

Maurice Grimes returns to address open meeting

MAURICE GRIMES

The executive director of the Ontario division of the Canadian Cancer Society, Maurice Grimes, will address all who come to hear of his experiences and see his pictures taken while working for the Cancer Society, at an open meeting here. The public is invited to attend the meeting arranged by Lakeside chapter of the I.O.D.E. on Tuesday evening, May 2, at 8:45 p.m. in the Legion hall.

Other local groups have been extended special invitations and anyone interested is welcome. When Mr. Grimes last spoke in Acton on his trip to Moscow he kept wit, perceptive knowledge of the areas in which he travelled as well as his report skillfully commented throughout showing of pictures, endeared him to every listener. That is why the Lakeside Chapter of the I.O.D.E. are proud to hostess this evening. They hope every interested person, most especially the campaign captains and canvassers will come to hear Mr. Grimes and see his pictures of his trip to Tokyo for the International Cancer Congress.

Born, raised and educated in the Ottawa Valley, the Cancer Society executive director spent the depression years in the north working as a mining engineer. During the early days of the war he enlisted in the Air Force, was discharged medically and went to Fort Erie to serve out the balance of the war as an aeronautical engineer at Fleet Aircraft.

Following the cessation of hostilities he entered the business world in sales. It was in this capacity that he became interested in the Canadian Cancer Society as a volunteer in St. Catharines, Ontario, in 1946.

In 1952 he joined the ranks of the permanent staff of the Ontario Division and has served as the executive director of that division since that time. Each year he journeys to the American Cancer Society Annual Meeting in New York for a week where he follows keenly the latest developments in that country.

He presented papers to the last two International Cancer Congresses. The first of these was held in Moscow, Russia in 1962, and the last in Tokyo, Japan in 1966.

FINAL ADJUSTMENT to wiring is made by hydro linemen Dorson Frizzell as the new traffic lights at the corner of Mill and Main Sts. were turned on Monday morning at 9 a.m. There were no hitches and traffic was soon operating normally. During abnormally heavy traffic the lights can be operated manually at the discretion of a police officer. (Staff Photo) project to council and the clerk-administrator from council's instruction instructs the works department in the carrying out of the municipal program.

"We have had councillor side-walk superintendents in the past and all the accompanying problems. It is something we don't want to return to."

He suggested revision of the procedural by-law being undertaken by the committee would clear up any problems that exist. The resolution was sent to the committee for further study.

Scout father and son dinner enjoyed by 130 Tuesday

Over 130 Cubs, Scouts, fathers and Rotarians enjoyed a turkey dinner at the Father and Son banquet of the local Boy Scout movement held in the Dr. A. C. Stewart Memorial Hall of Knox Presbyterian church last night.

Group committee chairman Mac Sprowl presided over the two hour evening during which time he called on the leaders of the three sections of the local movement for brief reports of the progress and activities of each. Scoutmaster Henry De Vries and Cubmaster Murray Scoyne, expressed their pleasure of being the leaders of the two new sections added to the local group last fall.

Cubmaster Dorothy Jordan in her report outlined the numerous activities of her cub pack over the past year and mentioned some of the events in which her pack will be participating.

Alexa Jordan pointed out that the growth of Scouting in Acton during 1966 has increased by about 50 per cent with the addition of a second cub pack and the revival of the Scout troop.

(Membership in the group now totals nearly 70 boys, the strongest it has been in over 10 years when Acton boasted of three Cub packs, a Scout troop and a Rover crew.)

The program consisted of a two movies show by Mrs. Art McAllister of the Georgetown Rod and Gun Club with Glenn Banks interspersing with a sing song.

Windsor Castle, Expo write Choraliers; Queen's day full

Although Her Majesty the Queen and Acton Choraliers will be at Expo the same day, the Queen will definitely not hear the Acton men sing.

