LET'S PLAY BRIDGE

By Bill Coats

Now that summer is over, bridge is sure to come. At least this is true in this district. The Acton Bridge Club has started its fourth season and weekly reports of the happenings, bridge-wise, will be appearing in this column.

The first hand that I would like to show you concerns a use of the "double" call in bridge. Now normally to double a contract means that you don't think the opponents will make it.

The double I wish to show means the same thing but has an added request. It asks partner to make a certain lead because you feel that if he doesn't the contract will make.

A double of a no trump contract tells partner to lead a suit that you have bid if you have bid one of a suit that he has bid if he has bid one. But what does it mean if neither you nor your partner have bid? In that case it calls for the lead of the first suit bid by dummy.

Let's look at this in action. This hand occurred at a duplicate bridge game in Elm.

Neither side vulnerable.
Dealer, South

North	South
S-A-K-10	S-Q-6-4
H-3-10-8-5	H-A-4-3
D-3-9-8-3	D-A-10-7
C-A-9	C-K-10-7-6

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 H	Pass
2 N.T.	Pass	3 N.T.	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass

I was sitting in the East position and made the double of 3 no trump. I wasn't sure that we could defeat the contract but I was almost positive that without a heart lead, declarer would make 3 no trump.

Without the double, West will lead a diamond and with the clubs lying favourable, declarer can take three spade, a heart, two diamonds, and three clubs for nine tricks. But look what happens when West leads the heart.

Declarer must work for the extra diamond trick and before his work is done, the defense can take two diamonds, two hearts and a club for a one trick deficit.

A double of a no trump contract says: "I think I can defeat the contract if my partner will lead."

1. The suit that I have bid but I haven't bid.
2. The suit that my partner has bid but I neither of us have bid.
3. The first suit bid by dummy.

Two Accidents Friday Night

Constable Nick Farron of the Acton OPP Detachment had a busy weekend with not only deterring Fall Fair traffic but investigating two accidents Friday night.

The first accident occurred at the intersection of Peel and Wellington Streets involving a car driven by Norman Ross Morton and one driven by Harold Chambers of Hillsburg.

In the second accident, cars driven by Jay H. McArthur and Edward Pratt were damaged when in collision near the Canal in the store.

If you stop to think, you stop forest fire.

Horse Shoe Contest

Horse shoe pitching, another first for Acton Fall Fair, proved to be of great interest Saturday when 24 entered competition making 12 teams.

A large crowd watched as winners Paul Kinzie of Kitchener and Albert Jolliffe of Aurora tossed their way to the championship by failing to lose a game.

Fair director Bert Davidson well known for his prowess at tossing the shoes himself, was quite pleased with the entry this year and is already planning for next year's competition.

Quite a number of local residents plan to visit Milton Fair this weekend.

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Huguette Samson, a 22-year-old married woman who earns $58.50 a week.

Huguette and her husband, who is earning $4,200 a year, hope that Huguette will work for a few years before family needs require her attention full time.

Assuming that Huguette does just this, her contributions to the Plan will benefit her in several ways. For example, if she works only for another five years, at age 65 she will receive a small retirement pension of $8.38 a month in addition to her $75 a month Old Age Security.

Through her husband's contributions to the Plan, should he die when they have three young children, Huguette would receive a widow's pension of $57.81 a month plus $25 a month for each child—a total of $132.81 a month. She would also receive a lump sum payment of $500.

At age 65, based upon both her own and her husband's contributions she would receive a pension of $57.53 a month plus $75 a month Old Age Security—a total of $132.53.

If she decided to supplement her income at any time by returning to work, she could still receive the widow's and orphan's benefits, could substantially increase her retirement pension, and could also ensure her entitlement to a disability pension if she became disabled.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The actual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you?

If you are employed and, like Huguette, have earnings of $2,938 spread evenly over the year, you will pay at the rate of 81¢ a week. Your employer will pay the same amount.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Canada, The Honourable Judy LaMarsh.
