Drop admission fee to county museum

At Monday's meeting of the Halton County Museum Board, it was unanimously agreed to drop the admission charge into the museum. Confusion had been caused with the initial admission charge into the Keso Conservation area and then a further charge to get into the museum.

Architect Donald Skinner showed board members sketches of the centennial building to house vehicles. Work will begin as soon as possible. New members of the board, named by the Halton Region Conservation Authority are a former member William Sargeant and Mrs. C. MacArthur, a Nassagaweya councillor. The board accepted with regret the resignation of Esquesing's representative, Ben Case, due to poor health.

Committees for the year were named and Ralph Wakely of Oakville appointed vice-chairman.

Board chairman is county council's representative, deputy-reve Bill Hoy of Nassagaweya.

THE OLD FINISH

Anything that can be painted can be changed to take on the appearance of rich wood grain, of age-old antique or beautiful marble. The process is so simple a child could do it. Yet the results you can achieve with Old Masters will amaze and delight you. The grand part about achieving these effects is that you don't have to remove the old finish. This means no scraping, no bleaching, no staining, and no special tools are required to obtain any of these effects. Any piece of furniture that doesn't fit its surroundings, or that looks like it doesn't fit the decor can be easily changed to complement its setting. The oldest arrangement of furniture and finishes can be made to look as though they belonged to each other. Regardless of how dark or light the item is, Old Masters can completely change its appearance without removing the old finish.