One of the Choraliers wrote to England to inquire if Queen Elizabeth would be able to hear the group. A letter on creamy paper, with red engraved crest returned to "James E. Higgins Esq." from Windsor Castle advised him:

"Thank you very much for your letter of 4th April asking if the Queen could hear the Acton Choraliers when they sing at Expo '67 on July 2 and 3. Arrangements for the visit by The Queen and The Duke of Edinburgh to Canada in 1967 are being co-ordinated by Lieutenant-General Howard Graham, CBE, DSO, ED, CD, OC, whose address is: Commissioner General for Visits of State 1967... Ottawa."

The signature in spiky English hand, is indistinguishable but the private secretary's first name is Philip.

So on to the Commissioner General for Visits of State

1967. Mr. Graham replied, on equally fine letterhead:

"Dear Comrade Higgins: I have received from the Queen's Private Secretary a copy of your letter dated April 4 in which you ask if Her Majesty would be able to hear your choir during her visit to Expo."

"The Queen will be at Expo only for a few hours: on Monday, July 3, and her program will be so crowded with engagements that I can see no possibility of meeting your request."

"I am sorry about this because I am sure that Her Majesty would enjoy the singing of your Choraliers."

"I am a life member of Branch No. 110 at Trenton and I congratulate you and the members of the Acton Branch in developing a male chorus of this kind"

The two letters are a source of pride to the singers.

Computers will calculate your golf handicap

Handicap chairmen and their committees across the country will now have help from Bank of Montreal computers in calculating golf handicaps. G. Arnold Hart, chairman and president, said the bank has introduced a new service "to relieve golf clubs of the chore of calculating handicaps."

The program was developed with the approval of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, at the Board of Trade Country Club in Toronto, where it received enthusiastic support. The service has been endorsed for country wide application by the RCGA, whose rules will apply.

Twice monthly, participating golf clubs will receive summaries of members' handicaps calculated by computers at the bank's Genie centres in Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver. Club golfers will be able to use these summaries both to ascertain the handicap, and to post new scores.

Each of the bank's 995 offices in Canada will act as relay points for the regional Genie centres.

GORD DAWE, another finisher in Saturday's Project Action hike, still had enough steam for a smile.

Outdoors...

Instructions and information regarding this program have been forwarded to all licence issuers.

The blue card "Certificate of Competence", as given by hunter safety training instructors will be honored until December 31, 1967.

After December 31, 1967 a licence can only be obtained by one of the three methods as follows:

(a) By producing a previous licence for renewals, or as proof of his hunting experience (a licence for any year for any province, state or country can be accepted by an issuer).

(b) A certificate issued by an examiner, i.e. Conservation Officer.

(c) A certificate of competence issued by a hunter safety training instructor. The Department of Lands and Forests recommends that all prospective hunters take a hunter safety training course before applying for an examination. Location of courses can be obtained from department officers.

Declarations in the matter of lost or destroyed licences can no longer be accepted by local issuers. Those who have lost a licence and are unable to produce proof of hunting experience must inquire at the nearest Department office for renewal. It is suggested they do this at least two weeks prior to their hunting trip so that a search can be made on their behalf.

Leadership candidate Davie Fulton coming to Halton-Wentworth

Hon. Davie Fulton, M.P., candidate in the Progressive Conservative leadership race will be guest speaker at the founding meeting of the Halton-Wentworth federal riding association on Friday, April 28, at Glenview School in Aldershot at 8 p.m.

Steering committee chairman Eric Gudgeon announced that although invitations were going out to Conservative workers in the former ridings of Halton and Wentworth, it was to be an open meeting at which the new executive will be elected and a constitution adopted.

Halton-Wentworth takes in all of the towns of Burlington and Dundas, the Village of Waterdown and the Townships of Nassagaweya, and East and West Flamboro.

Mr. Fulton announced his candidacy for federal leadership some time ago and has been vigorously campaigning for support at the September national convention in Toronto. Delegates for Halton-Wentworth will be chosen prior to the June 30 deadline and it is expected that Mr. Fulton's address will attempt to capture their support as well as others in this urban area of the country.
