. The area around the town dump and sewage plant provides a study in contrasts for the Free Press photographer on a bright winter morning recently. Crows were holding a caw-cus and thousands of other birds whistled shrilly in the frosty air. The evil-smelling dump . with its attendant smoke is surrounded by natural beauty and the sewage plant, due for an addition soon, nestles primly in the valley. Nature will soon awaken from its long winter nap and the debris of winter will be covered by verdant foliage . .

There is a new revolution in public education for Canada's mentally retarded -"Flowers of Hope."

This year, Canada's Centennial, Canadian Retarded Children's Week and the "Flowers of Hope" program will be conducted from May 14 to 21

LEARN TO DRIVE

A Sante Fe, Mex., youth apparently had harceny in mind, but he overlooked one important detail - he didn't know how to drive! City police said the youth hopped into a parked vehicle at a church parking lot, backed into one car and rammed another. Frustrated, he fled on foot, leaving the damage cars behind.

Through the program, Canadian householders will be receiving a "Flowers of Hope" message and gifts of flowers - the Cosmos which is Canada's Centennial annual flow-

These little folders are assembled by the mentally retarded for planting by those who receive them . . . hoping that those who do will give a thought to the mentally retarded in their community. Most local Associations undertake the "Flowers of Hope" campaign as a fund raising project. The money raised through this campaign provides the local Association with the operating funds required to carry on their vital work on behalf of the mentally retarded in the area.
