Half Stockpile Of Sand Spread

Since November 19, 1964, about half the stockpile of sand at the Department of Highways yards west of Acton has been used in sanding highways in the district.

One of the steadiest periods since November was last weekend when sanding crews followed closely behind snowplows in an attempt to keep roads passable. High winds, combined with a steady snow, filled in roads almost as soon as they had been plowed out.

From time to time additional salt is mixed in with the remaining sand when road conditions warrant it. To date approximately 4,609 tons of salt and sand have been used on highways covered by the local sanding crew.

Declarer should lose only five tricks — two spade and a spade full heart, and the ace of clubs. Last week's winners: a three-way tie for first place resulted. The three pairs were: Mike Lassus and Earl Emond; Bill Hamilton and Lou Bertasson; Mrs. Jack Coats and Bill Coats.

LET'S PLAY BRIDGE

By Bill Coats

Often the most difficult hands to play are the low level contracts — the one bids and the two bids. One rule that I keep in mind in these contracts is that you don't have to win the "first" eight tricks — just any eight will do. Take time to find what the opposition has before you commit yourself.

Here is a deal to illustrate this point. This hand was Board No. 2 from last week's duplicate game at the Acton Bridge Club. Dealer — East. North — South vulnerable.

North South 10 9 4 H-A Q D-J 8 5 C-K 10 9 5

West East S-3 S-A Q 6 5 2 H-7 6 H-K 10 4 3 2 D-K Q 7 4 3 2 D-10 9 6 C-A Q 8 3 C-

South South South South South South S-J 9 8 7 5 H-9 8 7 5 D-A C-J 7 6 4 2

The bidding: East South West North Pass Pass 1D Dble. Re-ble. 2C Dble. All Pass

This is typical competitive bidding on a part score hand. Although three no trump is on for East-West, it's a hard contract to get to and not too easy a contract to make. North's double is for take-out. East's re-double announces a good hand and a willingness to double the final contract. East holds the clubs, however, and doubles two clubs with the hope of setting the contract. West led the three of spades. Declarer ducked in dummy and East wins with the queen. East returns a diamond which South wins. South does not need to hurry about getting tricks. In fact, South should try to find out what the opponents have.
