

THE NEW OFFICE BUILDING for Nassagaweya Township, an impressive, modern $50,000 structure located on the Campbellville Road opposite Brookville Hall, was officially opened and dedicated on Saturday afternoon. The township's oldest former reeve, 92-year-old M. J. Carson who held the post in 1917, was given the honor of cutting the ribbon to open the building. He is shown here, seated, signing the register as members of council look on. From the left are councillor William Mahon, Reeve William Coulter, Deputy Reeve Dr. B. D. Young, councillors Ross Gordon and Alan Parsons.

Royal Steers

In the commercial cattle classes, Shorthorn steers shown by local exhibitors made a strong showing at the Royal Winter Fair. George Leslie, Rockwood, placed third in the junior yearling class. Wm. Scott, Drumbo, placed second in the senior calf class, with fourth to Murray Stewart, Guelph, and fifth to Gordon Crow, Hespeler.

Crow, a constant showman, also placed fourth with his group of three. Wheeler Bros., Hillsburg, had reserve champion cross bred, with a steer sired by a Shorthorn bull.

St. Alban's Guild Has Bazaar, Tea

Christmas flowers and candles brightened Lutton memorial hall Saturday afternoon when St. Alban's Guild staged a successful bazaar and tea.

Mrs. Vic Hirstow was in charge of the tea tables assisted by Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Harris Roe, Mrs. William Dennis, Mrs. Thomas Cook, Mrs. Lev Dohy, Mrs. Charles Holmes, Mrs. Harold Denny, Mrs. Edward Pratt and Mrs. Harold Townsley.

Convening the bake sale table was Mrs. Charles Leatherland assisted by Mrs. Walter Dubois. In charge of the serving table were Mrs. Lorna Clarke and Mrs. George Fountain. The touch 'n' take table was in charge of Mrs. George Holmes.

The lucky door prize went to Mrs. Lev Dohy who won a $5 voucher for flowers.

Ratepayers' First Meeting

Is Nassagaweya Greenbelt for Metropolis?

Are provincial government bodies eyeing the township of Nassagaweya as a future greenbelt or parkland area, to serve the recreational needs of fenced-in city dwellers when the burgeoning metropolises run out of breathing room? Are the same nameless bodies in favor of Nassagaweya's contentious zoning by-law no 1845, because it will help lower the township's property values so the land can be inexpensively gobbled up for this purpose? Although Reeve William Coulter labelled the idea as preposterous, the charge was levelled Thursday evening by Allan Ackman, chairman of the new Nassagaweya Residents' and Ratepayers' Association, at that group's first public meeting since it was recently organized.

Reeve "On Spot" The meeting, which had Reeve Coulter "on the spot" and facing a barrage of ratepayers' questions for over an hour, drew about 100 residents to Brookville Hall Thursday evening.

While discussion centred around the controversial by-law (which has since been rescinded), topics also included expropriation, conservation areas, road improvement projects, an official plan and regional development. Reeve Coulter announced that before the end of the year, the township council would engage a planning firm to draw both a zoning by-law and an official plan of the township — but he warned it may take years to implement it. He noted the original "holding" by-law was designed to zone the entire township as "agricultural" as a protection to residents against gravel pits and wrecking yards springing up in residential areas but when 107 objections were received from residents, the council rescinded the by-law and asked the planners for new ideas.

150 Housing Strips He warned the industrial-commercial assessment is out of balance with the residential assessment and the residential areas are climbing to the point where the township will no longer be classed as a "rural" area and education grants will drop. "We were seeking a favorable balance with some form of zoning for the township," he said, pointing out there are now over 150 of the small 10 acre strips set aside for housing.

Mr. Ackman charged the council with the "fool" of the provincial governmental agencies — 20 of which have power to expropriate private land — because the province has said it needs 96,000 acres of parkland either purchased or reserved for parks in the near future.

"This by-law would bring the prices down so the land could be expropriated at lower prices," he charged.

Rabies Cases Increase 19 in Last Three Months

BEWARE of wild animals and make sure family pets are immunized against rabies, the Halton County Medical Officer of Health warned this week. An increase in the number of animals reported with rabies (19 during the past three months) prompted Dr. Archie F. Bull to issue a strong warning to residents of the county.

He recommended all family pets be immunized and suggested that in the rural areas, especially those in contact with foxes, skunks, raccoons or other wild animals, Dr. Bull warned residents, "stay away from pets which are behaving strangely. All bites and scratches should have immediate attention by the family physician."

Consult Physician If there is a question of diagnosis of illness for an animal, consult a veterinarian as soon as possible and if there is a question about human exposure, consult a family physician immediately, he said.

During the past three months, the following animals have been reported with rabies, 10 foxes, four cattle, three dogs, one sheep and one horse. During the same period 10 humans have had rabies treatment because of significant exposure.

Nassagaweya Nominations

A large crowd of interested Nassagaweya ratepayers are expected to attend the Township annual nomination meeting in Brookville Hall on Monday evening. Nominations will be open for reeve, deputy reeve, three council seats and for three trustees for the Public School Board of the Township School Area of Nassagaweya.

Nominations are slated to begin at 7:30 and end at 8:30 p.m. A public meeting will follow the nominations. In the event of a poll being demanded the ballot will be held on Saturday, December 11. Township Clerk J. C. McIntyre is returning officer.

