

Leith and Aitken Wedding Vows Said in Knox Church August 7

Leith and Aitken were united in holy matrimony at the Knox Church, 111 St. George Street, on August 7. The bride, Miss Janet Aitken, was escorted by her brother, Mr. James Aitken, and the groom, Mr. James Leith, was accompanied by his father, Mr. James Leith. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. H. MacKinnon, minister of the church. The bride wore a gown of white silk tulle with empire bodice and matching skirt, and the groom wore a dark suit. The wedding was a simple affair, and the couple left for their honeymoon on the same day.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Aitken, R. R. 1, Acton, and is a teacher at Brookville public school. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Leith, 11 Glenholme Crescent, Guelph, and is a student at the University of Toronto. The couple left on a trip to Northern Ontario, the bride wearing a two-piece dress of turquoise shantung sheath with matching hat and shoes, white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride wore a gown of white silk tulle with empire bodice, the soft fullness at the back accentuated by a bow at the waist. Appliques of Gainsborough lace were featured on the sleeves and empire waistline. Her veil of silk illusion with hand-rolled scalloped edge was held by a headpiece of tiny rosebuds and net petals. She carried a cascade of yellow roses, stephanotis, white tulip mums and leather ferns.

The groom's brother, Master John Leith, acted as ring bearer. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Groomsman was Glen Gray of Rockwood and the ushers were John Post, Burlington; James Aitken, Ottawa; and Wayne Aitken, Acton. The reception following the ceremony was held in the Church Fellowship Hall. The bride's mother, Mrs. James Aitken, was the hostess.
