more pupils, even before the homes were actually built.

It had been suggested by councillors two more rooms might be added to the proposed addition.

Board members noted Dr. Frank Oakes, now a councillor, was a school board member when the new Robert Little school was built and understands the problems.

A Department of Education workshop on grants in Oakville was attended by secretary-treasurer Billy Middleton and Mr. Bishop, and they brought back a tome of regulations. "They've got new terms and more procedures to baffle the administrators," mused Mr. Middleton as they went on to say they had been able to ask many questions and had learned many helpful facts.

"As usual it's more complicated than ever," Mr. Bishop remarked.

Members approved increasing insurance on the schools as outlined by Harold Denny, who was present at the meeting. The secretary-treasurer, Billy Middleton, was authorized to sign the necessary forms.

He outlined changes in the way of insuring items which would afford better coverage. He required accounting of actual costs of all contents in the schools.

"I don't think you'd end up spending more money," he commented as he reviewed changes.

Asked about students' individual coverage, which some students do not take because they are covered otherwise, he pointed out that the student policy includes benefits parents do not realize are lacking on other policies. The board agreed it might be wise to remind parents to compare the coverages before declining the school students' plan.

Latest on the M. Z. Bennett leaking roof serial story is that caretaker Colin MacColl is patching the leaks regularly and photographs have been taken. The board is hoping for better results with a new patching compound.

In correspondence, Mr. Middleton reported a letter of thanks for a plant sent Father Morgan; letter of appreciation for a donation from the St. John Ambulance brigade noting they are "happy to be on duty"; and a request to rent the auditorium for Carol Wharton's dance recital, which was granted.

There will be no reservations for out-of-county school children to see the centennial train in Kitchener, board members learned. It had been hoped some Acton classes could be taken. The centennial caravan comes to Milton during summer holidays.

Prices are being obtained on other special trips for centennial year.

Four safety patrol boys will represent Acton schools at a school safety patrol jamboree in Ottawa in May. It was reported council favored the idea of an O.P.P. officer transporting them to Hamilton to begin the trip and perhaps even accompanying them. Most other schools have active O.P.P. support.

Present for the meeting were chairman Orval Chapman, Cyril Bishop, Bill Benson, Vic Bristow, Murray Smith, Mr. Middleton and the two school principals.

The Heart Foundation maintains a year round research program in medical schools and teaching hospitals across Canada.

and Mrs. Henry Sayers of Acton were also recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ward Bruce.

A Sunday school teachers' meeting was held at the home of the superintendent, Mr. Ward and Mrs. Bruce on Wednesday evening. Rev. and Mrs. Herbison were present.

A lively and interesting discussion on "Modern Interpretation and Application of Bible Truths" was held; also discussed was the surprisingly close relation of science and religion. Available materials and supplies were studied and ideas exchanged.

Teachers attending included Mrs. G. Sunter, Mrs. N. McKenzie, Mrs. V. Stewart and Mrs. G. Lang.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. Bruce Sr. served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Brian Robertson, who is attending Mohawk College of Applied Arts and Technology Hamilton, spent a few days at his home during mid-term break.

Mrs. D. G. Robertson was a member of the Petit Jury panel, at the recent sittings of the Supreme Court, at Guelph.

Mary and Marion Theaker of Toronto, were weekend visitors with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Harold Theaker.

Prize winners at the euchre on Friday evening were Mrs. S. Matthews, Marion Theaker, James Leitch, Dan Winter. The travelling prize was won by Mrs. George Jackson.

Mrs. John Reid, the district president, was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the local Women's Institute, attended by nine members and two visitors.

Mrs. Reid chose as her subject "What are you doing to make Canada more beautiful, this Centennial year?" asking the question, "could we improve ourselves?" The speaker cited many phases of home life in early Canada — and none were too anxious to revert to the "good old days."

Mrs. H. R. Howard very graciously thanked Mrs. Reid for her interesting discourse.

Miss Doris Flies presided and Mrs. Stan Fuller read the minutes, correspondence and financial statement.

Several card tables were purchased from Bannockburn Institute and these had been delivered, as reported by Mrs. C. Storey.

To add to the Centennial Theme, Mrs. C. Storey had a reading "Our Pioneers," and Mrs. H. R. Howard gave an interesting and educational paper on "Centennial" telling of the elaborate plans being made for Expo and what one may expect to see. In closing she stated "Look back with pride. Look ahead with faith."

Both these ladies were in Centennial dress which added to the program.

Mrs. G. Sunter was the winner of a contest arranged by Mrs. H. Theaker.

In the "scone" contest Mrs. T. Fines' entry was awarded first place.

Scones, home-made jam and old fashioned cookies were served by the hostess, Mrs. D. G. Robertson, assisted by Mrs. Dan Winter and Mrs. George Young.

The second meeting of the Girls' 4-H Club was held at the home of the leader, Mrs. R. Ellis with the assistant leader, Mrs. R. Sinclair and six girls present.

The name chosen for the club is "Osprey Worldly Chefs." Decision of covers for the record books was left over.

Roll call was answered by "Name a Canadian Food." Discussion was on "Food of the Early Settlers and Methods of Storing it."

Mrs. Ellis demonstrated meat pie and syrup dumplings which were later sampled.

Credit Valley Authority plans education program

"Educating the people of the valley to appreciate what they have and help conserve it for future generations is the reason for this group," Frank Webb told the Information and Education Advisory Board of the Credit Valley Conservation Authority at a meeting last week.

Plans to implement this program of education were set in motion. Home and School Associations through the Credit River Valley will be contacted, meetings set up and comments recorded.

Phase two of the program will meet the children directly through the principals of the various schools involved. Eventually the Board plans to show the children just what conservation means to them personally and what they can do to help.

Scout and Guide groups will also be asked if they are interested in hearing and seeing how conservation affects everyday living.

Along this same line, a series of five educational seminars will be held for members of the CVCA and its advisory boards. The respective advisory board chairmen will conduct these seminars, giving a detailed picture of the accomplishments, immediate plans and future aims of the Authority.

Brochures outlining the work and recreation areas of the Credit Valley Conservation Authority will be available at local municipal offices in the near future. If any group is interested in an illustrated talk about the work of the Authority, they may contact the office at Meadowdale, or telephone 451-1615.
