Speaker from India at Auxiliary Meeting

A very inspirational Meditation and Candlelight Consecration Service opened the Rockwood Presbyterian Twilight Auxiliary meeting recently. The scripture was read by Mrs. G. Aitken, with the meditation taken by Mrs. J. Taylor from Romans 12 "present your bodies a living sacrifice." It is, as the scripture says, your reasonable sacrifice to present your living bodies to Christ, said the speaker. This means your hands, mind, and all your being, must be dedicated to His work, also your heart filled with His love and obedient to His will.

During the candlelighting service six candles were used. The large candle signified the Lord Jesus, the light of the world. The other five were lit from this, and denoted acceptance, promise, responsibility, constancy, and con-

Fallen Archers have 31 points and tenth place, Wild Ones close with 30 in eleventh and Rockwood Rockets 12th with their 28 points. Stan's Superstix Six came out of the cellar to take over 13th spot with 23 points and left Seventh Line at the bottom with 20 points. Ladies over 550—Irene La Voie 590; Alice Fuhrman 571; Mary Cox 560.

Men over 600 — Bill Garner 684; Dick Dupuis 671; Vick Davies 658; Ted Jestin 648.

At the close those present rose and in silence, dedicated their individual lives. Mrs. H. Bonner sang at different periods during the service. The benediction by the president Mrs. Ray Death brought the impressive service to a close.

The guest speaker of the evening was Miss Iona Ghose, a native of Pakistan. The speaker's vivid personality made her talk most interesting as she told of the life and needs of her native land. Miss Ghose had many items of embroideries, jewellery and costumes and was dressed in a beautiful sari, the Hindu dress of Pakistan.

The speaker had been a teacher for ten years, mainly in the hill country, and told of the great scarcity of teachers in Pakistan. Miss Ghose had come to Canada in September and hopes to send for the remainder of her family to join her. Her mother and sister are both teachers of 37 and 10 years respectively.

There were many invited guests from other churches at the meeting and everyone felt a much fuller knowledge of the land of Pakistan at the close of the meeting. A lovely lunch was served by the Twilight Auxiliary and a time of fellowship enjoyed.
