

Lawr-Adams Wedding Held in Georgetown

Pink and white gladiolus decorated St. George's Anglican Church, Georgetown, for the afternoon marriage on June 26 which united Barbara Adams and Peter Stanley Lawr.

The bride, a stenographer with Peel Construction Company, Brampton, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Adams, R.R. 1, Georgetown. The groom, who is employed at Micro Plastics, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lawr, Hattinad. Rev. J. H. McMurkin officiated at the double ring ceremony and Mr. De Kleer played the organ.

Carried Roses

The bride chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle. The bodice of lace was fashioned with a scalloped neckline offset with pearls and sequins. A flowered headpiece held her bouffant veil. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses with miniature white carnations.

Mrs. Wayne Mason of Georgetown was matron of honor, wearing a street-length dress in turquoise. The bridesmaids, Miss Jean Lawr, Brampton, and Miss Beth Thomas, Hattinad, wore pink. Their gowns of organza over tulle were sleeveless with scoop neckline and bouffant skirts, and topped with lace jackets with elbow-length sleeves. Matching rose headpieces held their bouffant veils, their accessories were white and they carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Flower Girl

The flower girl, Miss Gloria Marcussen of Richmond Hill, wore a pink organza over tulle with a big tie bow at the back, a headpiece of pink velvet, and carried a basket of pink and white carnations.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Samuel Adams. Groomsman was Paul Hodge, Stewarttown, and the ushers were Wayne Mason and Grant Baker of Georgetown.

The reception was in the church. The bride's mother received wearing a powder blue lace dress with jacket, white accessories and a corsage of Queen Elizabeth yellow roses and white carnations. The groom's mother chose a beige linen dress with lace top, beige accessories and a corsage of orange delight roses and matching colored carnations.

Jannette Kay, Arthur Hawes Wed in Stone Church July 3

In a double-ring ceremony at Stone Church, Eramosa, on Saturday afternoon, July 3, Jannette Gertrude Kay became the bride of Arthur Herbert Hawes. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Kay, R.R. 4, Rockwood. The groom, a Free Press employee, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hawes of Matachewan.

After their return from a trip to Nashville, Tennessee, they are living on Willow St., Acton.

Rev. Arthur Gardiner officiated for the marriage and Mrs. George Smith played the organ. Baskets of white mums and rust daisies decorated the church.

Bridal Gown

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle with a Sabrina neckline, long puffed sleeves and a very full skirt with two borders of lace at the hemline, the upper layer caught up by a lace rose. A Watteau train, also edged with two borders of lace, flowed from the shoulders. A crown of pearls and crystals held her four-tier veil of silk illusion.

She carried red sweetheart roses and white carnations with trailing ivy.

In Veil, Turquoise

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Patricia Kay, and the two bridesmaids were Mrs. Lorne Proctor, Streetsville, sister of the groom, and Miss Barbara Cutting, Guelph, a friend of the bride.

Their gowns were similar street length organza sheaths with three-quarter overskirts, trimmed with a vine of matching roses. The maid of honor was dressed in turquoise. Clusters of matching organza petals and tulle veiling formed their headpieces. They carried bouquets of rust colored daisies with trailing ivy.

Little flower girl in yellow was Valerie Slat of Hamilton, a niece of the groom. She carried a basket of rust daisies and ivy.

Young ring bearer was Dwight Leslie of Georgetown, friend of the bride.

Groomsman was Eddie Hawes, Limehouse, the groom's brother and usher were James Kay, R.R. 4, Rockwood, brother of the bride, and Harry Johnson, Tim, friend of the groom.

The reception was held at the Titanian, Guelph, with a dance following the dinner. Mrs. Kay, the mother of the bride, wore a blue sheath with a lace duster, white accessories and pink carnations.

The groom's mother, Mrs. William Hawes, wore a blue lace sheath with white accessories and white carnations.

