On Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Beatty arrived home from Europe. He has attended the International Leather Show at Paris, the International Chemists' Conference in Vienna, and was in England on business. Mr. Norman Branda, who has also been in Europe on business, arrived back before Mr. Beatty.

The marriage took place at the Kingsway - Lambton United Church at 7 o'clock, the reception at the Toronto Granite Club. Miss Heather Burns is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Burns (nee Marie Mowat) of Toronto.

R.C.N. Officer Cadet James Irwin has returned to his studies in engineering and physics at McMaster University after spending the summer almost entirely in Germany. When he arrived in Europe, he decided to stay in one country, learn as much as he could about it and speak the language as much as possible. He had studied German at Acton high school under Mrs. Reed. During his seven weeks in Germany, he crossed through the Berlin wall into East Berlin. He also went to Copenhagen before returning home by plane from Frankfurt to Montreal on September 19.

Last night (Wednesday) Richard Tronside left Toronto by train for a mine north of Sudbury, where he will work in the office each day and at night assist the employees under the program of Frontier College. The 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Tronside attended grade 13 in Oakwood Collegiate in Toronto and hopes to attend university after a year working in the north. He is paid by the mine for his regular work in the office, but the Frontier College aspect which will take most of his spare time, is volunteer work. He has just completed a short training course with five other volunteers in Toronto, learning the ways of teaching English to the many New Canadians there who will wish to learn, and how to teach subjects such as basic mathematics to possible illiterates he might encounter. He will be in charge of a library for the men and will become involved in a recreational program. Volunteers are doing this type of work in mines and lumber camps all over Canada. Richard had thought he might be sent to British Columbia. Just another ordinary job somewhere did not appeal to Rick. He left with his warmest clothes, good big books and expectations of a most unusual year ahead.

Acton Women's Institute held a successful bake sale on Friday at Simpson's Sears mail order office and were practically cleaned out of goods within the first two hours.

Let's Play Bridge

By Bill Coats

When playing in a no trumps contract, it is often important to control which opponent should get the lead. Whether you can do this will depend on the cards held.

Here is an interesting hand illustrating this point. It occurred last Monday at the Acton Bridge Club.

BOARD NO. 10
Dealer — North.
Both sides vulnerable.

North
S—A K 10 8
H—10 6
D—K Q
C—K 9 7 6 2

West
S—6 5
H—A K J 5 4
D—4 2
C—Q 5 3

South
S—3 2
H—Q 7 3 2
D—A 8 7 6
C—A 8 4

Suggested bidding:
North: 1C—, Pass, 1NT
East: 2S, Pass, 2NT
West: 3NT All Pass

You may not agree with South's first response of 1NT. Often there is a problem of whether to show suit or the number of points held. I feel that with a balanced hand (NT type hand), always show points if possible.

Over one club, a 1NT response shows 9-11 points and this describes South's hand. How South plays the hand depends entirely on how West defends. South can take four clubs, three diamonds and two spades for nine tricks—as long as the opponents don't take five tricks.

If West starts with the heart ace, heart king, then heart jack, South must play to keep West out of the lead. A low club is led and if West plays low, the six is played from dummy. This keeps West off the lead and as long as South takes the king and queen of diamonds before his club ace, he will make 10 tricks.

If, however, West starts with a low heart, declarer must play the 10 from dummy and thereafter keep East off the lead. We know now that East has no more hearts, but how could declarer be sure.

Lead clubs from dummy first and cover whatever East plays. Since the 10 comes up, the only hope is to play back to dummy's club king and wish that East had only two clubs.

As it is, declarer should make three no trumps. At the club, two bid three no trump but neither was successful.

This week's winners: first, Earl Emmond, Mike Larusso; second, Gloria Coats, Gary Ellis; third, George Sargent, Bill Hamilton.

Nassagaweya Women's Institute Plans Milton Fall Fair Exhibit

The Nassagaweya Branch of the Halton Women's Institute had excellent attendance for their September meeting at the home of Mrs. T. Amos, Moffat.

The president, Mrs. B. Fraser, opened the meeting with the singing of the Institute Ode and the Mary Stewart Collect in unison. The secretary Mrs. J. Henry read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. M. H. Pyatt, the treasurer, gave her report. The roll call was answered by "Your Favorite Recipe". Plans were made for the Institute's Exhibit at the Milton Fair.

At the conclusion of the business part of the meeting, Mrs. Amos introduced Mrs. Goodwins and Miss Dabollin, Social Workers with the Children's Aid Society of Halton County. They showed audiotaped slides of the Children's Aid work. This interesting presentation of their staff and work covered only one branch of their work — the aid given unwed mothers and their babies. This was well received. At the conclusion of the films, a discussion and question period followed. It was suggested that other branches of their work would be available on audiotape, also be appreciated.

A bake sale followed with Mrs. Moffat causing many a hearty laugh with her witty auctioneering of the articles.

After the singing God Save the Queen and the Institute Grace a delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Price and Mrs. Robertson.

Local students attending colleges are enjoying "fresh weeks" this time of year. They get zany every fall.

Club Sale

Knox Church Heather Club's rummage and bake sale Friday night was very successful financially. It was held in Van Gals store. It's an annual project.

Acton entries did well at Milton Fair. Mrs. George Young won the jam and jelly trophy and other winners in domestic classes included Mrs. N. Robertson of discussion and question period. Acton and Mrs. F. Smith, George was held. It was suggested that

Best "Night Before Christmas" Ballinafad Institute Display

The Halton Women's Institute displays at Milton Fair on the weekend were described as "among the best ever shown."

Ballinafad Women's Institute was named the grand champion exhibit, and won the $2 award for the best display. All 12 Institutes who entered a display in the non-competitive entry, received $8 awards.

St. Nick's Arrival
Theme of the display this year was "The Night Before Christmas" and it looked like, at any minute, old Saint Nick was about to pop down the chimney with his bagful of toys and a jolly "Ho Ho Ho". Articles in each display included the Christmas tree, cake, cookies, candy, toys, a Christmas stocking and decorations, table-piece, a wrapped and an unwrapped gift, a little treat for Santa, some knitted articles, crocheted work and a Christmas bouquet.

Besides the winning Ballinafad exhibit, which was the main responsibility of Mrs. William McLean of R.R. 1, Glen Williams, other exhibits were entered by Limehouse, Mountain Union, Hornby, Scotch Block, Ashgrove, Drumquinn, Nelson, Dublin, Silverwood, Campbellville and Nassagaweya Women's Institutes.

Registrations for this season's art lessons were accepted Wednesday night in the Free Press building.
