East Halton Conservatives form new riding association

"East Halton Conservative Association" was launched Wednesday evening of last week at an organizational meeting held in Oakville, and Georgetown lawyer Douglas Latimer was named president.

The new riding association was necessary when provincial redistribution split Halton's present riding into two. The East Halton group covers Oakville, Milton, Georgetown and the majority of Esqueving Township.

W. S. Thomson of Oakville, was named first vice-president, Mrs. Frances Ritchie of Oakville second vice-president, Allan J. "Burr" Nichols of Milton secretary, and John H. H. Dewep of Oakville treasurer.

The meeting endorsed a resolution calling for a review of the P.C. party leadership at next month's national convention in Ottawa, thereby supporting national president Dalton Camp's "dumb Diefenbaker" campaign. Vice-President Thomson, one of the few who did not support the motion, suggested the party should take out its wrath on the Liberals, not Diefenbaker.

Hon. W. Irwin Haskett, minister of transport was guest and outlined the "Go Transit" commuter system.

New school bus law needs emphasizing

Although the new law, concerning stopping for school buses, has been in effect for over a month, reports coming in to the Ontario Department of Transport indicate that the new law needs emphasizing. There is still confusion in the minds of some motorists.

The new rules are really not too different from the old law in that for eight years vehicles following were required to stop and vehicles approaching were required to slow down when a school bus was stopped with flashing lights.

The only change in the law is that approaching vehicles must now stop too . . . with one exception.

Approaching vehicles are not required to stop where traffic travelling in opposite directions is separated by a physical barrier such as a paved curb, a guard rail or an unpaved median.

The school bus stopping law does not apply where the speed limit is 35 m.p.h. or less.

Nassagaweya council adopts two-year term

A two-year term for members of Nassagaweya Council and School Board became law on Monday evening, when council gave three readings to the necessary by-law.

In the Township elections on December 12 voters will elect candidates for the first time for two-year terms. According to the by-law all the Township's elected representatives including school board members who were elected for two-year terms last year, will be up for election this year. Councillor Anne MacArthur was the only member to oppose the two-year term.

A by-law was also passed confirming the date of the nomination meeting and election date. Nominations will be accepted from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. on November 28 with clerk-treasurer J. C. McIntyre in charge. The township will be divided into five polling subdivisions — two in the Agnew Electric Store in Campbellville and one each at the Township Hall in Brookville, the home of Duncan Moffat and the home of Hubert MacPherson.

A third by-law passed at the Monday night meeting set out the provisions for issuing hunting licenses. Licenses can be purchased from G. W. Goldstraw in Campbellville, Jennings Store near Brookville, the Township Administration Building and Marshall's Store at Eden Mills. After a brief discussion it was decided to leave the license fees at the same price — 30 cents for Township residents and $3.30 for hunters from outside the township.
