High School

Oct. 26: Crucifers are still in first place but Rolling Stones handed them a two and totals less to reduce the point gap. Jim Lewis' 227 solo stood out for Rolling Stones. Terry Churchill's 289 in the third game was tops for Crucifers and it served to give them the edge for the win. Shalters made a jump from last place to a share of this spot when they beat the Undertakers for three games. Brian Sheridan's 447 trickshot stood out in the win. Undertakers failed to make the grade individually. Bewitched grabbed a spot on the third rung with a two game win from Beales, who also perched on the third rung when they called enough pins to grab the singleton for totals. Knox Church Group Hold Thankoffering

Knox Alert Evening Auxiliaries met in the classroom of the church on Wednesday evening, October 21, for their Fall Thank offering meeting.

The evening, Miss E. Cole, opened the meeting with the call to worship. Following the opening hymn, Mrs. M. McCullough read the Scripture and several members led in sentence prayer. Mrs. O. Moran of the Senior W.M.S. rendered a very pleasing piano solo.

Mrs. F. Anderson was in charge of the study entitled, "A Look at Ourselves." She gave a short summary of the purpose and work of the auxiliaries. Then, assisted by Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. C. Coles, she asked a question of each member in order to gain her impression of the organization.

Reads Tribute

Mrs. G. Young read a lovely tribute entitled "They Came To Pass" in honor of the late Mrs. George Somerville, who had been a faithful member of the group for many years prior to her death. Mrs. H. L. Bennie gave a very fitting prayer and all joined in singing the hymn, "There Is No Night."

Mrs. R. Turner presented an "In Memoriam" certificate to Mrs. Evie Somerville, who expressed thanks on behalf of the Somerville family, several of whom were present for the occasion. Mrs. Pearl Kennedy also expressed her appreciation.

The Psalm "The Lord's My Shepherd" and the singing of Grace closed the meeting, after which lunch was enjoyed.

Nino Gitto's 400 double was top for Gitto's. Gord Harding's 605 headed up Blow Press' triple win from Masson Motors, who failed to turn on the win key. HARLEY...to HALTON

Since our last column, the time of the House of Commons has been devoted to either consideration of departmental spending or the government of interim supply. The interim supply is necessary for the government to pay its bills for the months of November and December and must be asked for until complete detailed spending estimates of the government have been passed by parliament.

During interim supply, any matter may be discussed. On Friday, all debate was concentrated on the Canadian National Railways and the proposed changes in their running of their trans Canada trains which would have discontinued crew changes at Nainina, Ontario and Wainwright, Alberta.

After the debate on Friday, the CNR agreed to postpone their decision in this matter for three months while the matter is investigated by an independent commission. Since this agreement, the topic of debate has been the CBC and its programming.

I should explain that there is no time limit on the interim supply debate, but it may go on indefinitely as long as the Members wish to debate any matter. This is one of the areas that I feel could be improved in the rules of parliament. A great deal of time could be saved by placing a time limit of 48 or 72 hours on such debate.

An inquiry has been set up by the government to investigate the limiting of election expenses. Television in particular has per cent on imports other than foodstuffs, basic raw material and manufactured tobacco.

No detail is as yet available as to the specific impact of this new charge on particular Canadian exports. However, it is clear that in general, it will apply to Canadian manufacturers.

We await further information concerning the applicability of the charge to Canadian semi-manufactured materials. It is anticipated that this import charge will affect less than one-third of Canada's exports to Britain.

Britain is Canada's second most important market and we value highly our trading relations with her. Britain's economic strength is important to Canada and to the rest of the world.
