collaborating in sponsoring the program . . . Fifty-three-year-old Bungy Ward, well-known athlete from Georgetown, is playing for the Domtar entry in the Acton Softball Association. He walloped Postpone Three two triples Sunday against Dominion Hotel as his team lost 11-6 . Former Actonian Bill Somerville is also playing for Domtar, behind the plate.