Halton County had many winners at the Royal Winter Fair which has just been completed. In the 4-H Barley section, Ken Alderson, Hornby R.R. 1, placed fourth; Harold Thompson, Milton R.R. 2, fifth; and Bill Lasby, Rockwood R.R. 2, tenth, out of 41 exhibits.

Conatulation to S. G. Bennett Georgetown, for winning the Premier Breeder and Exhibitor banners in Shorthorns; and to Reford Gardhouse, Milton R.R. 5, for winning the Reserve in both these sections.

Maurice C. Beaty, Milton R.R. 4, exhibited the Junior Champion Female, and won the Reserve Premier Breeder honors. Laine Ella, Hornby, and Don McCuaig, Norval R.R. 2, were the top placing Canadian Herdmen in the new Herdmen Class at the Royal.

Jas. C. Cunningham, Georgetown R.R. 3, placed first in Pie and Field Pumpkins; with T. J. Brownridge, Georgetown R.R. 2, second in Field Pumpkins, and third in Pie Pumpkins.

Halton had many exhibitors in the Field Crop classes, with Gordon Thompson, Milton R.R. 2, winning the championship in six-rowed barley, on his Parkland variety. Mr. Thompson placed second in Alfalfa; third in Herta Barley behind the World Champion; fourth, fifth, sixth, sixth, eighth and ninth in Hay; seventh in Field Corn; and eighth in Winter Wheat.

R.W.F. Shorthorns

Scotsdale, Aberfeldy Herds In Battle for Royal Ribbons

One of the features of an excellent showing of Shorthorn cattle at the Royal Winter Fair, was the keenly competitive show staged by two fine herds, Scotsdale, owned by S. G. Bennett, Georgetown R.R. 3, placed first in Pie and Field Pumpkins; with T. J. Brownridge, Georgetown R.R. 2, second in Field Pumpkins, and third in Pie Pumpkins.

Halton had many exhibitors in the Field Crop classes, with Gordon Thompson, Milton R.R. 2, winning the championship in six-rowed barley, on his Parkland variety. Mr. Thompson placed second in Alfalfa; third in Herta Barley behind the World Champion; fourth, fifth, sixth, sixth, eighth and ninth in Hay; seventh in Field Corn; and eighth in Winter Wheat.

Shorthorn exhibitors came from five provinces, ranging from Alberta to Quebec, inclusive. Judge was L. J. Canniaert, Rockford, Alta.

Advent Carol Service Sunday

This Sunday, November 28, is Advent Sunday at St. Alban's, Acton. At the 10:30 service the Choir of the parish, under the Organist and Director, Mrs. E. Oakes will present the annual Advent Carol Service. The service begins with a procession into the Church during the singing of a hymn whose words, "The Advent of our King our prayers must now employ. And we must hymns of welcome sing in strains of holy joy" set the mood of the day.

A lesson from Isaiah, chapter six follows, depicting the Glory of God which the Prophet beheld in a vision, and his commissioning. The rest of the service is made up alternately of carols, hymns, readings from Holy Scripture. One of the most beautiful carols is "Lo, how a Rose upspringing which dates to the 13th century and to those folk-singers of that age, the Troubadours, who sang the praises of God. The service closes with a very ancient hymn from the plainsong period of the Church's music, "O come, O come, Emmanuel".

The parish hopes that a large number of its congregation will turn out to hear this beautiful service. Mrs. Oakes and the choir have worked hard at preparing to extend an invitation to anyone in the community to attend and enjoy this event.

GEOFFREY TAYLOR
New Extension Fieldman

Name Geoffrey Taylor New Extension Fieldman

Geoffrey Taylor has been appointed as Fieldman, for the Extension Branch offices in Halton and Peel Counties, as of November 15. Mr. Taylor will be stationed in the Milton office, working part time in both counties, in both Junior and Senior Extension work.

Geoff. was born in England, coming with his parents to a farm near St. Thomas in 1951. Since then he has lived in and around Toronto. He attended the Kemptville Agricultural School, graduating in 1964. While at Kemptville he played soccer, managed the hockey team, and was sports editor for the school newspaper. He was also a director of the Entomology Division of the Kemptville Royal. Between his first and second year, he worked for the Field Husbandry department of K.A.S.

Midgets Whip Orangeville Keep Record Unblemished

Acton Midgets kept their record unblemished by lacking a 31 defeat on Orangeville, here, last Wednesday in Tri-County hockey action.

The Acton club dominated play throughout the game and only herculean efforts by the Orangeville goalkeeper kept the score down. It was the third game without a defeat for the U.P.W.A. sponsored squad. They tied Oakville and Georgetown in their first two starts.

Barrie Elliott fired the first Acton goal assisted by Ken Malby and Ken Owen. Alan McKenzie rapped in the second counter with help from Brian Farrell. Then Brian Farrell finished up with number three assisted by Ken Malby.

Catch Herb Jobb had his team going both ways for the game. Player selected as the most valuable Acton player by the Orangeville manager was Jim Barden. Ken Malby was MVP at Georgetown and Bruce Elliott earned the tag against Oakville. "Minor hockey head" Doc Harkley manages the team which is sponsored by the U.P.W.A. union at Beardmore and Co. Herb Jobb is coach and he's assisted by Ed Owen.
