

4-H calf, grain club members conclude year at Acton Fair

Acton Fair marked the conclusion of another very successful Club year for Acton 4-H Calf and Grain Club members. On Friday, September 16, all 10 members of the Acton 4-H Grain Club exhibited their 15 lbs. of Herta Barley, and their weed and forage plant collections. Winners in the Barley were Wayne Aitken, Norma Leslie, Bob Leslie, Leah Leslie, Keith Aitken, and Bill Lasby. These exhibits will compete against others from Halton, Peel and Wellington at the Erin Fair on Thanksgiving weekend. For the weed and forage plant collection, Keith Aitken was first, followed by Wayne Aitken, Bob Leslie, Peter Lynch, and Catherine Lasby. There five collections will compete at Milton Fair for the $50 in prize money provided by Halton County Council.

New law partners Georgetown men

Beginning early in October, Frederick A. Nelson and Kenneth Langdon will be associated in partnership in law practice in Georgetown. Mr. Langdon is the son of Magistrate and Mrs. Kenneth Langdon and graduated from Osgoode Hall in 1961. He has been associated with a Toronto law firm. He is the eighth member of his family to choose a law career. His grandfather practiced law, and all four sons became lawyers, two becoming magistrates. Mr. Nelson, formerly chief chemist with Baxter Labs in Acton, has been in practice in Georgetown since 1957.

Robert Hopkins dies in 18th year

This community was saddened last week by the death of seventeen-year-old Robert Hopkins at Guelph General Hospital on Saturday, September 17. Robert came to Acton with his family from St. Catharines when he was two years of age and attended Robert Little Public School here. He had just entered high school when he became afflicted with the disease which claimed his life four years later. During his long illness, he maintained his sunny disposition and though he was hospitalized with increasing frequency, his courage never faltered. Left to mourn his loss are his mother and step-father, Jean and Lorne Masales, sisters, Edith Hopkins, at home, Helen (Mrs. Keith Mainprize) of Acton, brothers John Hopkins and Scott Masales, at home and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Frank, Acton. The funeral service from the Rumley Shoemaker Funeral home was conducted by Rev. A. H. McKenzie at 2:30 p.m. on Monday, September 19, followed by interment at Fairview Cemetery, Acton. The pallbearers were Merl Harris, Bert Hahaday, Clarence Brown, Alex Frank, Bus Chisholm and Keith Mainprize.

Dusty roads, speeders bother Esquesing Township ratepayers

Esquesing Township councillors were all choked up with dust on Monday, September 19, when ratepayers swarmed into the meeting raising a storm regarding dusty road problems. Reeve Leslie remarked, "This is what we want to know." After some of the ratepayers present said they wouldn't mind an increase in the mill rate if they got good roads, Reeve Leslie reminded them to recall their statement at the nomination meeting or when they received a bill showing a ten or twelve dollar increase in taxes. In conclusion, the reeve said he could promise nothing until the road committee had an opportunity to review the situation. However, councillor Pat Patterson reminded the delegations the road budget was hardly adequate to last until the end of the year. This was learned after Mr. Mathers stated calcium had only been spread twice this year. Reeve George Leslie reminded the delegates it would cost council another $10,000 to spread calcium on the 142 miles of road throughout Esquesing. Mr. Patterson suggested perhaps next year's council should set aside $30,000 for this purpose. Mrs. O'Hearn told council some trucks were driving at excessive speeds, claiming some were doing between 70 and 80 miles per hour along the road. She wondered if the roads could not be posted with signs regulating speed limits. The reeve noted that signs could only be posted in built-up areas. Councillor Patterson was of the opinion if trucks were by Mrs. O'Hearn, it was a matter for the police. Councillor Tom Hill suggested perhaps the Department of Highways be asked to look at the area and see if signs could be authorized regarding speed limits. Before the delegates left, councillor Patterson said he

Mrs. Kayes had a warm and friendly personality and enjoyed knitting and other hobbies.

