C. K. Browne Oldest Visitor To Acton Fair

Acton's popular nonagenarian Charles K. Browne who celebrated his 96th birthday recently was the oldest person on the grounds for the Acton Fall Fair Saturday.

Mr. Browne didn't miss many exhibits as he tromped the grounds alone to see the show and chat with old friends. Highlight of his visit Saturday was being introduced to congenial master of ceremonies Vince Mountford and having an opportunity to speak over the public address system to the crowd.

He was introduced to the M.C. by Fair Board president Jack Marshall. After his chat he left the platform in the middle of the park to continue his trip around the grounds.
