Letter from India

Rudds Given Mission Field Lessons, Preaching Progress

Dear Friends:
It is June, and while the temperature stands at a sizzling 115 (or thereabouts) in Pithapuram, we are enjoying cool intermittent rains and warm sunshine during the day and blazing hearth fires and plenty of blankets at night. We were told that India is a land of contrasts, and now we're proving it.

Every time we have begun to write a letter we have done so with hesitation because it seems as if we have one constant monotonous theme to tell of, namely, language study. So it's with some reticence that we again mention that we are still hard at it. Here in Ooty, where students have taken turns preaching in Telugu every Sunday afternoon. We can testify that we can sense your prayers on our behalf and ask you for your continuance.

Baby Boy

We're still rejoicing in the birth of Peter John, though he is now three months old. He's a sweet boy with dark curly hair, blue eyes and a big smile for every one. He was born on March 20 in Pithapuram Hospital and has been growing steadily since. In early 1964 Jim went to Madras for the Evangelical Fellowship of India Annual Conference. To this conference people came from long distances — some from as far as the Himalayas. The main speaker was Rev. Gilbert Kirby, General Secretary of the World Evangelical Fellowship. His messages (two a day) were translated into Tamil for the sake of the local delegates. They were simply expressed but profound and inspiring in meaning. Many facets of missionary endeavor were presented including gospel recordings, literature production and distribution. It was a very helpful conference and will not soon be forgotten.

On the return from Madras Jim stopped at Akividu for the annual Baptist Convention. We listened to many of the sessions and managed to pick up the gist of what was said by the various secretaries. This was a gratifying experience. But meeting pastors and Convention officers and talking with them about their work and aspirations proved to be the greatest blessing.

Informer of Field

In February we were quite surprised to receive tentative word from the Convention Allocation Committee re allocation. Details indicate that we are to be in charge of both the Tekkali and Srikakulam fields. When we return to Pithapuram in July we are to be part-time workers in evangelism until we move north to Srikakulam in November. We are glad to know where we will be working during our first term.

The knowledge of our allocation prompted Jim to take a short trip north to the Bobbili and Srikakulam fields just before coming to the hills. There are many things we could tell you about that experience, but space will permit only one. Jim was driven by Mr. Matheson to within three miles of a church on Palkendo Field. From that distance he walked to the village of Koppara with several Christians of that village.

After seeing the new church building there and enjoying Christian hospitality the story was told on the return journey of the martyrdom of two men in Koppara. One caste man because he persisted in giving strong witness unto Christ in the midst of his family was gradually poisoned to death by his own son. The Koppara church is a strong church. It is that by reason of the witness of that Christian martyr and others like him. Here was a 20th century illustration of our early-century adage "The blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church".

Teacher III

We were stunned to hear after only one week's stay in Ooty of the sudden illness of our teacher Mr. Jagannadham. It was he who was largely responsible for our

Centennial Trip to New Brunswick For Ontario High School Students

Chosen to go from Acton High school on a pilot program of exchange, as a consolation project, Russell Marshall went to New Brunswick with a group. Others went out west. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maxwell, he goes into grade 12 in the fall. His account of the trip follows.

On Tuesday, June 30, at 11 p.m. I arrived at Union station in Toronto where I met the group and our chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Maxwell of Hamilton. The group consisted of 13 girls, 11 boys and the two chaperones. All the students came from south-

Pastor A. Silvester of Evangelical Baptist Church requested permission to hold Sunday evening services in the park. He explained the service would last from 7-8 p.m. and would have musical numbers, scripture reading and a brief message. A portable platform would be provided and temporary seating supplied. Permission to use the park on a temporary, experimental basis was granted.

President Ted Pope of the Acton Softball League attended the meeting. An agreement covering the acquisition of the lights by the Parks Board and operation of the lights was read. The agreement will be studied by the league before being signed.

