

SISTERS, COUSINS AND AUNTS of the admiral, dressed in their finery, provided a colorful and delightful chorus for the Robert Little school production of "H.M.S. Pinafore". From the left

Glynnis Johnson, Barbara McNabb, Brenda McNabb, Kathy Ashley, Jane Watson, Pat Dunne, Corie Maxwell, Rosemary Byrd, Madeline Rogers and Bonnie Wood.

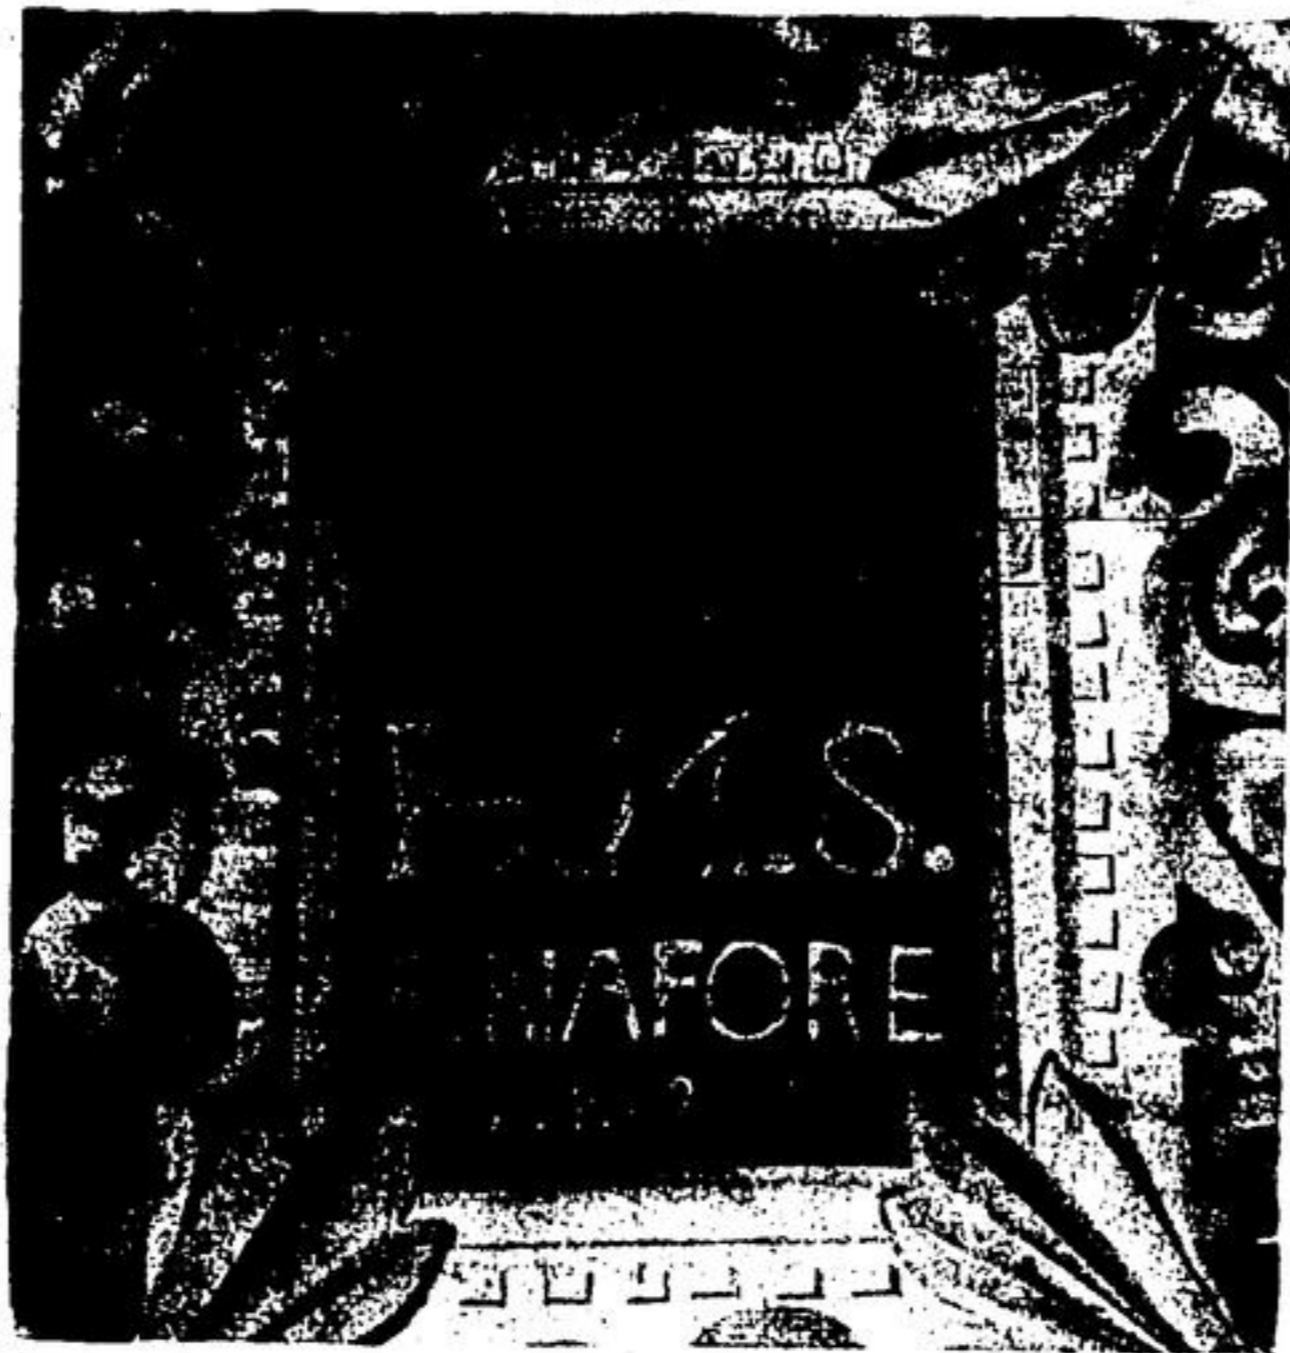

PUPILS IN MRS. GRACE REED'S grade one class presented an Indian theme as part of the program at the Robert Little school Wednesday and Thursday. Some of the students in the act were back row, left to right, Sharon Cunningham, Sandra Meechan, Ann Porter, Sharmane Woodman, Bobby MacDougall, Sylvia Gordon, Warren Elling, Nancy Frank, Debra Oakley. In front are George DeHaan, Douglas Jordan, David Harnden, Walter Elling, Timmy Daigle, Douglas Darby.

LINDA PARKER makes up Buttercup (Diane Bousfield) for her role in the operetta.

BONNIE BRISTOW, Sandra Denny, Dorothy Kingsley and Karyn Manes, grade six students, produced this sign for the delightful operetta last Wednesday and Thursday.

FINISHING TOUCHES are put on Sir Joseph Porter's (Peter Morrison) make-up by Bob Parker in Thursday night's operetta.

TAKING A BOW after Wednesday evening's presentation of Pinafore are the cast of characters with the crew in front. A spoof on the Royal Navy, the main characters were played by different students on each night.

Operetta
packs
auditorium
two nights

SIR JOSEPH PORTER rebukes Captain Corcoran in this scene from the operetta H.M.S. Pinafore Wednesday evening.

SOLOIST RYAN REED belts out MacNamara's the Abbey Tavern singers at Wednesday's highly successful concert and operetta.

YOUNGSTERS FROM Miss Elliott's kindergarten class presented a Dutch song and dance as part of the program before the operetta on both nights. They await their turn on stage.

FACES BLACKED, big red bows, sombreros and white shirts dressed up the students in Miss Elaine Ellis' class as they presented a minstrel show and deep south melodies for packed-in audiences.