Guelph Assembly for area Witnesses

A Guelph audience of 1,195, including several Acton residents, Sunday afternoon assembled to hear Joseph Scaglione, district supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses in Southern Ontario, deliver a public address as the climax of the three-day assembly in Guelph. Saturday evening 1,271 persons filled the auditorium to capacity to view the motion picture, "God Cannot Lie", a story of the Bible from Genesis to Revelation. Eleven new ministers were ordained at the assembly. For Jehovah's Witnesses the act of water baptism constitutes their ceremony of ordination as ministers. It represents a lengthy period of intensive study and training in the teachings of the Bible.
