Mr. Mrs. William Ollen Mark 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Ollen of R.R. 4, Acton, were honored recently at a surprise party in New Toronto on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Shurtliff (Mabel) of Toronto and son William (Bill) of Acton convened the anniversary party, assisted by co-hosts and hostesses, Mrs. and Mrs. P. Bubbie, Mr. and Mrs. G. Benzakler, Mr. and Mrs. S. Buraski and Mr. and Mrs. J. Charno of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. L. Lash of Milton; Mr. and Mrs. D. Hreborski and Mr. and Mrs. M. Panto of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. D. Shadney of Hamilton; and Mr. and Mrs. J. Romm of Oakville.

Over 100 guests attended and enjoyed a candlelit evening dinner, followed by dancing. Mrs. Ollen wore a rose gown, lavishly encrusted with rose pearls and crystal drops. Mauve and pink flowers graced the blue tablecloths, with purple pineapples highlighting the centre piece, topped with magenta roses. The head table was draped with soft blue cloths and bordered with mauve corsages and ribbon. Large standards of mauve, pink and magenta flowers were placed at each end of the head table. Solid brass candelabra held pink carnations and candles, and behind the head table was a large horseshoe with two doves.

Married in 1939 Mr. Ollen and his wife, the former Pauline Lohschuk, came to Canada from the Ukraine prior to World War Two and were married in Toronto November 7, 1939. Master of ceremonies for the anniversary party was John Charbono, the soloist, Mrs. Sophie Muzak, sang "Anniversary Waltz" and a traditional Ukrainian folk song for the guests of honor. A silver tray was presented to the happy couple.

Institute from Acton Gives Musical Program

A group of old friends came to the Manor to put on a variety program and social hour for the residents on Thursday night, October 22. This was a group of members of the Acton Women's Institute, and their friendship with the residents goes back a long way. The president, Mrs. Donald Lindsay and the two co-writers, Mrs. G. Hargrave and Mrs. G. Fryer were all present. Mrs. Lindsay announced the program. The entertainment was presented by talented dancers and musicians in several different categories. Pupils of Mrs. Joyce Carpenter of Acton presented several dance routines. Two little girls, Karen Ashley and Diane Bousfield, dressed in pretty blue velvet costumes opened the program by dancing and singing "Winter Wonderland." Later in the program, nine girls and Mrs. Carpenter herself, all dressed in traditional can costumes, black with bright-colored flounces, danced the Can Can. Still later, these same nine girls, dressed this time in striking white and red costumes, danced and sang "Dinah."

Accordions Band An accordion solo was played by J. Petric and a piano solo by Debbie Bousfield. Vocal duets were sung by Miss D. Simmons.

Cottontails Study Suitable Blouses

Greenock Cottontails' fourth meeting opened with the 4-H pledge, greeting Mrs. Flewelling and reading the soil call. All showed their patterns and told why they chose it. Mrs. Flewelling gave a letter; the girls were to make a speech if they wanted on Friday, November 13 at Fergus. Miss Pearen read on choosing blouses to suit each with skirts and jumpers. They were to let the cloth soak in a pan for two hours, put it in hot water and to put it in squares each time. Inge Eckerich had brought lunch and was enjoyed with Mrs. Flewelling.

Let's Play Bridge

I imagine that all of you, at one time or another, have ended up in what appeared to be a hopeless contract. The world's best bridge players occasionally end up in the wrong contract. The difference between the experts and you and I is that they don't do it as often. One thing to remember when you get into a bad contract is — don't despair. You must still make a plan of play and do your best to minimize a bad situation. When you make your plan assume that the cards are as favorably distributed as possible. Also remember that the opponents don't know what you have. Here is a hand that occurred last week. South ended up in a bad contract but still managed to come up with a good score.

Dealer: South North South
Vulnerable

North	South
S-9	S-K 7
H-7 6 2	H-A K 8 4 3
D-A 10 7 5 3	D-J 6
C-J 8 5 2	C-10 7 6 3

East

S-10 5 4 2
H-10 9 5
D-K 9 4 2
C-O

South

S-A O R A A
H-O J
D-O R
C-A K 9 4

The bidding:
South 1C West 1D North 1D East 1S
1C 2S 1D 3S
2S All pass

South had to stretch his values a bit to make a jump shift to two spades. When North bids three clubs, South does not have the additional values to go on. However, in spite of what many people think, the time to gamble a little is when you are vulnerable and the opponents are not. Hence South gambles on three no trumps.

West opens with the heart four and dummy goes down. South must be disappointed. North's bidding has been correct but his hand is really of little use to South in a no trump contract.

First good news comes when East plays the heart nine. South wins with the queen and considers his plan. Clubs must break favorably. Perhaps two trumps in diamonds and two in spades—but don't let the opponents in.

