

No Building Permit Orders Shed Removed

Building Inspector W. Hulls remained adamant in his stand on Ubo Miersma's horse shed at Esquiesing council meeting. "It has to come down," he told both council and Mr. Miersma.

Mr. Miersma explained that he started building the stable without a permit, which he now knows was wrong. However, he claimed Mr. Hulls saw it when it was half done, and advised him to change it to comply with regulations. This he did, according to Mr. Miersma, then the building inspector came back and told him to tear it down.

The revee, who had just inspected the building that afternoon, pointed out that the building was close to the fence possibly only a foot or 18 inches away.

Lease Until Spring

"It doesn't come up to township requirements at all," stated W. Hulls. "It's a lean on a garage. I told him he could leave it till spring when the horse went out to grass," he added.

Councillor W. Linham pointed out there is nothing to stop anyone having a horse in Nov. He stated there is a regulation saving a building must be five feet from the fence.

Reeve Leslie explained that an eavestrough would take any water along and into the same ditch on the next property, where the water is now going.

Councillor C. Currie felt that it repairs had to be done from the next property, the building was too close to the fence.

W. Hill, a friend of Miersma, claimed that the building of plywood would not need repairs for some time, and went on to say that an eavestrough could be put up without going on the neighboring property.

After a lull, the revee remarked that the township didn't want lean-tos going up all over. Councillor Currie stated that it was the building inspector's business since he was hired for the job.

"Would you back a building inspector who told him to go ahead and fix it, then after it is fixed, tell him to tear it down," demanded W. Hill.

"That's where the trouble lies, all right," agreed Councillor W. Linham.

After all the discussion, Inspector Hulls still insisted the building must come down.

Sheep Claims

An unusually high number of sheep are being destroyed by dogs in the township, according to evaluator Nielson Stark, as he presented the claims of two residents. James Stark lost four ewes and Brigadier F. C. Wallace lost 19 sheep. The township reimbursed Mr. Stark $96 and Brig. Wallace $372.

With the passing of the annual election by-law, nomination night was set for Monday, November 30, and election day for Monday, December 7.

Building permits valued at $78,200 were issued in Esquiesing during October. The buildings were dwellings or garages.

Old Timers Group Meets Every Year

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Beatty had the pleasure of entertaining on November 7, approximately 40 members of the "Old Timers Association." This name arose from the fact that all of these friends were members of the Anglican Young People's Association of St. Michael's and All Angels Church on St. Clair Avenue West in Toronto 40 years ago.

The organization is unique in that 40 to 50 of its members have met every year without interruption for 36 years. The organization was founded in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beatty when they resided on Pinewood Avenue in Toronto.

One of the features of the entertainment of the visitors from Toronto was a conducted tour through the Beardmore & Co. tannery. All concerned were enthusiastic in their expressions of interest in the tannery operations.

The tour was conducted by Mr. Braida, Mr. Duby, Mr. Simkani and Mr. Lindsay.
