HARLEY...to HALTON

By DR. HARRY HARLEY, M.P. There have been three measures dealing with labor matters. The first was an amendment to the Merchant Seaman Compensation Act to raise the level of benefits under the present Act to bring them in line with present standards and to make some retroactive payments to seamen's widows and children. The second matter was the ratification of an international labor conference to remove discrimination in employment and occupation based on race, color, sex, religion or politics, and to promote equality of opportunity. This convention has already been adopted by 45 member countries of the International Labor Organization. Both these measures passed quickly. The third matter is the National Labour Standards Code which I have already discussed and this is still under debate. This will affect those employees in federal works, undertakings and businesses. There are problems to be worked out here. For example truckers who cross provincial borders will come under this legislation. They often work 60 hours a week and a reduction to 40 hours a week as in the proposed Bill would mean a reduction in wages. There is a transition period before the Bill becomes effective and the Bill may be amended of course to ease these problems before passage in the House of Commons.

Reviews Mission Work in India At W.M.S. Thankoffering Meeting

Miss Ethel Simpson presided over the Fall Thankoffering meeting of St. David's Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society on Sunday evening when the Blair Evening Auxiliary joined with the above group. The meeting was opened with a poem "It's a good thing to give thanks to the Lord". Mrs. John McPhail and Mrs. William Mahon conducted the devotional period. They closed with the 50th anniversary Lords Prayer from Montreal. Mrs. Marshall McLoughlin of R. R. 3 Milton favored with piano solos. Mrs. A. T. Moore introduced the guest speaker, Miss Ruth Bentley of Ewart College, Toronto, a Deaconess, who spoke on the Missionary work in India, and encouraged all to send missionary literature to India. She followed with interesting slides of India, and Mrs. Roy Parker thanked Miss Bentley for her interest in coming. Mrs. Wilfred Greenless and Mrs. William Mahon dedicated the offering. Mrs. Russell Hart brought greetings and thanks from the Blair Evening Auxiliary. Guests were present from Nassagaweya Presbyterian Church. Rev. John Schriell closed with prayer, and a social half hour followed. The family and grandchildren of Mrs. James Stokes surprised her on Saturday evening when 30 attended a surprise birthday party for her, at her home. Progressive cupbe and games for children were enjoyed by all, and Mrs. Stokes was showered with cards and gifts, all remembrances of this happy occasion. Many from here attended the wedding of Christopher Ramshaw and Eleanor Hornell on Saturday in Milton.

Make Fun Safe On Halloween

"Paint the kiddies up with makeup, use hair spray to help the disguise and make absolutely certain the paper costumes are flameproof." is the basic advice of the National Safety League of Canada for Halloween safety. Tiny "marauders" who trip on their costumes or suffocate in an ill fitting mask end up having no fun and a lot of pain. The Canadian Highway Safety Council adds its word of caution to the wandering spirits of the Eve: "Wear something white to be seen at night." To motorists, CHSC adds the warning that the fun-loving shades of Halloween sometimes forget motor traffic is there. It's the responsibility of the driver on that eerie eve to take all precautions. A pile of leaves along the edge of the street may hide a tiny trick or treat artist. Steer well clear of them, and also beware of branches, posts, pieces of fence or any unusual object dragged onto the street or highway by the miniature sprites of the night.

Weed Control Essay Contest Open to Grade 7, 8 Students

Entry forms were released this week for the annual "Weed Control Essay Competition," which is open to grade 7 and eight pupils in Halton County. Halton County has been divided into nine sections for the contest and the writers of the top three essays in each section will receive cash awards. The grand champion essay for the whole county will be worth $25. The contest closes on November 30 and only one essay can be submitted for every 25 grade 7 and 8 pupils at each school. Contestants can choose the title of their essay but it must be about weeds. They are asked not to write more than two pages of foolscap and the decision of the judges will be final. Ten years ago, Hurricane Hazel hit the district. This was the event that stimulated conservation in many areas and the benefits of conservation are apparent now. Perhaps this proved again that the clouds have a silver lining. The county will be divided into the following areas for the contest: Town of Acton, Town of Burlington east of Brant St., Town of Burlington west of Brant St., Town of Esqueness, Town of Georgetown, Town of Milton, Township of Nassagaweya, Town of Oakville east of the 16 Mile Creek and the Town of Oakville west of the 16 Mile Creek. All pupils who submit essays will be eligible to go on a bus trip to the Ontario Agricultural College in Guelph in June. The students will be guests of the County of Halton and competition winners will receive their prizes during the course of the tour. In a message sent to nearly 6,000 grade 7 and eight students in Halton County, noted horticultural expert John Bradshaw commented on the damage caused each year by weeds in On-