"Hay Day" at golf club

Former Acton residents Gib and Mazie Hay and their two sons Terry and Dwayne made it a "Hay Day" at the Georgetown Golf and Country Club recently. The Hay—all four of them—won club championships in the final tournament rounds. Terry won the big crown, the over-all championship. Dwayne took the junior cup and Mazie and Gib captured the husband-and-wife championship.

W. A., W. M. S. hold meetings

Rockwood — The Rockwood Presbyterian W.M.S. and W.A. held their September meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Gordon Swanson. The president, Mrs. Minnie Nickell, opened with the poem "Contentment". The devotion, taken by Mrs. L. Freeman were from Cor. 13, with prayer offered by Mrs. Dubs. A reading "God Hath not Promised" was given by Mrs. Freeman. During the business, Miss E. Pearen stated that Miss Douglas, a returned missionary would likely be available as a guest speaker on or about October 21. Mrs. J. Taylor of Holstein, the wife of the former pastor, was present for the meeting. Assisted by Miss M. Nickell, the two gave a most interesting talk on the Dead Sea Scrolls.

Mrs. G. Aitken moved a vote of thanks to the hostess and all who had taken part, especially Mrs. Taylor. The meeting closed with a hymn and Benediction. The W.A. followed, the president, Mrs. L. Johnston in charge. Lunch and a social time were enjoyed.

Meeting Christian families special pleasure for Rudds

Former Acton pastor Jim Rudd has written another letter which is being circulated among friends. He tells of his work in India. Srikakulam, Srikakulam District, Andhra Pradesh, India, August, 1966. Dear Friends: A circular letter to our friends, relatives and prayer partners is long overdue, we know, but we have thought of you many, many times and have been aware of your interest and prayers for us. In May and part of June, we enjoyed a lovely holiday in Darjeeling. The majestic Kanchenjunga Range of the Himalaya Mountains was a sight we will never forget.

now is a real joy to them. Pray for this family. The following week, I carried on the same type of work, only in Srikakulam town itself. Rev. P. Krupanandam is the pastor of the local church and his age and years of experience plus his rich knowledge of Christ, make him a very good pastor. He and I called upon about half of the Christians of the town, shared their experiences, and prayed with them. This past ten days, we as a family have been living in Tekkali, and I have been carrying on visitation with the new pastor, Mr. G. P. Gnana Prakash. You will remember that we had asked you to pray that a pastor be found for this church and prayer was answered when he came last month. We also see opportunities as we look toward the future.

Then, upon returning to the plains to our work on the Srikakulam and Tekkali Fields, we see on every hand opportunities for serving Jesus Christ. We begin to feel that basic to an overall strategy of Christian advance is a personal acquaintanceship with the Christian families on our fields. Therefore, in the first week of August, I spent five days in Kasouga visiting the Christians with Pastor John Charles. We went into the home of each Christian in that area, talked with them about their work and their families, read the Bible with them, and prayed with them. This was a very gratifying and joyful experience for me personally. I will tell you about Tulsidas, a policeman whom we met there. Tulsidas and his wife turned to the Lord about three years ago after a critical period of their lives. He became very ill with tuberculosis and was taken to the King George Hospital in Visakhapatnam. The doctors there operated on him, but it appeared as though he would die. However, he survived and gradually gained back his strength. The family accepted Christ as their Saviour, and now they are living daily for Him, spending much of their free time in Bible study and devotion and maintaining a good witness in their home. Recently they had a second child born to them—a son. The first boy is in his teens and the addition of a new baby that the majority of students are willing to accept this gift. In addition, a Telugu Bible is given freely to each school library. Here is a tremendous opportunity to get the Bible into the hands of the youth of India. Pray for this project as we seek to inaugurate it and bring it to a successful conclusion in more than 30 schools. And pray that as these young people read the Scriptures, they might understand the way of salvation and accept Jesus Christ as their Lord. God bless you each one, and thank you for your fellowship in this week through your prayers. Yours sincerely in Christ, Jim and Marion Rudd, Barbara, Peter and Jonathan.