Well here goes—Clubs ace and East drops the queen. Three more club tricks follow including a finesse of West's 10 of clubs and he lets go of the heart 10, a small diamond and a small spade. Now declarer leads a low diamond from dummy. East ducks so far as he can tell, if he plays the king, he could set up all of dummy's diamonds. Now a diamond back to the ace. At this point declarer is home free. He knows that West has no more diamonds or clubs. A heart is lead from dummy. West makes four heart tricks but still finally lead spades to give South nine tricks and his contract.

So, when you get in a poor contract, don't despair, play confidently and who knows, you may make your contract.

This week's winners: first, Mrs. Kay Campbell, Bill Hamilton; second, Mrs. McOat, Gloria Coats; third, Garry Ellis, Lou Bertasson.

Roy McMillan Appointed Head of Credit Authority

"I appreciate the confidence shown in me and will do my best to further the interests of conservation in the watershed," chairman Roy K. McMillan said last week, following the news that he had been appointed chairman of the Credit Valley Conservation Authority, by the Provincial Government.

This appointment makes Mr. McMillan one of only two appointed chairmen in Ontario. The other is Dr. G. Ross Lord of Metropolitan Toronto and Region Conservation Authority.

Co-Operation Mr. McMillan's appointment was backed unanimously by members of the CVCA and in speaking to them Thursday evening, he said that "alone, the chairman can do very little, it is the cooperation of the other members which makes or breaks the projects suggested."

In public life for 30 years, Mr. McMillan started as a member of the Streetsville school board and council, then sat on the board of Eden school for five years, and for the past 11 years has represented Ward Four, Toronto Ywp. Mr. McMillan was born at Hornby and lived there for several years.

He is now completing his third term as elected chairman of the CVCA. Prior to this, he was for four years, chairman of the parks and recreation advisory board of the authority.

During Mr. McMillan's term as chief executive, formal approval was given with the 15 township cities on the watershed to proceed with the $5,500,000 flood control plan and final arrangements are at present being completed to form the Credit Valley Conservation Authority Foundation, which may accept gifts of money, property and equipment for the authority.

Tree Planting An ambitious program of tree planting is carried out each year and many acres have been acquired in various areas in the valley to be used for conservation purposes.

J. C. Smith, former editor and publisher of the Part Credit Weekly, has been appointed a member of CVCA by the same Order in Council.

A request was made for old nylon stockings required for making loss by the students at Sunshine school.

The meeting adjourned, followed by the annual meeting. The new slate of officers is as follows: president, Mrs. John Turkosz, vice president, Mrs. Roy Knapp, secretary, Mrs. John Buckman, treasurer, Mrs. Hugh Patterson, Education committee, Mrs. Chester Anderson, Home care, Mrs. Robert Stewart.

Ownership of the store remains the same with Henry Anson and Sam Bloch, co-owners, branching out with a new business in Toronto.

Mr. Lindsay attended school in Acton and is presently taking a correspondence course in accounting through the University of British Columbia.

The new manager will be familiar with many customers having worked while attending school when Steimbreg operated the store and later with the present owners.

He is married and lives with his wife and young daughter on Crescent St.

Brampton Lions Take Club Gong

Acton Lions successfully thwarted an attempt to swipe their gong by five members of the Brampton club for a few minutes during Monday's regular dinner meeting but they were forced to part with it when the district governor rejected their plea of irregularity in the gong swapping rules.

It was District Governor Phil White's annual visitation to the club and he came fortified with four members of his home Brampton Lions. They not only stole the gong but Lion Cliff Richmond almost stole the show with his court room argument attempting to legalize the theft. He was opposed by Lion Vic (Perry Mason) Hristov and secretary Murray Harrison who staged the council for the defense.

Five members of the Acton club must visit the Brampton club to regain the gong. If 10 members show up they can take Brampton Lions' gong too, they vowed they would.

In the serious part of the meeting the district governor decided to forgo his usual speech at visitations and review the Acton club's activities over the past two years. He showered praise where it was merited and didn't hesitate to constructively criticize where he felt local lions had slipped. With him were Bob Cooper, former district governor and International Counsellor Emmerson McKinnon, Jim McCracken and Cliff Richmond, all former presidents of the Brampton club. They also spoke briefly.

All urged a more active participation by Acton Lions in inter-club visits. Roll call revealed three new prospective members in attendance, Harry Hawkins, George Lockerie and Bob Paul.

Light bulb blitz chairman Neil Miller told the club sales exceeded expectations. The lucky draw associated with the blitz was drawn by the district governor and won by Caraton Paulson of Orville Road.

Time Form Tail twister Al Lander was in time form. He collected time from everybody including the visitors to swell the convention fund. He has adopted a new technique by foregoing the usual dinner in favor of eating at home. It gives him a chance to catch the Lions off guard.

Lion chief Andy Kolan wielded the gavel for the meeting which was followed by a short directors meeting.
