Two Lorne Scots Bands Participate in Concert

Just a few hours after sweating through one of the year's hottest parades at 9, Lorne Scots' double concert ceremony in Milton's Lorne Scots' Regiments' two bands—the Pipes and Drums and the Military Band—came on parade at Toronto's C.N.E. grounds in the annual Central Command massed bands concert.

The annual event is one of the year's highlights for the bandmen of the two local bands, and many town residents are members. This year 10 bands participated.

The Lorne Scots Pipe Band is headed by Pipe Major Joe Bellone of Brantford, and Drum Major Jim McCullum of Milton, and works out of the Brantford army base. The conductor of the Military (pipes and drums) band is Captain R. O. Carter of Burlington and they practice in the Old village armoury.

Senior Drum Major
Drum Major McCullum was honored this year to be chosen as senior drum major of the massed pipe bands, and he led them in their parade in front of the grandstand. Captain Carter directed.

MONTHLY TOLL
Two people were killed and 31 injured in the 44 accidents reported in the North Halton area during May, 1965. Milton O.P.T. totaled up $21,520 in property damages in the 44 accidents.

Winter's driving hazards have ended, but the summer season of heavy traffic is coming, and highways and rural roads in North Halton area will be especially busy. Help the police in their task of lowering the motor vehicle accident toll — drive carefully.
