Fool Weather

March, which came in "like a lamb" with warm temperatures and winds driving the melting snow, went out with cold bright sun playing on the new high banks of snow developed during the continuously wintry past three weeks. Snowfall in the district has been the most in 15 years for the winter months. The amount that fell in March was unusually high. Even the winter rainfall was higher than usual.

So how about a big change for April Fool's Day?