Sunday Games

Objections by ratepayers on Sunday games and late finishing of games were passed to the president. The board's objection to not having been notified of scheduled Sunday games was expressed. Mr. Pope agreed to eliminate any Sunday games possible from the schedule.

Cultivating of the land in Glenlea Park had raised the stones to the surface. It was suggested by a contractor that motor grading of the land would bury the stones and make it ready for seeding. The board is to inspect the land before any further work will be authorized.

Secretary Joe Hurst reported on parking fees collected. In July 23 season's tickets were sold, 343 $1.00 admissions and $23.50 late hour admissions. In June 62 season's tickets were sold, 278 $1.00 admissions and eight late hour admissions. Cost for the gate attendants was $66. "We will have a much better season than last year, if the weather holds," he said.

ern Ontario most of them from the Toronto-Hamilton district.

At 12:15 we left Toronto on a train for Ottawa. The group was given a sleeping car, but no one slept much the first night.

See Parliament

The train arrived in Ottawa at 7:30 a.m. After breakfast at the station cafeteria, we walked to the Parliament Buildings. There we saw the changing of the guard and toured the Parliament Buildings. We also went up to the Peace Tower.

At 4 p.m., we left Ottawa by train and arrived in Montreal around 6:00. We visited St. James Cathedral and after a steak dinner, we toured the city of Montreal by bus.

At 11:15, we got on a sleeping car. At 7:30 a.m., the train arrived in Riviere du Loup. After breakfast, we travelled to Edmundston, N.B. by bus. At Edmundston the group was welcomed by the mayor and given a tour of the city in a school bus, which was used by the group for the rest of the trip. Then we proceeded to Campbellton, where we spent the night in private homes.

Shipbuilding Plant

Friday morning, we left Campbellton and went to Bathurst. After meeting the mayor, we travelled to Caraquet, where we went through a shipbuilding plant. Our next stop was Newcastle. After a dance at the arena, we were taken to the homes, where we spent the night.

The next morning, we left Newcastle and proceeded to Shediac, where we were given a ride on a cabin cruiser on Northumberland Strait. Then we were given a tour through a lobster factory.

After a swim at Parlee Beach, we went to Moncton, where we had dinner at the Brunswick Hotel. Then we went to a dance at the Y.M.C.A. We were picked up by the people with whom we were staying.

Days Trip

Sunday morning, we were given a tour of the city of Moncton and then attended the church of our choice. After church, we went to Magnetic Hill, where we had lunch. Then we went to Sackville and into Nova Scotia and returned to Sackville and had dinner at Mount Allison University. We then returned to Moncton for the night.

Monday morning, we left Moncton and went to Fundy National Park. There we had a swim in a heated, salt water pool. We then proceeded to Saint John, where we had dinner at the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

Reversing Falls

On Tuesday morning, we saw the Reversing Falls at Saint John. We also visited Martello Tower, which was built in 1812. We left Saint John, went through Black's Harbour to St. Stephen and proceeded north to Fredericton. We arrived in Fredericton at approximately 9:00. Then we were taken to the homes, where we stayed for the night.

Wednesday, we were taken through the Legislative Buildings. We also visited the Beaverbrook Art Gallery, Christ Church Cathedral and the University of New Brunswick. From 2:30 to 5:30, we had free time to do shopping or anything we wanted to do.

Provincial Banquet

At 6:00, the group met at the Legislative Buildings and walked to the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel, where the Provincial Banquet was held. After the banquet, we went to a dance at the Y.M.C.A.

Thursday morning, we left Fredericton and followed the Saint John River to the city of Saint John. At 1:30 p.m., we got on a train. After a 2-hour stopover at Moncton, we got on a sleeping car for Montreal. Friday morning, we changed trains at Montreal and arrived in Toronto at 2 p.m. I waited until 5:20 and came to Acton by train.

All the participating students thought that this pilot project was very successful. We learned a great deal about Canada. By 1967 there will likely be many more of these exchange trips organized.
