

Little Burners' 4-H Club make European specialties

The Ballinafad Little Burners held their fourth meeting on March 25 in Ballinafad Community Centre. The discussion centered around the Europeans discovering the New World and the German, Dutch and Belgian settlers.

Janice Brown and Arlene Shortill made Dutch chocolate. Heather Kirkwood made pea soup. Louise Snow, Doris Burt and Beryl McEnery made pickled eggs. Mrs. Burgan of German nationality came and demonstrated potato pancakes.

The fifth meeting of Ballinafad Little Burners was held in the hall on April 1. The discussion at this meeting was centered around the Eastern Europeans. Janice Brown made a pizza pie which was very good. A salad was made by all the members. All the members were present, which was 14.

A very nice service was held in Ballinafad United church on Sunday when the First Ballinafad Scout Group attended in a group with their leaders.

NEW OUTLOOK

Despite almost impossible growing conditions at the White Sands National Monument near Alamogordo, N.M., a few desert plants do survive. These determined specimens, constantly struggling to maintain their crowns above the surface of the shifting gypsum dunes, keep lengthening their stems. Some have been found to have stems as long as 40 feet.

Rev. Mr. Johnson spoke, telling a story "Caught in a Trap" and also taking for his sermon "Be a Good Driver." Both had

Three charged in accidents

During the period of March 19 to 25 personnel of the Milton Detachment, Ontario Provincial Police, worked a total of 83 1/4 hours and patrolled a total of 7,283 miles on area highways. As a result of patrol 34 traffic charges were laid and 75 warnings issued. Forty-three convictions were registered and 203 vehicles were given safety checks.

Over this period seven property damage accidents and three injury accidents were investigated, resulting in four persons being injured and approximately $53,000 damage. Contributing factors in the majority of accidents were adverse road conditions, following too close, animal crossing highway and falling to give right of way. Three persons were charged with driving offences as a result of the accidents.

There were 28 general occurrences reported, consisting of three requests for assistance, a disturbance, malicious damage and a prowler complaint. A 15-year-old girl was treated at the Georgetown hospital after being bitten by a neighbor's dog. Four 50 pound plastic bags containing a solid substance used for ballast on aircraft were found on a local farm. Five investigations under the Liquor Control Act resulted in a number of teenagers being charged with various liquor violations. One local resident was arrested as a result of a theft in the Campbellford area and escorted to Campbellford for trial. A young man has been charged with dangerous driving and driving while under suspension when his car failed to negotiate a curve, and another driver was charged with impaired driving when he was stopped on Highway 401.

"Five acre lots freeze land, particularly in the area I live in. No one would buy a five acre lot south or north of Five Sideroad because it is in the midst of the quarries," she said. She said she favored the sale of half-acre lots, and proposed restrictions on building residences should be achieved in another way.

Reeve Coulter pointed out that with five acre lots, a plan of development could be made on a 100 acre farm, which would allow for a road allowance.

Councillor Ross Gordon said if you allow small houses to be built in scattered areas across the township, those who have been in the township for years will be forced to subsidize them.

Councillor MacArthur countered, "quarries have been allowed in the township which devalue our property."

The final motion approving the by-law was passed with only Mrs. MacArthur opposing it.

At the suggestion of Deputy Reeve William Hoey, members agreed to refer all land separations to Planning Board for its consideration.

In his report to Council, Road Superintendent Grant McMillan said the Sixth Line, north of Halton Quarries was flooded, but there is little that can be done about it.

The bridges are functioning, but water has risen to the point where it is over the road.

Tenders called on the Township's gravel supply were opened, and the offer of Holman Construction was recommended by the Road Committee. Council accepted the committee's recommendation.

Bandsmen now all identified

Some members of the present band got together after last week's Free Press was out and discussed the dubious names in last week's old photograph in the centennial series.

The date has been firmly set at July 12, 1924. The player we thought was perhaps Bert Mason turns out to be Harry O'Shea; the man identified just as Mr. Worthington is now Harry Rigby; the one we thought was Anson Thurston is John Allen. This makes the identification complete, which we will keep in the Free Press files.

The band, we learn, met all the trains that day and accompanied arriving lodges downtown for a big L.O.L. celebration.

Art sessions begin again

A good turnout of 14 attended the first "instructional" meeting for amateur painters Thursday evening of last week in their new quarters—the storage room in the new library. Mrs. Laura Dittich, who called the group together again, was pleased with the number attending and pointed out more may come along any time.

Frank Black of Guelph spent the evening with the group and was especially helpful to the beginners.

There are several men in the group. They hope they might make some trips together, perhaps to galleries.

Membership drive for CORDA section

A meeting of the corporate section of the Central Ontario Regional Development Council was held at Aero Inn, Malton, last Wednesday.

The corporate members elected members of the board of directors of CORDA. The corporate members elect five members to the board of directors. The other 16 are elected by the municipalities.

The terms of reference and the constitution were reviewed. There will be a membership drive for the corporate section which includes businesses within the region — Halton, Peel, York and Ontario counties.

CORDA vice-chairman mayor Les Duby of Acton chaired the meeting.

Dills Printing and Publishing Co. was the first corporate member.

"In the township of Erin, where we have the most beautiful scenery in the rolling countryside, the water that comes out of the hillside is pure and unpolluted. But as it flows down to the Grand and Credit Rivers, things happen to it at the lower altitude.

"We have pure fresh air in the higher altitude and I invite all Irishmen and all persons who would be Irish, to pay a visit to Erin. There you will find a rich agricultural area, friendly people, pure water and fresh air."

He took the occasion to again urge the Department of Highways to extend Highway 25 northerly from Highway 24 at Ospringe "so that it will be easier for people who want to visit that beautiful part of Ontario, to come into the area from the north, south, east and west."
