BALLINAFAD

Seventh Line Hardtopped

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Givens are on a plane trip to Holland and other parts.

The community was shocked to hear of the sudden passing of Mrs. Cliff Grace who passed away in Toronto Hospital. Funeral was held on Monday from McClure's Funeral Parlors.

Good Road

The seventh line has had hard top put on and is a pretty nice road for traffic.

A number in the community were pleased to be back to work at Smith and Stone's since the strike is over.

Minister Leaving Congratulations to Mr. Fleming who was ordained at Orlia last week. Rev. Mr. Fleming will be leaving Ballinafad charge in the near future.

The regular church was held in Ballinafad Hall May 26. High scores were Mrs. Clare Wilson, Miss Margaret Binnie, Mr. Lionel Watson, Mr. Frank Smith. Plan to attend the next one.

Awning Fire

Acton firefighters made the fastest run this year last Thursday night. When the siren sounded, firefighters hopped on the firetruck to go to a downtown store where a fire was reported. When they arrived, businessman Jack McMullen had already doused the blaze in an awning at A.B. Supermarket with a pail of water. It is believed a careless smoker tossed away a cigarette butt.

HIGH SCHOOL students from grades nine and 10 fashioned their wearing apparel Thursday of last week during the Home Economics fashion show. Standing on the stairway front to back are Marlene Heister wearing a red tailored blouse and slacks; Anne McCabe with pedal pushers and overblouse; Anne Shorill, with shorts and blouse; and Lois Kirkwood wearing short shorts and pop top.

EBENEZER

Large Congregation Hears Rev. Leoman

(Intended for last week)

An unusually large congregation greeted Rev. W. Leoman at Ebenezer on Sunday morning. He continued his series on "How to Discover God," basing his sermon on the fourth chapter of Second Timothy. The adults also find Mr. Leoman's children's stories helpful. If you are a crowd, you may be able to fool people into thinking you are a pigeon. But when you open your mouth, you give yourself away.

"Work shall be prayer, if all be wrought. As Thou would have it done; And prayer, by Thee inspired and taught, itself with work be one."

Y.P.U. Twenty young people attended the Y.P.U. meeting Sunday evening.