The couple left on a motor trip to the States, the bride wearing a three-piece yellow suit with white accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

Special guests were Mr. Jim Kay, cousin of the bride, Blackfoot, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. George Kay, great uncle and aunt of the bride, Bracebridge. Out of town guests also attended from Etobicoke, Toronto, Campbellville, Toronto, Peterborough, Erin, Acton, Georgetown, London, Matachewan, Waterdown, Hamilton, Guelph, Streetsville and Rockwood.

Allan Hume, Everton, was master of ceremonies for the reception following the wedding.

The bride was the guest of honor at several gatherings before the wedding. A miscellaneous shower was held at the Stone Church by U.C.W. unit 2 on June 16. Miscellaneous showers were held at the home of Elizabeth Horst, Everton, June 19, and at the home of Marjorie Hume, Everton, June 23. A kitchen shower was held at the home of Eddie Hawes, R.R. 1, Limehouse.

SIGNING THE REGISTER following their marriage in Stone Church, Eramosa, Saturday, July 3, are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hawes. The bride is the former Jannette Kay. They are living in Acton.

Church Presents Gift to Coles'

Members of Acton Baptist Church since 1906, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Coles, Church Street, were guests of honor Wednesday night at a church gathering when members of the congregation presented them with a money tree on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary.

The popular couple were married in Toronto in 1905 and came to Acton to live. Mr. Coles came from his home in England in 1904 and was joined by his bride-to-be, the former Alice Stupnant, the following year.

During the friendly gathering Wednesday, everyone joined in singing Mr. Coles' favorite hymn "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah", and a letter was read by the pastor, Rev. Stanley Gammon, from Rev. Ralph Baker, who was a student minister here 30 years ago when Mr. Coles was quite active in the church choir. Also present was Mrs. Gray (the former Barbara Plank) who is a great friend of the family. Lunch was served at the conclusion of the program by ladies of the church.

Agnew-Clarke Wedding Vows In Georgetown Church June 5

St. George's Anglican Church, Georgetown, was the scene on June 5 of the marriage of Heather Marie Clarke to Jeffrey Elliott Agnew. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Clarke of Georgetown and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Agnew of R.R. 2, Thomashurst, Ont.

Standards of pink carnations and white pom-pom chrysanthemums decorated the altar for the double-ring ceremony. Rev. J. H. McMurkin officiated and soloist John Martin of Burlington sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love", accompanied by organist George De Kleer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white organza and Chantilly lace, featuring appliques of seed pearls and lace on the bodice and skirt. A cathedral train was attached at the empire styled waistline and a nuptial tulle tiara veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. She wore a cultured pearl necklace and matching set, a gift from the groom, and carried a prayer book covered with white lace and a cascade of white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Linda Clarke, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Jo Anne Agnew, a cousin of the groom, and Miss Patti Clarke, a cousin of the bride. They wore floor length gowns of aqua organza over tulle, featuring a train attached at the back. A circular tulle veil was attached to an open pillbox and headpiece of matching organza. They carried glittering bouquets of white and pink carnations. Each girl wore a cultured pearl pendant, a gift from the bride.

Miss Lorraine Gregson, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl and she wore a floor length dress, similar to that of the bridesmaids and a silver locket, a gift from the bride.

Harold Patterson of Milton, a friend of the groom, was best man and Ron Hedley of Oakville, a friend of the groom, Phillip Agnew of Thomashurst, a brother of the groom, and John Clarke of Georgetown, a brother of the bride, were ushers.

Junior Farmers To Replant Elms

Norval Junior Farmers have come up with an ambitious project - the replacement of elm trees that have been destroyed by dutch elm disease.

At their most recent meeting, the Juniors decided to supply each member with trees to plant on their farms, to replace any diseased trees that have had to be destroyed. It was also suggested the Junior Farmers could plant a tree at Hornby Park to mark the 50th anniversary celebration of the Halton Junior Farmers.

BARBARA ADAMS and Peter Lawr, who are living in Acton, were married June 26 in St. George's Anglican Church, Georgetown.
